Religion Revolution And The Future:

Religion, revolution, and the future Jürgen Moltmann, 1969 Religion, Revolution, and the Future. Translated by Douglas Meeks Jürgen Moltmann, 1969 The Religion of the Future Roberto Mangabeira Unger, 2014-04-08 How can we live in such a way that we die only once How can we organize a society that gives us a better chance to be fully alive How can we reinvent religion so that it liberates us instead of consoling us These questions stand at the center of The Religion of the Future a book about religion and a religious work in its own right Pluralism: The Future of Religion Kenneth Rose, 2013-03-28 Theology of religions has defaulted in the last two decades to an epicyclic inclusivism which seeks to undermine pluralism with claims that it is covertly triumphalistic and that it mirrors the logic of exclusivism With the exception of pioneers in the field such as John Hick and Paul Knitter most major figures in this theological field have retreated from pluralism and promote versions of particularism and inclusivism Pluralism: The Future of Religion argues for an apophatic pluralism that is motivated by the insight that it is impossible to secure universal assent for changeable bodies of religious teachings This insight implies the non finality and consequent departicularization of all religious teachings and their inclusivistic defenses These conclusions point us inevitably toward pluralism and lead us out of the inclusivistic impasse of contemporary theology in religions Transhumanism and Transcendence Ronald Cole-Turner, 2011-09-29 The timeless human desire to be more beautiful intelligent healthy athletic or young has given rise in our time to technologies of human enhancement Athletes use drugs to increase their strength or stamina cosmetic surgery is widely used to improve physical appearance millions of men take drugs like Viagra to enhance sexual performance And today researchers are exploring technologies such as cell regeneration and implantable devices that interact directly with the brain Some condemn these developments as a new kind of cheating not just in sports but in life itself promising rewards without effort and depriving us most of all of what it means to be authentic human beings Transhumanists on the other hand reject what they see as a rationalizing of human limits as if being human means being content forever with underachieving bodies and brains To be human they insist is to be restless with possibilities always eager to transcend biological limits As the debate grows in urgency how should theology respond Christian theologians recognize truth on both sides of the argument pointing out how the yearnings of the transhumanists if not their technological methods find deep affinities in Christian belief In this volume Ronald Cole Turner has joined seasoned scholars and younger emerging voices together to bring fresh insight into the technologies that are already reshaping the future of Christian life and hope The Future of Religion Michael R. Ott, 2007 This book contains the work of international scholars who address the contemporary globalizing antagonism between religion and secularity in the theoretical and practical pursuit for this antagonism's reconciliation in a more just humane and peaceful future society and world The Non-religion of the Future Jean-Marie Guyau, 1897 Theology of Jürgen Moltmann Richard Bauckham, 1995-01-06 The most comprehensive study available of one of the most influential of German Protestant theologians Eschatology and the Technological Future Michael S. Burdett, 2014-12-05 The rapid advancement of technology has led to an explosion of speculative theories about what the future of humankind may look like These technological futurisms have arisen from significant advances in the fields of nanotechnology biotechnology and information technology and are drawing growing scrutiny from the philosophical and theological communities This text seeks to contextualize the growing literature on the cultural philosophical and religious implications of technological growth by considering technological futurisms such as transhumanism in the context of the long historical tradition of technological dreaming Michael Burdett traces the latent religious sources of our contemporary technological imagination by looking at visionary approaches to technology and the future in seminal technological utopias and science fiction and draws on past theological responses to the technological future with Pierre Teilhard de Chardin and Jacques Ellul Burdett's argument arrives at a contemporary Christian response to transhumanism based around the themes of possibility and promise by turning to the works of Richard Kearney Eberhard Jüngel and Jürgen Moltmann Throughout the author highlights points of correspondence and divergence between technological futurisms and the Judeo-Christian understanding of the future

Hope for the Earth Ernst M. Conradie, 2005-05-18 Hope for the Earth explores the viability of an eschatological approach to an ecological theology spirituality and praxis in the South African context The basic intuition of such an eschatological approach is that an environmental praxis can only be empowered on the basis of an adequate understanding of Christian hope Despair in the face of environmental destruction will inevitably lead to a spirit of resignation Where then can a vision of hope that includes hope for the earth be found The author proposes a road map for eschatology based on the observation that eschatology has traditionally responded to three aspects of the human predicament namely 1 the evil effects of sin 2 the problem of finitude and transience and 3 the limitations of human power and knowledge in space Part A This analysis is used to fathom the depths of despair as a result of environmental destruction Part B The Biblical roots and subsequent history of Christian eschatology are discussed briefly Part C Recent contributions in Christian eschatology ecological theology cosmology and South African expressions of hope are explored in depth in search of a vision of hope that includes hope for the earth itself Part D The eschatological road map is used to develop a vision of hope for the earth on the basis of a theology of life life amidst death and destruction life beyond death and eternal life in the presence of God Part E Finally the implications of this vision for an ecological ethos spirituality and praxis in the South African context are indicated Part F

Experiences in Theology Jürgen Moltmann, Margaret Kohl, 2000-12-18 In this volume the final in his series of systematic contributions to theology Moltmann looks ahead from the landmarks of his own theological journey He searches out the intersections of his own life with contemporary events that have kindled and impelled his theological thinking The perspective of hope is explained freshly while other basic theological themes and concepts are developed and interrelated

