Political Economy Of Poverty Equity And Growth A Comparative Study:

The Political Economy of Poverty, Equity and Growth: A Comparative Study Deepak Lal, H. Myint, Hla Myint, 1998-10-08

This wide ranging and innovative book synthesizes the findings of a major international study of the political economy of poverty equity and growth. It represents an ambitious interdisciplinary attempt to identify patterns in the interplay of initial conditions, institutions, interests, and ideas which can help to explain the different growth and poverty alleviation outcomes in the Third World.

The Political Economy of Poverty, Equity and Growth, 1998 The Political Economy of Poverty, Equity and Growth, 1998 The Political Economy of Poverty, Equity and Growth: A Comparative Study Deepak Lal, H.

Myint, 1998-10-08. This wide ranging and innovative book synthesises the findings of a major international study of the political economy of poverty equity and growth. It is based primarily on analytical economic histories of 21 developing countries from 1950 to 1985 but also takes account of the wider literature on the subject. The authors take an ambitious interdisciplinary approach to identify patterns in the interplay of initial conditions, institutions, interests, and ideas which can help to explain the different growth and poverty alleviation outcomes in the Third World. Three different types of poverty are distinguished based on their causes and a more nebulous idea of equity in contrast to egalitarianism is shown to have influenced policy. Since growth is found to be the major means of alleviating mass structural poverty, much of the book is concerned with discovering explanations for policies which are found to be the most important influences on the proximate causes of growth. Lal and Myint also consider the available evidence on the role of direct transfers, public and private, in alleviating destitution and conjunctural poverty. The Political Economy of Poverty Equity and Growth develops a novel framework for the comparative analysis of different growth outcomes. This framework distinguishes between the different relative factor endowments of land, labour, and capital and between the different organizational structures of peasant versus plantation and mining economies. It also differentiates between the politics of autonomous and factional states in the countries studied, breaking the analysis down into further typological subdivisions and providing important new insights into the differing behaviour of economies that are rich in natural resources and those with abundant labour. These insights constitute a richer explanation for the divergent developmental outcomes in East Asia compared with Latin America and Africa. The evidence collated is used to argue for the continuing relevance of the classical liberal viewpoint on public policies for development and to show why even so nationalist ideologies are likely to be adopted and lead to cycles of interventionism and liberalism. The evidence is also used to provide an explanation for the surprising current worldwide Age of Reform.

Eastern and Western Ideas for African Growth Kenichi Ohno, Izumi Ohno, 2013-05-29 The West and the East approach economic development differently The Europeans and Americans stress free and fair business climate promoting private activities generally without picking winners and improving governance East Asia is interested in achieving concrete results and projects rather than formal correctness prioritizing a few sectors for industrialization and eventual graduation from aid The West mostly shapes shifting strategies of the international donor community while the East has in reality made remarkable progress in industrial catch up The two approaches cannot be merged easily but they can be used in proper combination to realize growth and economic transformation This book proposes more dialogue and complementarity between the two in the development effort of Africa and other regions In this collected volume contributed by experts and practitioners from both East and West the need to introduce Eastern ideas to the global development strategy is emphasized

Analysis of British and other Western donor policies is given while Japanese Korean and other Asian approaches are also explained with concrete examples The concept of governance for growth is presented and the impact of rising China on development studies is contemplated The practices of industrial policy dialogues and actions assisted by East Asian experts are reported from Tunisia Zambia Ethiopia Rwanda and others The book should be applicable to all donors institutions NGOs and business enterprises engaged in development cooperation
