Remembering Garden:

The Remembering Garden Rosanne Sanders, 1980 Remembering Edward S. Casey, 2009-09-15 Remembering A Phenomenological Study Second Edition Edward S Casey A pioneering investigation of the multiple ways of remembering and the difference that memory makes in our daily lives A Choice Outstanding Academic Book An excellent book that provides an in depth phenomenological and philosophical study of memory Choice a stunning revelation of the pervasiveness of memory in our lives Contemporary Psychology Remembering presents a study of remembering that is fondly attentive to its rich diversity its intricacy of structure and detail and its wide ranging efficacy in our everyday life world experience genuinely pioneering it ranges far beyond what established traditions in philosophy and psychology have generally taken the functions and especially the limits of memory to be The Humanistic Psychologist Edward S Casey provides a thorough description of the varieties of human memory including recognizing and reminding reminiscing and commemorating body memory and place memory The preface to the new edition extends the scope of the original text to include issues of collective memory forgetting and traumatic memory and aligns this book with Casey s newest work on place and space This ambitious study demonstrates that nothing in our lives is unaffected by remembering Studies in Continental Thought John Sallis general editor Contents Preface to the Second Edition Introduction Remembering Forgotten The Amnesia of Anamnesis Part One Keeping Memory in Mind First Forays Eidetic Features Remembering as Intentional Act Phase Remembering as Intentional Object Phase Part Two Mnemonic Modes Prologue Reminding Reminiscing Recognizing Coda Part Three Pursuing Memory beyond Mind Prologue Body Memory Place Memory Commemoration Coda Part Four Remembering Remembered The Thick Autonomy of Memory Freedom in Remembering Remembering, Forgetting and City Builders Haim Yacobi, 2016-04-08 Remembering Forgetting and City Builders critically explores how urban spaces are designed planned and experienced in relation to the politics of collective and personal memory construction Bringing together case studies from North America South Asia Eastern Europe and the Middle East the book analyzes how contested national ethnic and cultural sentiments clash in planning and experiencing urban spaces Going beyond the claim that such situations exist in many parts of the world because communities construct their past memories within their current daily life and future aspirations the book explores how the very acts of planning and urban design are rooted in the existing structures of hegemonic power With contributors from the fields of architecture geography planning anthropology and sociology urban studies and cultural studies the book provides a rich interdisciplinary view into the conflicts over memory and belonging which are spatially expressed and mediated through the official planning apparatus Remembering Dexter Brian L. Porter, 2022-01-02 After being thrown out from a moving car on a motorway and rescued from the dog pound by Brian Porter and his wife Dexter had a happy life in their family of rescue dogs On the 8th June 2019 Dexter a Labrador Staffy Crossbreed passed away after a year long fight against illness Part funny part serious and part tragic this is the story of Dexter s life Remembering You

Andrea Notman,2011-07-08 Death and grief are not about forgetting but about finding ways to remember Sharing memories and talking about your child enables you to keep their memory alive and validate their existence Memories can be found everywhere and by taking an active part in creating ways to remember you can turn your memories into cherished possessions Finding ways to remember can help you through the healing process and bring comfort when you need it most Remembering you gives you practical advice on creating treasured memories and provides a guide for friends and families who wish to support bereaved parents

Remembering Dixie Susan T. Falck,2019-08-23 Nearly seventy years after the Civil War Natchez Mississippi sold itself to Depression era tourists as a place Where the Old South Still Lives Tourists flocked to view the town s decaying antebellum mansions hoopskirted hostesses and a pageant saturated in sentimental Lost Cause imagery In Remembering Dixie The Battle to Control Historical Memory in Natchez Mississippi 1865 1941 Susan T Falck analyzes how the highly biased white historical memories of what had been a wealthy southern hub originated from the experiences and hardships of the Civil War These collective narratives eventually culminated in a heritage tourism enterprise still in business today Additionally the book includes new research on the African American community s robust efforts to build historical tradition most notably the ways in which African Americans in Natchez worked to create a distinctive postemancipation identity that challenged the dominant white structure Using a wide range of late nineteenth and early twentieth century sources many of which have never been fully mined before Falck reveals the ways in which black and white Natchezians of all classes male and female embraced reinterpreted and contested Lost Cause ideology These memory making struggles resulted in emotional internecine conflicts that shaped the cultural character of the community and impacted the national understanding of the Old South and the Confederacy as popular culture Natchez remains relevant today as a microcosm for our nation s modern day struggles with Lost Cause ideology Confederate monuments racism and white supremacy Falck reveals how this remarkable story played out in one important southern community over several generations in vivid detail and richly illustrated analysis

