Dying Every Day James Romm, 2014-12-02 From acclaimed classical historian author of Ghost on the Throne a high stakes drama full of murder madness tyranny perversion with the sweep of history on the grand scale At the center the tumultuous life of Seneca ancient Rome's preeminent writer and philosopher beginning with banishment in his fifties and subsequent appointment as tutor to twelve year old Nero future emperor of Rome Controlling them both Nero's mother Julia Agrippina the Younger Roman empress great granddaughter of the Emperor Augustus sister of the Emperor Caligula niece and fourth wife of Emperor Claudius James Romm seamlessly weaves together the life and written words the moral struggles political intrigue and bloody vengeance that enmeshed Seneca the Younger in the twisted imperial family and the perverse paranoid regime of Emperor Nero despot and madman Romm writes that Seneca watched over Nero as teacher moral guide and surrogate father and at seventeen when Nero abruptly ascended to become emperor of Rome Seneca a man never avid for political power became with Nero the ruler of the Roman Empire We see how Seneca was able to control his young student how under Seneca's influence Nero ruled with intelligence and moderation banned capital punishment reduced taxes gave slaves the right to file complaints against their owners pardoned prisoners arrested for sedition But with time as Nero grew vain and disillusioned Seneca was unable to hold sway over the emperor and between Nero's mother Agrippina thought to have poisoned her second husband and her third who was her uncle Claudius and rumored to have entered into an incestuous relationship with her son and Nero's father described by Suetonius as a murderer and cheat charged with treason adultery and incest how long could the young Nero have been contained Dying Every Day is a portrait of Seneca's moral struggle in the midst of madness and excess In his treatises Seneca preached a rigorous ethical creed exalting heroes who defied danger to do what was right or embrace a noble death As Nero's adviser Seneca was presented with a more complex set of choices as the only man capable of summoning the better aspect of Nero's nature yet remaining at Nero's side and colluding in the evil regime he created Dying Every Day is the first book to tell the compelling and nightmarish story of the philosopher poet who was almost a king tied to a tyrant as Seneca the paragon of reason watched his student spiral into madness and whose descent saw five family murders the Fire of Rome and a savage purge that destroyed the supreme minds of the Senate's golden age

Politics and Suicide Nicholas Michelsen, 2015-10-08 Politics and Suicide argues that whilst the historical lineage of suicidal politics is recognised the fundamental significance of autodestruction to the political remains under examined It contends that practices like suicide bombing do not simply embody a strange or abnormal suicidal articulation of the political but rather that the existence of suicidal politics tells us something fundamental about the political as such and thinking about political violence more broadly Recent world events have emphatically shown our need for tools with which to develop better understandings of the politics of suicide Through the exploration of several arresting case studies including the Kamikaze bombers of World War Two Jan Palach's self immolation in 1969 Cold War nuclear deterrence and the suicide terrorist attacks of 9/11 Michelsen asks how we might talk of a political suicide in any of these contexts The book charts how political processes go suicidal and asks how we might still consider them to be political in such a case It investigates how suicide can function as politics A strong contribution to the fields of philosophy and international relations theory this work will also be of interest to students and scholars of political theory and terrorism political violence Everyday Encounters with State and Capitalism Bhabani Shankar Nayak, 2025-04-08 This book illustrates how different forces shape ideas knowledge traditions policies processes institutions and everyday lives to domesticate both people and the planet in pursuit of profit It examines the myriad ways in which contemporary ruling and non ruling elites influence politics culture economy and religion and shape our daily interactions emphasising their impact on individuals families communities democratic praxis societal structures and nature The book portrays power structures that are skewed in a manner that marginalises many while upholding the interests of a few It depicts numerous contradictions inherent in capitalism and the state while also presenting alternative ideas drawn from the everyday experiences of working people State and capitalism territorialise and deterritorialise lives and livelihoods It destabilises social cultural and economic relationships Everyday crises are manufactured and conflicts are designed to divert the masses from exploring alternatives to capitalism This strategy aims to maintain the status quo by ensuring that attention and resources are consistently focused on the accumulation of wealth and prosperity for a few thereby preventing widespread consideration of alternative and egalitarian systems and processes for mass welfare

Ethics and Images of Pain Asbjørn Grønstad, Henrik Gustafsson, 2012-04-27 Few phenomena are as formative of our experience of the visual world as displays of suffering But what does it mean to have an ethical experience of disturbing or traumatizing images What kind of ethical proposition does an image of pain mobilize How may the spectator learn from and make use of the painful image as a source of ethical reflection Engaging with a wide range of visual media from painting theatre and sculpture to photography film and video this interdisciplinary collection of essays by leading and emerging scholars of visual culture offers a reappraisal of the increasingly complex relationship between images of pain and the ethics of viewing Ethics and Images of Pain reconsiders the persistent and ever pertinent nexus of aesthetics and ethics the role of painful images as generators of unpredictable forms of affect the moral transformation of spectatorship the ambivalence of the witness and the representation of affliction as a fundamental form of our shared scopical experience The instructive and illuminating essays in the collection introduce a phenomenological context in which to make sense of our current ecology of excruciating images one that accentuates notions of responsibility empathy and imagination Contributors trace the images of pain across a miscellany of case studies and amongst the topics addressed are the work of artists as disparate as Doris Salcedo Anselm Kiefer and Bendik Riis photographs from Abu Ghraib and Rwanda Hollywood war films and animated documentaries performances of self immolations and incidents of police brutality captured on mobile phones Mary Occupying Subjectivity Chris Rosedale, 2017-10-02 This book explores a variety of forms of radical political subjectivity It takes its cue from the 2011 uprisings in the Middle East and North Africa the Occupy Movement and the European Anti Austerity Movement alongside the wider opposition to authoritarian and neoliberal forms of governance from which they sprang in order to ask an urgent series of questions about the subject of radical politics Who or what is it that engages in resistance Who or what should they be And how are we to negotiate the many complexities of that second question The contributions drawing on a wide range of theoretical traditions offer a rich series of provocations towards new ways of conceptualising evaluating and imagining radical political praxis They engage different kinds of subjects including protestors dancers self burners academics settlers and humans in order to think through the ways in which contemporary subjects are constituted within and work to unsettle dominant relations of power Together the chapters open up spaces to think about how political and intellectual commitment to social change can be enlivened through attention to the subject of radical politics This book was published as a special issue of Globalizations

The Search for the Self in Statius' ›Thebaid‹ Jean-Michel Hulls, 2021-07-19 The aim of this project is to provide a sustained analysis of the concept of self in Statius Thebaid It is this project's contention that the poem is profoundly interested in ideas of identity and selfhood The poem stages itself as a metapoetic exploration of the difficulties for a belated epicist in finding a place in the literary canon it shows the impossibility of squaring large scale epic poetics with small scale finely wrought Callimacheanism it reflects the violent disjunction between Statius' authorial pose as a poet without power and the extreme violence of his poetics it opens up the intricacies of constructing original coherent characters out of intertextual exemplary models The central tenet of the project is that Statius in the Thebaid stages his own death but does so that his poem may live This book is intended for an academic audience including undergraduate and graduate students as well as specialists in the field Although the project will be of primary importance to readers of Flavian literature it will also be of interest to those who study intertextuality and characterisation in Roman literature more generally selfhood and identity in Roman literature and culture and the reception of Roman literature
