Suppes,2022-06-07 As people migrate they face the need to create a stable space within a disconcertingly unfamiliar environment This experience of creating new spaces opens opportunities for positive transcultural connections however these opportunities can also serve as the disciplining of the migrant body This text focuses on the movement of bodies in transnational communities and the formation of domestic and communal spaces that provide respite from migratory paths negotiate transnational relationships or establish a new home In doing so we explore literary texts that question challenge and deepen our understanding of the experience of migration through the use of space and place The texts in question examine three levels of transnational spaces intimate spaces such as family personal growth or sexuality inherited spaces reflected in generational conflicts religious identity and inherited histories and national spaces that look at issues of broader national identities The texts we examine engage with transnational communities within the United States and the ways in which narratives reimagine new space to negotiate change and create new norms These narratives can sometimes bridge both cultures or can sometimes result in a violent sense of displacement Each chapter problematizes a different aspect of transcultural adaptation and the geographic ties of each community focus reflect the multicultural reality of the U S with connections to Asia the Caribbean Europe the Middle East and Latin America Essays in Cuban Intellectual History R.

Rojas,2008-03-17 Well known essayist and Cuban historian Rafael Rojas presents a collection of his best work one which focuses on and offers alternatives to the central myths that have organized Cuban culture from the nineteenth century to the present Rojas explores the most important themes of Cuban intellectual history including the legacy of Jos Mart the cultural effect of the war in 1898 the construction of a national canon of Cuban literature the works of classical intellectuals of the republican period the literary magazine Or genes the ideological impact of the Cuban Revolution and the possibilities of a democratic transition in the island at the beginning of the twenty firstcentury Culture and the Cuban State Yvon

Grenier,2017-11-08 Culture and the Cuban State examines the politics of culture in communist Cuba It focuses on cultural policy censorship and the political participation of artists writers and academics such as Tania Bruguera Jes s D az Rafael Hern ndez Kcho Reynier Leyva Novo Leonardo Padura and Jos Toirac The cultural field is important for the reproduction of the regime in place given its pretense and ambition to be eternally revolutionary and to lead a genuine cultural revolution Cultural actors must be mobilized and handled with care given their presumed disposition to speak their mind and to cherish their autonomy This book argues that cultural actors also seek recognition by the main for a long time the only sponsor and patron of the art in Cuba the curator state The curator state is also a gatekeeper state arbitrarily and selectively opening and closing the space for public expression and for access to foreign currencies and the global market The time when everything was either mandatory or forbidden is over in Cuba The regime seems to have learned from egregious mistakes that led to a massive exodus of artists writers and academics In a country where things change so everything could stay the same the controlled opening in the cultural field playing on the actors ambition and fear illuminates a broader phenomenon the evolving rules of the political game in the longest standing dictatorship of the hemisphere
