Political Migrations To Bhutan:

The Ecosystem of Exile Politics Susan Banki, 2024-11-15 The Ecosystem of Exile Politics relays the events in Bhutan that led to the exodus of one sixth of the population and then recounts the activism by Bhutan's refugee diaspora that followed in response Susan Banki asserts that activism functions like a physical ecosystem in which hubs of activism in different locations interact to pressure the home country For Bhutan's refugee mobilizers physical proximity offers advantages in Nepal and India where organizing protests lobbying and collecting information about government abuse in Bhutan is aided by being close to the homeland But in an ecosystem of exile politics proximity is both a boon and a bane Sites proximate to Bhutan can be spaces of risk and disempowerment and refugee activists rarely secure legal political and social protection While distant diasporas in the Global North may not be in precarious situations they cannot tap into the advantages of proximity In examining these phenomena The Ecosystem of Exile Politics adds to theoretical understandings of exile politics and to empirical research on Bhutan and its refugee population

Memoirs of a Political Officer's Wife in Tibet, Sikkim and Bhutan Margaret D. Williamson, John Snelling, 1987 Memoirs portraying life in Tibet Sikkim and Bhutan in the 1930s

The Political Economy of Bilateral Aid Peter Blunt, 2022-12-23 The social and economic consequences of the COVID 19 pandemic and of extreme climate events have brought into sharp relief the serious deficiencies of our political economies The dominant global ideology of neoliberalism and its architects and beneficiaries are responsible for this Bilateral development assistance is an integral part of the neoliberal grand design However while the deficiencies of neoliberalism have been starkly exposed by the pandemic its collapse is unlikely in the short term Much bilateral assistance will therefore continue to be self serving Within these confines and on the basis of a sharply critical analysis of the functioning of technical assistance at the point of the design and delivery of programmes and projects this book identifies crucial supply side nodes of power and influence where feasible and relatively straight forward functional reforms strategy structure selection training would make genuinely developmental results for recipients more likely and enhance donor interests at the same time It argues that more authentic empathetic and altruistic technical assistance will be essential to bringing this about The arguments are supported by primary published evidence gathered by the author during 18 years of full time employment as a team leader or programme manager of technical assistance programmes The book will be of interest to students of development management development economics political economy and international relations as well as policy makers development practitioners and supply and demand side government officials

The Dragon's Voice Bunty Avieson, 2015-04-01 This is a fascinating account of ancient culture colliding with modern media Tucked between Tibet and India in the Himalayas the kingdom of Bhutan is one of the most isolated and beautiful countries in the world In The Dragon's Voice Australian journalist Bunty Avieson provides a glimpse of life beyond the country's exotic exterior As a consultant to local newspaper Bhutan Observer she admires the paper's strong social conscience but finds her expectations challenged in a country where spirituality and personal happiness are prioritized over work. Avieson also witnesses the tensions that arise as a Buddhist kingdom makes the transition to democracy. The courtship ritual of night hunting and the nation's first public demonstration become controversial news items while journalists must overcome traditional social hierarchies to keep politicians accountable. With a unique blend of memoir and reportage, The Dragon's Voice is both a deeply personal story and a vivid portrait of a nation on the cusp of revolutionary change.

The East India Gazetteer; Containing Particular Descriptions of the Empires, Kingdoms, Principalities, Provinces ... of Hindostan ... By Walter Hamilton Walter Hamilton, 1815     Supplement to the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Editions of the Encyclopædia Britannica. With Preliminary Dissertations on the History of the Sciences. Illustrated by Engravings. Volume First [- Sixth], 1824

Strangers Of The Mist Sanjoy Hazarika, 2000-10-14. This book would have been completed earlier but for events that disrupted millions of lives across India including those of journalists: the demolition of the Babri Masjid at Ayodhya by a Hindu mob on 6 December 1992 and the communal riots that followed across the country. In January 1993 the selective massacres of Muslims at Bombay and the devastating revenge bomb blasts there two months later led to extensive travelling and reporting for the New York Times. In addition there was normal reporting on the Punjab environmental, economic and political issues such as the billion dollar scam.

An Earthly Paradise Raziuddin Aquil, Tilottama Mukherjee, 2020-02-25. This collection of articles on varied facets of early modern Bengal showcases cutting edge work in the field and hopes to encourage new research. The essays explore the trading networks, religious traditions, artistic and literary patronage and politico-cultural practices that emerged in roughly sixteenth-eighteenth centuries. Using a wide array of sources, the contributors to this volume, coming from diverse academic affiliations and including many young researchers, have attempted to address various historiographical black holes, bringing in new material and interpretations.

Early modern Bengal's history tends to get overshadowed by the later developments of the nineteenth century. What this assortment of articles highlights is that this period needs to be studied afresh and in depth. The region underwent rapid transformations as it got politically integrated with Northern India and its empires and economically with extensive global economic networks. Combined with its unique geography, the trajectory of this region in all spheres manifest an almost constant interplay of local and extra local forces be it in literature, art, economic domain, political and religious cultures and considerable enterprise and ingenuity. Thus a variety of themes including travel accounts, Portuguese and Arakanese presence, early Dutch, French, Ostend companies forays into the region, artistic production in the Nizamat and later collections of art and missionaries, the English company state's intrusions in local economy in salt and raw silk production and indigenous reactions and rebellions, consumption practices related to religious activities, circulation and translation of texts, representation of women in vernacular writings and organization of religious traditions have been analysed in this volume with a wide ranging introduction tying up the themes to the broader historiographical issues and contexts. The collection will be an invaluable reference tool for students and scholars of history especially of early modern India. Please note: This title is co-published with Manohar Publishers New Delhi. Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India, Pakistan, Nepal, Bhutan, Bangladesh and Sri Lanka.
