Monopoly Competition Their Regulation:

Evolution of Competition Laws and Their Enforcement Pradeep S. Mehta, 2012 This edited volume identifies the various country specific factors that warrant changes in the design and implementation of competition laws The book covers case studies of nine countries of differing sizes and at varying stages of economic development that have at one stage or another repealed extant competition laws for new ones and seeks to examine the motivations and contexts under which this was done The countries examined include the Czech Republic Hungary India Ireland Poland Serbia South Africa Tanzania and the UK Tracing the evolution of competition regimes in the countries covered the book provides lessons for countries still in the process of forming their competition regimes The contributions show that the road to strong competition regimes is seldom smooth and that social economic and political factors in the country hugely impact on the pace and effectiveness of competition reforms The volume also addresses the issue of when the development of competition policies and laws can be seen to be in conflict with national development strategies Monopoly and Competition and Their Regulation International Economic Association, 1954 Regulating Competition in the EU Pernille Wegener Jessen, Bent Ole Gram Mortensen, Michael Steinicke, Karsten Engsig Sorensen, 2024-05-21 This revised and updated edition of a basic sourcebook and practice guide in EU competition law retains the first edition's significantly broader perspective on EU competition law than most books in the field It explains not only the traditional areas of competition law but also aspects of competition law that are of particular importance to practitioners With its comprehensive overview of relevant provisions related to competition among others the authors shed clear light on the following topics and the interplay between these different areas of competition law the prohibition of agreements which restrict competition the prohibition of abuse of dominant position the rules on merger control the prohibition of State aid the liberalised sectors such as energy supply transport postal services and telecommunications and the rules on public procurement The chapters integrate an extensive number of sources including new acts new decisions and judgments and new Commission guidelines that help guide the interpretation of the underlying Treaty provisions With its enhanced view of EU competition policy regulation and enforcement and its emphasis on specific industry sectors this book offers an unusually thorough view of aspects of competition law which play an essential role in regulating the conduct of undertakings and public authorities in the market This new edition will continue to be of special value to any lawyer policymaker or scholar active in European competition law Competition Law, Regulation and Digital Platforms Ruth Taplin, Kazuhiko Fuchikawa, 2025-05-06 This book confronts and analyses how competition law in its present form is unable to deal with the new advances in digital technology that have made tech giants not subject to national jurisdictions as they straddle the world with a particular focus on Japan China UK EU and USA Demonstrating how the gatekeeping role of digital platforms has broken through the boundaries of national regulation this book highlights examples where companies have broken and infringed antitrust law with impunity pursuing self preferencing and unfair competition practices solely for their own profitability It also identifies how tech giants can open their digital platforms for fair use by consumers small and medium enterprises SMEs and creators while still allowing tech giants to maintain their important role as gatekeepers of digital security that protects users from cyberattacks This is followed by an examination of the similarities between tech giants and big pharma within the competition law and intellectual property context revealing how tech giants are beginning to target the healthcare sector Exploring how intellectual property rights are interwoven through new modernising regulations to curtail the dominance of Big Tech on digital platforms this book will appeal to students scholars and practitioners of Business Ethics Intellectual Property Law and Regulation

Competition, Regulation and the New Economy Cosmo Graham, Fiona Smith, 2004-10-11 In addition to being the principal medium for communication education and entertainment the new economy is now a leading provider of goods and services through electronic channels The new economy rides on the crest of new technological developments in computers telecommunications and satellites creating new interactive mediums and from the deregulation and privatization of state owned enterprises in the telecommunications and broadcasting sectors Whilst the economic viability of the dotcoms is questioned the existence of a new economy with novel methods of production distribution and exchange is here to stay Evidence of this is the fact that there are 300 million active computers in the world with 350 million people who use the world wide web expected to grow to one billion in four years and the speed of microprocessors continuously increases facilitating the use of IT The question which is pursued in the series of essays in this book is whether the conceptual underpinnings of competition law and international regulatory mechanisms are adequate or appropriate to deal with the developments raised by the new economy

