Monks Bishops And Pagans Christian Culture In Gaul And Italy:

Monks, Bishops, and Pagans William Coffman McDermott, Edward Peters, 1975 Selections English Gregory Saint Bishop of Tours 538 594 Monks, bishops and pagans William C. MacDermott, Edward Peters, 1975 Monks, Bishops, and Pagans Edward Peters, 2016-11-11 The medieval authors represented in this book of readings were engineers of a new culture responsible colonial administrators of an empire that existed only in the mind and spirit and the traditions that they shaped and adapted to their present conditions Their messages were literal specific and full of good sense They addressed peoples of widely differing levels of cultural and material development They offered new avenues for the development of individual and collective world views and created an image of the self between material and an immaterial world Together their writings illustrate the transformation of Europe from Roman culture to Christendom a mix of national identities under the common influence of the Church The first section draws upon the writings of Pope Gregory the Great and Bede Gregory's Dialogues Letters Sermons and Pastoral Care reflect his great energy and dedication Bede's vision of the afterlife is from his Ecclesiastical History of the English People Section two focuses upon the theme of monks and their place in early European society with specific emphasis on the Benedictine Rule and its effect on human organization Section three deals with the world of the bishops specifically that of Gregory of Tours The minor writings of Gregory of Tours reveal the mental world of a Gallo Roman aristocrat dealing with a new and violent society The final selection the story of St Barbatus deals with backsliding the longterm problem of keeping converts converted Scholars will find directions for further study in the bibliography which cites many works in translation as well as recent research into the culture and society of the period 500 700 Society and Culture in Late Antique Gaul Ralph Mathisen, Danuta Shanzer, 2017-07-05 Late Roman Gaul is often seen either from a classical Roman perspective as an imperial province in decay and under constant threat from barbarian invasion or settlement or from the medieval one as the cradle of modern France and Germany Standard texts and moments have emerged and been canonized in the scholarship on the period be it Gaul aflame in 407 or the much disputed baptism of Clovis in 496 508 This volume avoids such stereotypes It brings together state of the art work in archaeology literary social and religious history philology philosophy epigraphy and numismatics not only to examine under used and new sources for the period but also critically to reexamine a few of the old standards This will provide a fresh view of various more unusual aspects of late Roman Gaul and also it is hoped serve as a model for ways of interpreting the late Roman sources for other areas times and contexts The Germanization of Early Medieval Christianity James C. Russell, 1996 Discusses German influence on the development of early medieval Christianity Saints and Their Miracles in Late Antique Gaul Raymond Van Dam, 2011-11-12 Saints cults with their focus on miraculous healings and pilgrimages were not only a distinctive feature of Christian religion in fifth and sixth century Gaul but also a vital force in political and social life Here Raymond Van Dam uses accounts of miracles performed by SS Martin Julian and Hilary to provide a vivid and comprehensive depiction of some of the most influential saints cults Viewed within the context of ongoing tensions between paganism and Christianity and between Frankish kings and bishops these cults tell much about the struggle for authority the forming of communities and the concept of sin and redemption in late Roman Gaul Van Dam begins by describing the origins of the three cults and discusses the career of Bishop Gregory of Tours who benefited from the support of various patron saints and in turn promoted their cults He then treats the political and religious dimensions of healing miracles including their relation to Catholic theology and their use by bishops to challenge royal authority and of pilgrimages to saints shrines The miracle stories collected mainly by Gregory of Tours appear in their first complete English translations Intercessory Prayer and the Monastic Ideal in the Time of the Carolingian Reforms Renie Shun-Man Choy, 2016 In early medieval Europe monasticism constituted a significant force in society because the prayers of the religious on behalf of others featured as powerful currency The study of this phenomenon is at once full of potential and peril rightly drawing attention to the wider social involvement of an otherwise exclusive group but also describing a religious community in terms of its service provision Previous scholarship has focused on the supply and demand of prayer within the medieval economy of power patronage and gift exchange Intercessory Prayer and the Monastic Ideal in the Time of the Carolingian Reforms is the first volume to explain how this transactional dimension of prayer factored into monastic spirituality Renie S Choy uncovers the relationship between the intercessory function of monasteries and the ascetic concern for moral conversion in the minds of prominent religious leaders active between c 750 820 Through sustained analysis of the devotional thought of Benedict of Aniane and contemporaneous religious reformers during the reigns of Charlemagne and Louis the Pious Choy examines key topics in the study of Carolingian monasticism liturgical organization and the intercessory performances of the Mass and the Divine Office monastic theology and relationships of prayer within monastic communities and with the world outside Arguing that monastic leaders showed new interest on the intersection between the interiority of prayer and the functional world of social relationships this study reveals the ascetic ideal undergirding the provision of intercessory prayer by monasteries

