Private Property and the Endangered Species Act Jason F. Shogren, 1998 To provide policy makers landowners and other stakeholders in the ESA debates with impartial baseline information this book offers multidisciplinary perspectives on the role that private property plays in protecting endangered species in the United States The opening chapter traces the evolution of the ESA and set forth the parameters of the debate over regulation of private property Four subsequent chapters explore the judicial and economic implications of ESA and suggest how issues of scale and diversity affect the implementation of the ESA on private property The volume concludes with eight principles to help frame the ongoing ESA reauthorization debate developed by the University of Wyoming's Institute for Environment and Natural Resources Policy Board the sponsor of the research presented in this book

Proactive Strategies for Protecting Species C. Josh Donlan, 2015-03-20 Now forty years old the Endangered Species Act ESA remains a landmark act in conservation and one of the world's most comprehensive laws designed to prevent species extinctions and support recovery efforts for imperiled species A controversial law and often subject to political attack the ESA is successful overall but not without difficulties Those who enforce the ESA for example struggle to achieve viable recovery goals for many species At the forefront of challenges is a reactive framework that sometimes leads to perverse incentives and legal battles that strain support and resources Further few species have been delisted Proactive Strategies for Protecting Species explores the perspectives opportunities and challenges around designing and implementing pre listing programs and approaches to species conservation This volume brings together conservation biologists economists private and government stakeholders and others to create a legal scientific sociological financial and technological foundation for designing solutions that incentivize conservation action for hundreds of at risk species prior to their potential listing under the ESA This forward thinking innovative volume provides a roadmap for designing species conservation programs on the ground so they are effective and take place upstream of regulation which will contribute to a reduction in lawsuits and other expenses that arise after a species is listed Proactive Strategies for Species Protection is a guidebook for anyone anywhere interested in designing programs that incentivize environmental stewardship and species conservation

The Habitats Directive in its EU Environmental Law Context Charles-Hubert Born, An Cliquet, Hendrik Schoukens, Delphine Misonne, Geert Van Hoorick, 2014-11-27 This book analyses the Habitats Directive one of the most prominent piece of EU environmental legislation of the past decades Seen by some as the cornerstone of Europe's nature conservation policy among other measures the Directive established the so called Natura 2000 ecological network which covers more than 18% of the surface of the EU However despite the fact the Directive was adopted over twenty years ago only 17% of the protected habitats and species in Europe are being adequately protected while 10 60 % of animal species remain under threat In light of the limited success and the contested nature of the Habitats Directive so far this book examines the successes and failures of the Habitats Directive from a legal and political angle The book brings together international experts to consider the application implementation and future of the Habitats Directive in order to assess whether the Habitats Directive is resilient enough to tackle biodiversity loss in the twenty first century Particular emphasis is put on the legal regime attached to the Natura 2000 network and its possible impact on land development and the relationship between the Habitats Directive and other topics including liability for ecological damage and transboundary nature conservation Montana Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, Forested State Trust Lands, Habitat Conservation Plan ,2010