Domestic Wild: Memory, Nature and Gardening in Suburbia Franklin Ginn,2016-06-23 In Domestic Wild Franklin Ginn sets out to find a new sense of the wild at the heart of modernity Inspired by experienced skilful gardeners Ginn analyses what happens when plants animals and people meet in the suburbs of London Weaving major theories of landscape memory and nonhuman subjectivity with the practical wisdom of gardeners this book offers a radical new account of everyday gardening Amid spectacular horizons of planetary loss Domestic Wild argues that gardening offers a means to cultivate a renewed sense of intimacy with nature and ourselves

Dorothy Richardson's 'Art of Memory' Elisabeth Bronfen,2024-07-30 Addresses the question of how identity is formed as a result of corporeal and cultural positioning by mapping Dorothy Richardson s early modernist text Pilgrimage against our postmodern interest in real and imagined geographies

Aspects of Time and Memory in Literature for Children and Young Adults Tzina Kalogirou,Dorota Michulka,2025-02-07 This volume offers a wide variety of theoretical and critical reflections on the ways that different aspects of time and memory are deployed in literature and media for children and young adults that are related to historically and regionally contingent concepts of childhood from picturebooks to cross over and young adult novels from classic children's literature to adaptations of fairy tales and from musical adaptations to films The interface of the two concepts in question is explored through a range of diverse writers texts and cultural traditions across the 19th to 21st centuries The collection addresses key topics in modern critical theory and children's literature criticism such as the imaginative reconstruction of the past the depiction of time and time objects in picturebooks the notions of traumatic memory and post memory in literature It also considers how texts work as sites of memory by referring to and thus revisiting challenging or reinterpreting older genres

The Art of Remembering Yat Ming Loo, Hua Li, Jing Xie, Eugenio Mangi, 2024-05-31 Focusing on the non Western context and case studies this book explores theories of interdisciplinary architectural thinking and the construction of urban memory in Chinese cities with an emphasis on contemporary architecture and the diversity of agencies China has undergone one of the fastest urbanisation and urban renewal processes in human history but discussions of urban memory in China have tended to be practice oriented and lack theoretical reflection This book brings together interdisciplinary architectural scholarship to interrogate the production of urban memory and examine experiences in China The 14 chapters explore different processes projects materials architecture and urban spaces in different Chinese cities by analysing cityscapes such as temples bridges conservation projects architectural design historical architecture memorial hall market street city images custom bike food market and so on The book deals with different agencies and methods tangible and intangible in the construction of memories aimed at promoting hybridised multiple identities and explores the interplay of different versions of memory i.e. state public regional local individual and collective memory This book will be essential reading for scholars and students of architecture and urbanism cultural studies and China studies as well as architects urban planners and historians interested in these fields

The ^AUnfinished Bombing Edward T. Linenthal, 2003-05-01 On April 19 1995 the bombing of the Alfred P Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City shook the nation destroying our complacent sense of safety and sending a community into a tailspin of shock grief and bewilderment Almost as difficult as the bombing itself has been the aftermath its legacy for Oklahoma City and for the nation and the struggle to recover from this unprecedented attack In The Unfinished Bombing Edward T Linenthal explores the many ways Oklahomans and other Americans have tried to grapple with this catastrophe Working with exclusive access to materials gathered by the Oklahoma City National Memorial Archive and drawing from over 150 personal interviews with family members of those murdered survivors rescuers and many others Linenthal looks at how the bombing threatened cherished ideas about American innocence sparked national debate on how to respond to terrorism at home and abroad and engendered a new bereaved community in Oklahoma City itself Linenthal examines how different stories about the bombing were told through positive narratives of civic renewal and of religious redemption and more negative narratives of toxicity and trauma He writes about the extraordinary bonds of affection that were created in the wake of the bombing acts of kindness empathy and compassion that existed alongside the toxic legacy of the event The Unfinished Bombing offers a compelling look at both the individual and the larger cultural consequences of one of the most searing events in recent American history