Gregory of Tours Alexander Callander Murray, 2005-12-01 Georgius Florentius Gregorius better known to posterity as Gregory Bishop of Tours was born about 538 to a highly distinguished Gallo Roman family in Clermont in the region of Auvergne Best known for his 10 book Histories often called the History of the Franks Gregory left us detailed accounts of his own times as well as those of the early Merovingian kings known as the long haired kings who united the Franks and took control of most of Gaul in the late fifth and early sixth century Although he is one of the most important historians of pre modern times the complex apparently disconnected elements of Gregory's work are often difficult for today's readers to understand This selected new translation is composed of extensive sections from Books II to X and follows in a connected narrative the political events of the Histories from the appearance of the first Merovingian kings Merovech Childeric and Clovis to the last years of the reigns of Guntram and Childebert II in the late sixth century This book is designed to introduce new readers and even experienced ones to the political world secular and ecclesiastical of sixth century Gaul and to provide an up to date guide to reading the bishop of Tours fascinating account of his times Included in this volume are twenty one drawings by Jean Paul Laurens a nineteenth century French historical artist and interpreter of the Merovingians

Muhammad and the Empires of Faith Dr. Sean W. Anthony, 2020-04-21 In Muhammad and the Empires of Faith Sean W. Anthony demonstrates how critical readings of non Muslim and Muslim sources in tandem can breathe new life into the historical study of Muhammad and how his message transformed the world By placing these sources within the intellectual and cultural world of Late Antiquity Anthony offers a fresh assessment of the earliest sources for Muhammad s life taking readers on a grand tour of the available evidence and suggests what new insights stand to be gained from the techniques and methods pioneered by countless scholars over the decades in a variety of fields Muhammad and the Empires of Faith offers both an authoritative introduction to the multilayered traditions surrounding the life of Muhammad and a compelling exploration of how these traditions interacted with the broader landscape of Late Antiquity

Violence in Medieval Europe Warren C. Brown, 2014-06-11 The European Middle Ages have long attracted popular interest as an era characterised by violence whether a reflection of societal brutality and lawlessness or part of a romantic vision of chivalry Violence in Medieval Europe engages with current scholarly debate about the degree to which medieval European society was in fact shaped by such forces Drawing on a wide variety of primary sources Warren Brown examines the norms governing violence within medieval societies from the sixth to the fourteenth century over an area covering the Romance and the Germanic speaking regions of the continent as well as England Scholars have often told the story of violence and power in the Middle Ages as one in which private violence threatened and sometimes destroyed public order Yet academics are now asking to what degree violence that we might call private in contrast to the violence wielded by a central authority might have been an effective social tool Here Brown looks at how private individuals exercised violence in defence of their rights or in vengeance for wrongs within a set of clearly understood social rules and how over the course of this period kings began to claim the exclusive right to regulate the violence of their subjects as part of their duty to uphold God s order on earth Violence in Medieval Europe provides both an original take on the subject and an illuminating synthesis of recent and classic scholarship It will be invaluable to students and scholars of history medieval studies and related areas for the light it casts not just on violence but on the evolution of the medieval political order

The Guitar of God Ronald E. Surtz, 2016-11-11 Until recently Spanish literary historiography has virtually ignored hundreds of women who wrote between 1500 and 1700 Most of them wrote to record defend and disseminate their spiritual visions for despite the general disempowerment of Spanish women female visionaries enjoyed considerable authority This book recovers and examines the visionary experiences of Mother Juana de la Cruz the most famous of these women during her lifetime and for two centuries afterwards Born of peasant stock she became abbess of a Franciscan convent and a mystic who was visited not only by Cardinal Cisneros but by

Emperor Charles V himself Ronald E Surtz places Mother Juana's visions in the religious and social context of the age and discusses such pertinent biographical elements as the nun's own androgyny His focus is on the questions of gender power and authority so pertinent to our own age The Guitar of God will be of particular interest to scholars and students of late medieval Spanish culture religion and history and women's studies

