Reason Action And Experience:

Advancing Reasoned Action Theory Michael Hennessy, 2012-02-22 Dedicated to Martin Fishbein the premier social psychologist in the area of attitude and attitude change this volume focuses on his work as the codeveloper of reasoned action theory an approach to behavioral prediction and change that has been used in thousands of research studies Immediately after Fishbein's death the Annenberg Public Policy Center at the University of Pennsylvania established a memorial lecture series in his honor This volume offers ten formal papers derived from those lectures starting with a summary of the evolution of reasoned action theory and a quantitative analysis of the current approach followed by a discussion of ways to expand the capacity of the theory and concluding with current examples of state of the art applications of reasoned action theory focusing on different types of behavioral interventions These articles attest to the general applicability of the theory and the heterogeneous contexts in which the theory can be productively applied Together they compose the most up to date treatment of the quantitative analysis of reasoned action theory currently available and they show that there is considerable justification for comparing the reasoned action approach to other well known scientific theories This volume will appeal to students of political sociology and public health to a multidisciplinary scholarly audience in sociology public affairs and social work and to public health practitioners and foundation grant specialists

Praxiology and the Reasons for Action Piotr Makowski, 2017-07-05 This volume explores two traditions in practical philosophy action theory which concerns the nature of motivation for human action and praxiology the study of human action By bringing different perspectives together the volume strives to contribute to the international debate on theories of reasons for action as a philosophy of action The volume consists of three main parts The first part Reasons for Action bridges the gap between reasons for action theories and praxiology The second part of the volume titled Theories of Action explores philosophical approaches to action Finally in the third part Applications the contributors show several ways of applying praxiological ways of thinking and acting to the problems of reflection assessment solving action incompleteness and knowledge management The ultimate goal of this volume is to broaden the scientific view of action to establish a perspective on action that is permeated by moral theories on the one hand and accounts focused on efficiency and economy of action on the other hand This work is the newest volume in Transaction's Praxiology series

Reason, Action and Morality John Kemp, 2021-05-27 Originally published in 1964 this book critically examines some philosophical theories of the relation between reason and morality with particular reference to the writings of Cudworth Locke Clarke Hume and Kant It also discusses the ways in which conduct may be assessed or criticised and of the extent to which these ways of assessment may amount to or be connected with moral assessment The conclusion shows how far and in what ways rational moral judgment is possible and what are its inevitable limitations

Reasons, Rights, and Values Robert Audi, 2015-04-02 A central concern in recent ethical thinking is reasons for action and their relation to obligations rights and values This collection of recent essays by

Robert Audi presents an account of what reasons for action are how they are related to obligation and rights and how they figure in virtuous conduct In addition Audi reflects in his opening essay on his theory of reasons for action his common sense intuitionism and his widely debated principles for balancing religion and politics Reasons are shown to be basic elements in motivation grounded in experience and crucial for justifying actions and for understanding rights Audi's clear and engaging essays make these advanced debates accessible to students as well as scholars and this volume will be a valuable resource for readers interested in ethical theory political theory applied ethics or philosophy of action Reasons for Action B.C. 2 first person point of view I acknowledge these possible handicaps and try to overcome them Other people may coherently judge that I am incapable of figuring out correctly what I rationally ought to do or they may inform me of reasons of which I had heretofore been ignorant or they may try to help me overcome intellectual hindrances Like me these people would be assuming that the goal is to identify what I really rationally ought to do Nevertheless we are concerned with reasons for the agent to act in a certain way rather than with reasons say for someone to want it to be the case that the agent act Thus to be a reason in our sense is to be a consideration which has an appropriate guiding role to play in the agent's deliberation An agent is guided by reasons if she determines what to do in light of the reasons Suppose then that a normative theory says that it is supremely desirable or that it rationally ought to be the case that agents act in a way that maximizes the general utility but that since the general utility is never in fact maximized by those who pay attention to it considerations of the general utility should play no role in the agent's deliberation Such a theory would not be said to ascribe to agents a reason to maximize the general utility on our usage Reasons in Action Ingmar Persson,2019-09-11

Ingmar Persson offers an original view of the processes of human action deliberating on the basis of reasons for and against actions making a decision about what to do and from there implementing the decision in action in a way that makes the action intentional Persson's analysis is mainly developed to suit physical actions though how it needs to be modified to cover mental acts is also discussed The interpretation of intentional action that is presented is reductionist in the sense that it does not appeal to any concepts that are distinctive of the domain of action theory such as a unique type of agent causation or irreducible mental acts like acts of will volitions decisions or tryings Nor does it appeal to any unanalyzed attitudes or states essentially related to intentional action like intentions and desires to act Instead the intentionality of actions is construed as springing from desires conceived as physical states of agents which cause facts because of the way agents think of them A sense of our having responsibility that is sufficient for our acting for reasons is also sketched out The Theory of Reasoned Action Cynthia Gallois,Malcolm McCamish,Deborah J Terry,2015-04-27

The Theory of reasoned action explores the theory and empirical research in to the factors which influence whether people engage in high risk practices with specific reference to AIDS education Teaching, Learning, Literacy in Our High-Risk High-Tech World James Paul Gee,2017
