Political Partnerships Neighborhood Residents And Their Council Members:

Political Partnerships Jeffrey L. Davidson, 1979-07 With the neighbourhood as his basic unit of analysis Davidson examines the type of issue that is likely to lead to mobilization and discovers that the issues are highly proximate ones with strong effects on the daily lives of people in the immediate locale but with little significance for the city as a whole His focus is on how people mobilize on the process by which apolitical people acquire and use political resources and on the lasting political relationships that result

The Unseen Politics of Public Housing Tiffany Gayle Chenault, 2015-08-15 The Department of Housing and Urban Development HUD emphasizes the word community for building economic development citizen participations and revitalization of facilities and services in urban and rural areas Resident Councils are one way to develop and build community among residents of public housing Despite HUD stressing community building in public housing and investing money and policies around it there are some resident councils that are not fulfilling the expectations of HUD This book is my attempt to describe and explain HUD s expectations for the resident council as an active agent for community building and the actual practices of the resident council I argue that policies and regulations of resident councils which exist to support the effectiveness of the resident council in creating and implementing community building self sufficiency and empowerment activities and goals in a public housing community may do more harm than good The Department of Housing and Urban Development invests and spends billions on Public Housing Programs 6.6 billion in 2013 The majority of the 12 million people who live in public housing do not live in large urban areas with thousands of people confined to a certain space The majority of public housing units 90% have fewer than 500 units These smaller units and the people that live in them tend to go unnoticed This ethnographic case study focuses on explaining and understanding the factors and constraints that exist between HUD s expectations for the resident council as an active agent for community building and the actual practices of the resident council To explain the disjunction in fact to determine if such disjunctions identified by Rivertown council members are real Using the tenets of Critical Race Theory allows us to understand what forces either real or imagined structural or cultural prevent the resident council from being an effective agent for change in the public housing community

Political Communication in a New Era Philippe Maarek, Gadi Wolfsfeld, 2005-08-18 This book seeks to provide readers with a cross national perspective concerning the art of political communication in a field increasingly affected by globalization fragmentation of political audiences and the rise of professional communications experts a field concerned not only with how leaders are chosen but also with how they govern Structured in two sections Political Communication in a New Era examines both methods of gathering and disseminating information in a time of technological transformation and developments in the uses of political communication across the globe Contributors offer perspectives from Canada France Germany Israel Italy and the United States

Holding Bureaucrats Accountable Lana Stein, 1991 Lana Stein looks at the taxing question of how to make bureaucracies responsible to elected officials Stein

carefully scrutinizes St Louis bureaucracy distinguishing those agencies that are responsive to elected officials from those that are not On the responsive side for example she cites the Traffic Division of the Department of Streets which has erected about 1 000 four way stop signs compared to 34 in Kansas City because the aldermen responding to parents concerned about the safety of their street crossing kids demanded them Similarly she finds that building inspectors are responsive to aldermen s requests that individual buildings receive priority attention To tenants worried about unsafe living conditions that s an important and meaningful gesture

Gordana Rabrenovic,2010-04-20 Addressing relevant urban issues a careful look at the relationships between neighborhood associations and development

Democracy Reinvented Hollie Russon Gilman,2016-01-05 Participatory Budgeting the experiment in democracy that could redefine how public budgets are decided in the United States Democracy Reinvented is the first comprehensive academic treatment of participatory budgeting in the United States situating it within a broader trend of civic technology and innovation This global phenomenon which has been called revolutionary civics in action by the New York Times started in Brazil in 1989 but came to America only in 2009 Participatory budgeting empowers citizens to identify community needs work with elected officials to craft budget proposals and vote on how to spend public funds Democracy Reinvented places participatory budgeting within the larger discussion of the health of U S democracy and focuses on the enabling political and institutional conditions Author and former White House policy adviser Hollie Russon Gilman presents theoretical insights indepth case studies and interviews to offer a compelling alternative to the current citizen disaffection and mistrust of government She offers policy recommendations on how to tap online tools and other technological and civic innovations to promote more inclusive governance While most literature tends to focus on institutional changes without solutions this book suggests practical ways to empower citizens to become change agents Reinvesting in Democracy also includes a discussion on the challenges and opportunities that come with using digital tools to re engage citizens in governance

Neighborhoods Howard W. Hallman,1984 Hallman s in depth study begins with the basic definition that a neighbourhood is both a physical place and a social community Neighbourhoods are analysed as personal arenas where individuals perform certain classes of action e g shopping social communities where individuals work together in groups and take part in some form of collective life physical places where certain amenities are e g houses and hospitals which give an area a cohesiveness as a whole political communities of varying degrees of intensity and as little economies where people buy houses rent houses employ each other etc

