Harley, 2005 FCB LOCAL 10 08 2005 12 99 Children of Divorce John H. Harvey, Mark A. Fine, 2011-01-11 Featuring excerpts of essays collected from over one thousand young adults while in the throes of divorce this book paints a picture of the pain and the hope shown by the storytellers By framing the narratives with an analysis of the most recent divorce literature the authors provide readers with a greater and more vivid understanding of the effects of divorce Challenging the contention that most children will be irretrievably hurt by their parents divorce some stories clearly demonstrate the strength and resilience many have learned in dealing with a divorce in the family Emphasis is placed on how hope about the possibilities of having close relationships as well as a willingness to create stronger families in their own lives represent abiding motivations in this sample of young people The authors hope that the use of the raw input of respondents will make the experiences more realistic and ultimately help people deal with major loss events in their lives Highlights of the new edition include A new chapter 7 that demonstrates the messiness of divorce infidelity dysfunctional interactions multiple marriages relationships and the financial expense the fading stigma of divorce the latest divorce rates the increased average age of first time marriages and the recent hook up phenomenon wherein young people are showing a reluctance to commitment Updated throughout with the most current demographic data new findings from the top researchers in the field and the latest intervention programs A review of the Divorce Variability and Fluidity Model DVFM that helps predict variability in adjusting to divorce More suggestions to help children adapt to divorce including material on parenting education classes and mediation as a method for easing the process A list of readings and suggested websites for further review More tables and graphs to summarize key concepts An ideal supplement for courses on divorce family studies close relationships and loss and trauma taught in human development and family studies and clinical counseling and social psychology as well as communication social work and sociology these engaging stories also appeal to practitioners and those interested in the effects of divorce in general Do You Ever Cry, Dad?