Reconstructing the Common Good Gary J. Dorrien, 2008-05-01 This landmark study in the history and theory of modern Christian socialism examines the work of such major figures as Rauschenbusch Tillich Moltmann Gutierrez and Miguez Bonino Dorrien argues that these theologians provide a singular context for addressing questions of freedom and totalitarianism sacralization and democratization individual autonomy and the common good He focuses on the differing conceptions of the common good that these major theorists have propounded and explicates as well their theological arguments on the relationship between the Kingdom of God and projects of historical praxis With a new Preface addressing the tumultuous events in Eastern Europe Reconstructing the Common Good develops and sustains a forceful argument for the continuing relevance of a decentralized pluralistic democratic form of socialism God of the Oppressed James H. Cone, 1997

The Future of Religion Rodney Stark, William Sims Bainbridge, 2023-04-28 Religion is alive and well in the modern world and the social scientific study of religion is undergoing a renaissance For much of this century respected social theorists predicted the death of religion as inevitable consequence of science education and modern economics But they were wrong Stark and Bainbridge set out to explain the survival of religion Using information derived from numerous surveys censuses historical case studies and ethnographic field expeditions they chart the full sweep of contemporary religion from the traditional denominations to the most fervent cults This wealth of information is located within a coherent theoretical framework that examines religion as a social response to human needs both the general needs shared by all and the desires specific to those who are denied the economic rewards or prestige enjoyed by the privileged By explaining the forms taken by religions today Stark and Bainbridge allow us to understand its persistence in a secular age and its prospects for the future This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1985 Religion is alive and well in the modern world and the social scientific study of religion is undergoing a renaissance For much of this century respected social theorists predicted the death of religion as inevitable consequence of science education

Saving the Earth? E. M. Conradie, 2013 Christians seeking to save the Earth have to relate creation to salvation by doing justice to both themes This study explores the ambiguous legacy of the ways in which this challenge has been approached in the reformed tradition of Swiss Dutch and German origins and in the reception of this tradition in South Africa The book focuses on the diverging interpretations of the category of re-creation in this regard Series Studies in Religion and the Environment Studien zur Religion und Umwelt Vol 8

Exodus Church and Civil Society Scott R. Paeth, 2016-04-15 This book investigates the intersection of theology and social theory in the work of Jürgen Moltmann In particular it examines the way in which his concept of the Exodus Church can illuminate the importance of the idea of civil society for a Christian public theology The concept of civil society can aid in moving from the narrower category of political theology a term used frequently by Moltmann to emphasize the church's public commitment to a broader understanding of theology's public task which takes into account the plurality of ends and institutions within society The idea of the Exodus Church enables deeper understanding of Christian ethical participation within a complex modern society Jurgen Moltmann and Evangelical Theology Sung Wook Chung, 2012-04-23 Jurgen Moltmann is now regarded as one of the most influential theologians since Karl Barth However evangelical engagement with Moltmann has been hesitant and deficient This book fills the gap Ten respected evangelical theologians engage with Moltmann's theology in a mature dynamic and critical manner seeking to appropriate from it in a discerning manner The contributors include Sung Wook Chung Kurt Anders Richardson Veli Matti Karkainen Stephen N Williams and Timothy Bradshaw This book is an excellent demonstration of intellectual confidence and respectability of robust evangelical theology A Broad Place Juergen Moltmann, 2013-01-25 Among the most acclaimed and accomplished theologians of the last 100 years Jurgen Moltmann is also one of the most popular This autobiography will certainly be widely read in the churches and the academy and will shed light on the intellectual development of this enormously influential theologian He has marked the history of theology after the Second World War in Europe and North America like no other He is the most widely read quoted and translated theologian of our time Now after Jurgen Moltmann has celebrated his eightieth birthday he looks back on a life engaged in and forging a Christian response to the tumult and opportunities of our time In his autobiography Jurgen Moltmann tells his life story from the Hamburg youth in the alternative parental home up to the present moment and he reflects on the journey of his own theological development and creativity A wide ranging document alert to the deeper currents of his time and ours A Broad Place is an entertaining reconsideration of a life full of intense experience and new beginnings New and Enlarged Handbook of Christian Theology Donald W. Musser, Joseph L. Price, 2003 An up to date and expanded version of a trusted textbook The New Enlarged Handbook of Christian Theology brings the information up to date and provides more than 30 additional articles The list of contributors to this new edition broadens the inclusiveness of the denominational and ethnic representation of the author pool This handbook provides thorough introductory articles on important themes in Christianity today With cross references and select bibliographies it is an indispensable reference source for students and professors Role of the Holy Spirit in Protestant Systematic Theology Wilson Varkey, 2011-08 This volume is a meticulously researched text on pneumatology that puts the major pneumatological issues together without confining to the traditional way of dealing with the doctrine of the Holy Spirit Although pneumatology has been a neglected field in theological discussions of the past there is a renewal of interest among theologians on pneumatology today This renewal of interest has led to the formation of this work on the role of the Holy Spirit in the Protestant Systematic Theology Through highlighting the role and significance of the Holy Spirit in the whole divine action this volume contends that pneumatology is not a dull theological locus but rather an essential theological disposition relevant for today The detailed arguments found within challenge and inspire the contemporary pneumatological discussions as it relates to all the facets of theological reflection and action