The French Monarchy and the Jews William Chester Jordan, 2016-11-11 From 1179 to 1328 relations between French Christians and Jews were chronically unstable exploitation repression and expulsion were sanctioned by a government dedicated to a purified Christian state The French Monarchy and the Jews tells in rich and compelling detail the fate of the Jews in Capetian France William Chester Jordan assesses the relationship between Jewish policy and the development of royal institutions and ideology in the period during which the foundations of the French state were being laid The royal policy in the early period the reign of Philip Augustus was erratic Official efforts to humiliate the Jews and ruin their businesses were alternated with attempts to provide a climate that encouraged their business while at the same time imposing economic and social disabilities that made other aspects of their lives intolerable Louis IX on the other hand was single minded in his efforts to induce the Jews to convert Whatever the policies Jordan attempts to measure their impact on Jewish and Christian communities During the reign of Philip the Fair the Jews were expelled and their property confiscated to the financial benefit of the crown Jordan comprehensively evaluates the effects of the expulsion of the Jews themselves especially during the first years of their exile to the principalities bordering the French king's domain The experience of the Jews during the Middle Ages has been a subject of increasing scholarly interest and The French Monarchy and the Jews will prove useful to any student or scholar of medieval history

Land, Liberties, and Lordship in a Late Medieval Countryside Richard C. Hoffmann, 2017-01-31 Richard C Hoffman's monumental study of rural life in medieval eastern Europe focuses on one region the Duchy of Wroclaw from the twelfth to sixteenth centuries The duchy is in many ways a microcosm of medieval European society and thus Hoffman's analysis addresses issues central to a broader understanding of a vanished society His analysis of the records of the Duchy of Wroclaw challenges the western stereotypes of east central Europe that have been imposed on its medieval past by modern nationalisms Honorable Mention Wallace K Ferguson Prize of the Canadian Historical Association

People, Personal Expression, and Social Relations in Late Antiquity Ralph W. Mathisen, 2003 A collection of Latin sources that shed light on the changing world of Late Antiquity throughout Western Europe

Queens, Consorts, Concubines: Gregory of Tours and Women of the Merovingian Elite E. T. Dailey, 2015-04-14 Gregory of Tours hoped to inspire the believers in sixth century Gaul with examples of righteous and wicked deeds and their consequences Critiquing his own society Gregory contrasted vengeful queens rebellious nuns and conniving witches with pious widows humble abbesses and tearful saints By examining his thematic treatment of topics including widowhood marriage sanctity authority and political agency Queens Consorts Concubines reassesses the material shaped by such concerns including e g Gregory s accounts of Brunhild Fredegund Radegund and other important elite women Merovingian political policies marital alliances ecclesiastical intrigue even assassinations and seemingly unrelated topics such as Hermenegild s rebellion and the career of Empress Sophia The result a new interpretation of an important witness to the transformations of Late Antiquity

Writing Faith Kathleen Ashley, Pamela Sheingorn, 1999-07 Writing Faith demonstrates that clusters of miracles form sign systems and that it is those systems of meaning or representation that can be historically located Thus rather than treating individual miracle stories as transparent sources of specific historical data we can recognize representations common to groups of miracle stories as coherent historical formations For instance the negative characterizations of Muslims in the late miracles situate the stories composition in the eleventh century a period of rising hostility on the eve of the Crusades Jacket

Ireland's History Kenneth L. Campbell, 2013-12-05 Ireland s History provides an introduction to Irish history that blends a scholarly approach to the subject based on recent research and current historiographical perspectives with a clear and accessible writing style All the major themes in Irish history are covered from prehistoric times right through to present day from the emergence of Celtic Christianity after the fall of the Roman Empire to Ireland and the European Union secularism and rapprochement with the United Kingdom By avoiding adopting a purely nationalistic perspective Kenneth Campbell offers a balanced approach covering not only social and economic history but also political cultural and religious history and exploring the interconnections among these various approaches This text will encourage students to think critically about the past and to examine how a study of Irish history might inform and influence their understanding of history in general

Magic and Ritual in the Ancient World Paul Allan Mirecki, Marvin W. Meyer, 2002 This volume contains a series of provocative essays that explore expressions of magic and ritual power in the ancient world The strength of the present volume lies in the breadth of scholarly approaches represented The book begins with several papyrological studies presenting important new texts in Greek and Coptic continuing with essays focussing on taxonomy and definition The concluding essays apply contemporary theories to analyses of specific test cases in a broad variety of ancient Mediterranean cultures Paul Mirecki Th D 1986 in Religious Studies Harvard Divinity School is Associate Professor of Religious Studies at the University of Kansas Marvin Meyer Ph D 1979 in Religion Claremont Graduate School is Professor of Religion at Chapman University Orange California and Director of the Coptic Magical Texts Project of the Institute for Antiquity and Christianity