Domestic Common Carrier Regulation United States. Congress. House. Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce. Subcommittee on Communications, 1976 International Harmonization of Competition Laws Jiarui Cheng, Chia-Jui Cheng, Lawrence S. Liu, Chih-Kang Wang, 1995-01-01 This collection of more than two dozen papers delivered to a symposium on International Harmonization of Competition Laws examines the policies and practices of competition laws in major industrial jurisdictions and emerging industrialized economies such as the host country of the Symposium the Republic of China on Taiwan World class scholars and leading enforcement officials contributed to this volume which examines the difficult issues of harmonizing competition laws In addition to enhancing the scholarship on a topic of great current interest after the Uruguay Round of GATT talks the book also systematically examines topical issues in competition laws It thus not only offers policy analysis but also provides useful discussions of national and regional competition laws A useful tool on comparative competition laws this volume should be of great interest to academics practitioners and enforcement officials around the world

The Opening of American Law Herbert Hovenkamp, 2015 Two late Victorian ideas disrupted American legal thought the Darwinian theory of evolution and marginalist economics The legal thought that emerged can be called neoclassical because it embodied ideas that were radically new while retaining many elements of what had gone before Although Darwinian social science was developed earlier in most legal disciplines outside of criminal law and race theory marginalist approaches came to dominate This book carries these themes through a variety of legal subjects in both public and private law

Regulation Under Increasing Competition Michael A. Crew, 2012-12-06 Regulation Under Increasing Competition brings together practitioners regulators and economists to examine the important policy and regulatory issues facing the telecommunications and electricity industries This volume reviews such topics as competitive entry stranded costs pricing and market mechanisms It provides a unique perspective on problems in a newly deregulated environment

Regulating Utilities and Promoting Competition Colin Robinson, 2006-01-01 a treasure trove of valuable insight and commentary into the utility markets and how they are and should be regulated European Competition Law Review Regulating Utilities and Promoting Competition continues the series of annual books published in association with the Institute of Economic Affairs and the London Business School which critically review the state of utility regulation and competition policy With contributions by some of the leading figures in the field this important new book presents incisive chapters on a number of prominent topics These include amongst others the future of the railways the international trade in gas the economics and politics of wind power and the role of economics in merger reviews A key feature of the book is the careful examination of fundamental issues not only from the viewpoint of academic and other independent commentators but also by the regulators and heads of competition authorities themselves By addressing significant developments both in Britain and abroad the authors draw important lessons about the policy changes needed as well as their subsequent implementation This book will be of great value to practitioners policymakers and academics alike who are concerned with regulation deregulation and policies to promote competition

Competition Laws, Globalization and Legal Pluralism Qianlan Wu, 2013-11-12 Building upon a theoretical framework and empirical research this book provides a thought provoking analysis of the interests strategies and challenges that China has faced in developing its Anti Monopoly Law AML in the context of economic globalization The book comprises three main parts Part I reviews the directions of convergence of global competition law Part II provides a contextual analysis of China's market governance and its strategic interests and Part III examines the latest enforcement of the Anti Monopoly Law by focusing on the interactions between global actors and China the relationships between Chinese competition and sectoral regulators and the enforcement of global competition law norms in the Chinese context This book is one of the first to provide a critical understanding of China's experience as a new competition regulator set against the background of the plural sources of global competition laws

The Economics of Government Regulation Wang Junhao, 2021-07-06 Regulation is a public policy approach closely related to calculations of the equilibrium of supply and demand and to cost benefit analyses Governments combine a variety of incentives and restrictions on behavior including laws and regulations in order to guide enterprises and smaller entities within the economy toward pursuing policies in the public interest This book offers an in depth and systematic review of the economic theory of regulation with particular emphasis on the Chinese context The basic concepts cover economic and social regulation regulatory process regulation under asymmetric information and capture theory Drawing on a broad range of cases from across the telecommunications electric power and water sectors since the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949 the author explores economic regulation in China with reference to natural monopoly investment price level and price structure entry and competition In addition he discusses theories of externalities and asymmetric information which are analyzed in the light of China's environmental and product quality regulation The author argues that the Chinese government has deregulated its economy to a large extent in the past and proposes that the Chinese government will enforce more social regulation in the future Students and scholars of government regulation economics and industrial organization will find this volume to be an essential guide

Competition in Regulated Industries Dieter Helm, Tim Jenkinson, 1998 The UK has pioneered the introduction of competition into service industries The radical policy innovations have been controversial This volume looks at the lessons which have emerged from the UK so far and considers the implications for future policy in the UK and for other countries following its precedent

