displaying finely crafted objects was a mark of character among the royals and aristocrats in Early Modern Spain it ranked with extravagant hospitality as a sign of nobility and with virtue as a token of princely power Objects of Culture in the Literature of Imperial Spain explores how the writers of the period shared the same impulse to collect arrange and display objects though in imagined settings as literary artefacts These essays examine a variety of cultural objects described or alluded to in books from the Golden Age of Spanish literature including clothing paintings tapestries playing cards monuments materials of war and even enchanted bronze heads The contributors emphasize how literature preserved and transformed objects to endow them with new meaning for aesthetic social religious and political purposes whether to perpetuate certain habits of thought and belief or to challenge accepted social and moral norms
