Allen, 1974 Lugenia Burns Hope, Black Southern Reformer Jacqueline Anne Rouse, 2004-01-01 From the turn of the century until her death in 1947 Lugenia Burns Hope worked to promote black equality in Atlanta as the wife of John Hope president of both Morehouse College and Atlanta University and on a national level in her discussions with such influential leaders as W E B Du Bois and Jessie Daniel Ames Highlighting the life of the zealous reformer Jacqueline Anne Rouse offers a portrait of a seemingly tireless woman who worked to build the future of her race A Turbulent Voyage Floyd W. Hayes, 2000-05 This anthology is designed to introduce the reader to the contours and content of African American Studies The text and readings included here not only impart information but seek as their foremost goal to precipitate in the reader an awareness of the complex and changing character of the African American experience its origins developments and future challenges The book aims to engage readers in the critical analysis of a broad spectrum of subjects themes and issues ancient and medieval Africa Western European domination and African enslavement resistance to oppression African American expressive culture family and educational policies economic and political matters and the importance of ideas The materials included in this anthology comprise a discussion of some of the fundamental problems and prospects related to the African American experience that deserve attention in a course in African American Studies African American Studies is a broad field concerned with the examination of the black experience both historically and presently Hence the subjects themes and issues included in this text transcend the narrow confines of traditional academic disciplinary boundaries In selecting materials for this book Floyd W Hayes was guided by a developmental or historical approach in the general compilation of each section s readings By doing so the author hopes that the reader will be enabled to arrive at a critical understanding of the conditions and forces that have influenced the African American experience A Collegiate Press book The Politics of Black Empowerment James Jennings, 2000-01-08 The Politics of Black Empowerment uses the experiences of grassroots activists to develop various conceptualizations and explanations of Black political behavior today In analyzing Black politics since the late 1960s James Jennings focuses on both the behavioral aspects such as individual and group characteristics of voting and nonvoting and elections as well as more fundamental philosophical and cultural questions regarding Black politics This study examines how the traditional face of Black politics and electoral activism interacts with a growing progressive face of Black politics While traditional Black political activists seek access or political incorporation another group aims for power sharing The traditional approach is sometimes satisfied with merely replacing white politicians with Blacks but the progressive constituency focuses on fundamentally changing the whole economic and political pie Activists desirous of Black empowerment are pursuing a political and economic orientation that goes beyond programs based on access to American institutional arrangements and attempting to change or alter given political arrangements and social relations between

Blacks and whites on the basis of changing the social structure and the distribution of wealth and power Based on interviews with Black and Latino activists in several big cities as well as on a review of the literature and the Black newspapers around the country The Politics of Black Empowerment describes the characteristics of Black empowerment activism in America