Regulating Cartels in Europe Christopher Harding, Julian Joshua, 2010 One of the most contentious and high profile aspects of EU competition law and policy has been the regulation of those serious competition or antitrust violations now often referred to as hard core cartels Such cartel activity typically involves large and powerful corporate producers and traders operating across Europe and beyond and comprise practices such as price fixing bid rigging market sharing and limiting production in order to ensure market stability and maintain and increase profits There is little disagreement now in terms of competition theory and policy at both international and national levels regarding the damaging effect of such trading practices on public and consumer interests and such cartels have been subject to increasing condemnation in the legal process of regulating and protecting competition Harding and Joshua provide critical evaluation of the way in which European level regulation has evolved to deal with the activities of such anti competitive business cartels They trace the historical development of cartel regulation in Europe comparing the more pragmatic and empirical approached favoured in Europe with the more dogmatic and uncompromising American policy on cartels In particular the work considers critically the move towards the use of fully fledged criminal proceedings in this area of legal control examining evolving aspects of enforcement policy such as the use of leniency programmes and the deployment of a range of criminal law and other sanctions This new edition of the work covers emerging themes and arguments in the discipline including the judicial review of decisions against cartels the criminological and legal basis of the criminalisation of cartel conduct and the range and effectiveness of sanctions used in response to cartel activity

Competition Laws Outside the United States H. Stephen Harris, 2001

Competition Law in Latin America Julián Peña, Marcelo Calliari, 2022-06-06 In the past few years Latin American countries have taken giant steps to reposition their competition authorities in the global antitrust arena granting them much greater autonomy both domestically and internationally This is an updated edition of the first book that offered an in depth analysis of this complex scenario The first part of the book includes more general chapters written by leading experts on a variety of relevant topics analyzed at a regional level such as the issues emerging with the digital economy and on the special field of the information and communications technology industry as well as chapters on broad regional trends on the working of competition law in countries with regulated markets and in the cluster of Central American countries among others At the heart of the presentation are nine chapters detailing the competition regimes of the most active national jurisdictions in the region Argentina Brazil Chile Colombia Ecuador Mexico Paraguay Peru and Uruguay Written by practicing experts with considerable hands on experience in their respective countries each of these chapters provides a comprehensive description and explanation of the evolution current state and prospects for antitrust in the country Topics addressed in the country analysis encompass the following and more relevant institutions and legislation cartel investigations unilateral conduct policies merger review international coordination enforcement and remedies Each chapter includes an analysis of relevant case law allowing the reader to gauge the positions views and tendencies of each competition law regime The contributors also pay attention to the specificities and idiosyncrasies that are so important for a correct understanding of the practical realities of competition policy and enforcement With its wide ranging and in depth approach this book provides an incomparable analysis of a challenging region poised to become increasingly important in the international recognition and enforcement of antitrust law It is in this sense an essential guide for lawyers economists corporations academics and government officials interested in understanding where competition law is and where it is going to in Latin America

Big Data and Competition Law Alptekin Koksall, 2023-11-13 Recent studies on competition law and digital markets reveal that accumulating personal information through data collection and acquisition methods benefits consumers considerably Free of charge fast and personalised services and products are offered to consumers online Collected data is now an indispensable part of online businesses to the point that a new economy a data driven sector has emerged Many markets such as the social network search engine online advertising and e commerce are regarded as data driven markets in which the utilisation of Big Data is a requisite for the success of operations However the accumulation and use of data brings competition law concerns as they contribute to market power in the online world resulting in a few technology giants gaining unprecedented market power due to the Big Data accumulation indirect network effects and the creation of online ecosystems As technology giants have billions of consumers worldwide data driven markets are truly global In these data driven markets technology giants abuse their dominant positions but existing competition law tools seem ineffective in addressing market power and assessing abusive behaviour related to Big Data This book argues that a novel approach to the data driven sector must be developed through the application of competition law rules to address this It argues that current and potential conflicts can be mitigated by extending the competition law assessment beyond the current competition law tools to offer a modernised and unified approach to the Big Data related competition issues Promoting new legal tests for addressing the market power of technology giants and assessing abusive behaviour in data driven markets this book advocates for cooperation between competition and data protection authorities It will be of interest to students academics and practitioners with an interest in competition law and data protection