Public Service Provision and Urban Development
Andrew Kirby,Paul Knox,Steven Pinch,2017-10-12 Originally published in 1984 The authors of this study address a number of major themes related to the analysis of public services the role of public choice theory the importance of professors and organisations the value of neo Marxist theories and the importance of space These issues are considered in the context of case studies of school closures the provision of medical care the relationships between Federal outlays and presidential politics the provision of nurseries demand making in local government and the fiscal crisis facing many American cities The subject of public service provision is of great interest not only to political scientists but also to geographers and to sociologists This book presents a great deal of new thinking and new research from both North America and Britain

Progress in Political Geography (Routledge Revivals) Michael Pacione, 2014-06-03 Since the 1970s the field of political geography has undergone a significant transformation where new methodologies have been implemented to investigate the exercise of the power of the state within the urban environment First published in 1985 the essays in this collection addressed the growing need to assess the academic revisions that had been taking place and provide a reference point for future developments in the discipline Still of great relevance the essays consider the most prominent themes in areas of key importance to political geography including theory and methodology minority groups local government and the geography of elections This volume will be of significant value for students of political geography urban demography and town planning

Lessons for the Big Society: Planning, Regeneration and the Politics of Community Participation Denis Dillon, Bryan Fanning, 2016-05-13 This book provides concrete examples of the ways in which shifting academic debates policy and political approaches have impacted on a specific place over the past 30 years It offers a critical analysis of the history politics and social geography of the high profile London Borough of Haringey in the decades prior to the 2011 Tottenham riots The Haringey case study acts as a lens through which to explore the evolution of theoretical and policy debates about the relationship between local institutions and the communities they serve Focusing on the policy areas of planning and regeneration it considers the local implementation and outcome of central government strategies that have sought to achieve such accountability and responsiveness through community participation strategies It examines how the local authority responded to central government aspirations for greater community involvement in planning in the 1970s and regeneration from the late 1980s onwards before looking in detail at the implementation of New Labour neighbourhood renewal and local governance policy in the borough In doing so the book provides a longitudinal case study on how various central government community empowerment agendas have played out at a local level It offers important lessons and indicates how they might work more effectively in future

Partnership for International Development Jennifer M. Brinkerhoff, 2002 Partnership says Brinkerhoff public administration George Washington U is the polite term for minimizing the responsibility of government in development projects She seeks to clarify the concepts and its practice to critique the understanding and practice of it in international development to date and to specify its defining dimensions Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Partnerships for Livable Cities Cor van Montfort, Ank Michels, 2020-06-29 In this volume scholars from around the world discuss the innovative forms of collaboration between public and private actors that contribute to making our cities more liveable It offers helpful insights into the practices of partnerships and the ways in which partnerships can contribute to a more liveable urban environment The liveability of our cities is a topic of increasing relevance and urgency The world's cities are becoming congested and polluted putting pressure on affordable housing and causing safety to become a major problem Urban governments are unable to address these major challenges on their own and thus they seek cooperation with other governments companies civil society organizations and citizens By focusing on examples such as greenery in the city affordable housing safety neighbourhood revitalization and learning by doing in urban living labs this book asks two key questions How do partnerships between public and private actors contribute to the liveability of cities Under what conditions are partnerships successful and when do they fail to yield the desired results

The Urban Housing Context Christine C. Cook,1987 Placing Parties in American Politics David R. Mayhew,2014-07-14 This work on the structure of American parties combines the breadth that has been characteristic of voter analyses and the richness found in case studies of local party organizations Originally published in 1986 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

The Winstanley/Industry Park Neighborhood Improvement Plan Winstanley/Industry Park Research Team,1992 Business Elites and Urban Development Scott Cummings,1988-01-01 Written in a non technical narrative style this book is an invaluable resource for anyone concerned with current trends in urban development During the Reagan era responsibility for urban planning and development was transferred from government to private business This private sector hegemony over urban development differs markedly from the liberal policy initiatives of the 1960s and 1970s Through a series of case studies this book examines these shifting trends and shows that private sector efforts to revitalize America's central cities have not been uniformly successful The contributors who are among America's leading social scientists utilize neo Marxist urban theory to explain the conditions under which private initiative enhances or erodes downtown redevelopment

The Model Cities Program Marshall Kaplan, Gans, and Kahn,United States. Department of Housing and Urban Development,1969 Research as Accompaniment Martín Renzo Rosales,LaShaune P. Johnson,Alexander Rödlach,2024-06-03 This volume expands conversations about participatory community engaged and action oriented research that inspires social change The authors contend that long term community partnerships inspired by solidarity and characterized by equality and reciprocity result in a deep understanding of community concerns and increase the likelihood that research findings will have an impact on both the community partners and the broader society Such research relationships the authors maintain are best understood as accompaniment This book recognizes the potential as well as constraints of conceptualizing research as accompaniment and emphasizes that this approach is both a continuum and a process Suitable for students and scholars of ethnographic and qualitative methods and professionals using those methods such as those in non government organizations it will appeal to those interested in research with communities in a wide variety of social science and other disciplines including anthropology nursing and public health amongst others
