Policies For Distributed Systems And Networks Proceedings:

Policies for Distributed Systems and Networks Morris Sloman,Jorge Lobo,Emil C. Lupu,2003-06-29 Policy based systems are the subject of a wide range of activities in universities standardisation bodies and within industry They have a wide spectrum of applications ranging from quality of service management within networks to security and enterprise modelling This Lecture Notes volume collects the papers presented at the workshop on Policies for Distributed Systems and Networks held at the Hewlett Packard Laboratories in Bristol UK in January 2001 After a rigorous review process 16 papers were selected from 43 submissions Within the Internet community there is considerable interest in policy based networking A number of companies have announced tools to support the specification and deployment of policies Much of this work is focused on policies for quality of service management within networks and the Internet Engineering and Distributed Management Task Force IETF DMTF is actively working on standards related to this area The security community has focused on the specification and analysis of access control policy which has evolved into the work on Role Based Access Control RBAC There has been work over a number of years in the academic community on specification and analysis of policies for distributed systems mostly concentrating on authorisation policies Although there are strong similarities in the concepts and techniques used by the different communities there is no commonly accepted terminology or notation for specifying policies

Proceedings, Third International Workshop on Policies for Distributed Systems and Networks IEEE Computer Society. TC on Distributed Processing,2002 Handbook of Network and System Administration Jan Bergstra,Mark Burgess,2011-08-11 System administration is about the design running and maintenance of human computer systems Examples of human computer systems include business enterprises service institutions and any extensive machinery that is operated by or interacts with human beings System administration is often thought of as the technological side of a system the architecture construction and optimization of the collaborating parts but it also occasionally touches on softer factors such as user assistance help desks ethical considerations in deploying a system and the larger implications of its design for others who come into contact with it This book summarizes the state of research and practice in this emerging field of network and system administration in an anthology of chapters written by the top academics in the field. The authors include members of the IST EMANICS Network of Excellence in Network Management. This book will be a valuable reference work for researchers and senior system managers wanting to understand the essentials of system administration whether in practical application of a data center or in the design of new systems and data centers. Covers data center planning and design. Discusses configuration management. Illustrates business modeling and system administration. Provides the latest theoretical developments.

Network Control and Engineering for QoS, Security and Mobility Dominique Gaïti, Nadia Boukhatem, 2013-04-17. Service and network providers must be able to satisfy the demands for new services, improve the quality of service, reduce the cost of network service operations and maintenance, control performance and adapt to user demands. It is essential to investigate different approaches for performing such tasks. One of these approaches is based on policies and the capability of the network to adapt itself to current conditions. With a focus on policy based networking, this volume addresses the problem of network control and the introduction of policies such as the control of the Quality of Service, security, mobility, performance, mobile and intelligent agents and traffic engineering. The area of control in networks through policies promises to provide stimulating challenges for years to come. This book is an attempt to answer questions and provide some direction about the best approaches to be followed. This volume contains the proceedings of the first International Conference on NETwork CONtrol and Engineering NETCON for Quality of Service, Security and Mobility, which was sponsored by the International Federation for Information Processing IFIP and organized by IFIP TC6 Working Group 6.7 Smart Networks. The conference convened in Paris, France in October 2002.