Memory's Daughters Susan Stabile, 2018-09-05 A renowned literary coterie in eighteenth century Philadelphia Elizabeth Fergusson Hannah Griffiths Deborah Logan Annis Stockton and Susanna Wright wrote and exchanged thousands of poems and maintained elaborate handwritten commonplace books of memorabilia Through their creativity and celebrated hospitality they initiated a salon culture in their great country houses in the Delaware Valley In this stunningly original and heavily illustrated book Susan M Stabile shows that these female writers sought to memorialize their lives and aesthetic experience a purpose that stands in marked contrast to the civic concerns of male authors in the republican era Drawing equally on material culture and literary history Stabile discusses how the group used their writings to explore and at times replicate the arrangement of their material possessions including desks writing paraphernalia mirrors miniatures beds and coffins As she reconstructs the poetics of memory that informed the women's lives and structured their manuscripts Stabile focuses on vernacular architecture penmanship souvenir collecting and mourning Empirically rich and nuanced in its readings of different kinds of artifacts this engaging work tells of the erasure of the women's lives from the national memory as the feminine aesthetic of scribal publication was overshadowed by the proliferating print culture of late eighteenth century America

Remembering the Cultural Geographies of a Childhood Home Peter Hughes Jachimiak, 2016-04-08 Using an innovative auto ethnographic approach to investigate the otherness of the places that make up the childhood home and its neighbourhood in relation to memory derived and memory imbued cultural geographies Remembering the Cultural Geographies of a Childhood Home is concerned with childhood spaces and children's perspectives of those spaces and consequentially with the personalised locations that make up the childhood family home and its immediate surroundings such as the garden the street etc Whilst this book is primarily structured by the author's memories of living in his own Welsh childhood home during the 1970s that is the auto ethnographic framework it is as much about living anywhere amid the remembered cultural remnants of the past as it is immersing oneself in cultural geographies of the here and now As a result Remembering the Cultural Geographies of a Childhood Home is part of the ongoing pursuit by cultural geographers to provide a personal exploration of the pluralities of shared landscapes whereby such an engagement with space and place aid our construction of cognitive maps of meaning that in turn manifest themselves as both individual and collective cultural experiences Furthermore touching upon our co habiting of ghost topologies Remembering the Cultural Geographies of a Childhood Home also encourages a critical exploration of children's spirituality amid the haunted cultural and geographical spaces and places of a house and its neighbourhood the cellar hallway parlour stairs bedroom attic shops cemeteries and so on backyard of an inner urban home or a capital city's sprawling botanic garden. Australians have long desired a patch of dirt to plough or enjoy. Reading the garden explores our deep affection for gardens and gardening and illuminates their numerous meanings and uses from European settlement to the late twentieth century. Cover Garden for Health Olivia Parker, AI, 2025-02-14. Garden for Health explores the powerful connection between gardening and well-being, demonstrating how even short sessions can significantly boost physical and mental health. It delves into the tangible benefits such as improved strength and cardiovascular health alongside mental advantages like stress reduction and mood enhancement. The book emphasizes that gardening is a uniquely beneficial pursuit because it combines physical activity with mental relaxation. Scientific studies are now quantifying the wide array of health benefits supporting what gardeners have known for ages. The book approaches the topic by first introducing horticultural therapy and then detailing the physical advantages, including increased vitamin D and calorie expenditure. It further concentrates on mental health benefits like how gardening can reduce cortisol levels and promote mindfulness. Garden for Health culminates by showing readers how to easily incorporate gardening into daily routines regardless of space or expertise. This makes it valuable for anyone seeking a sustainable enjoyable path to wellness. Earthly Utopias Yolanda Zappaterra, 2024-09-03. Earthly Utopias is a visual tour of the best religious and spiritual gardens around the world. The Garden, 1902 Place and Memory in the Singing Crane Garden Vera Schwarcz, 2014-11-05. The Singing Crane Garden in northwest Beijing has a history dense with classical artistic vision, educational experimentation, political struggle, and tragic suffering. Built by the Manchu prince Mianyu in the mid-nineteenth century, the garden was intended to serve as a refuge from the clutter of daily life near the Forbidden City. In 1860 during the Anglo-French war in China, the garden was destroyed. One hundred years later, in the 1960s, the garden served as the ox pens where dissident university professors were imprisoned during the Cultural Revolution. Peaceful Western involvement began in 1986 when ground was broken for the Arthur Sackler Museum of Art and Archaeology. Completed in 1993, the museum and the Jillian Sackler Sculpture Garden stand on the same grounds today. In Place and Memory in the Singing Crane Garden, Vera Schwarcz gives voice to this richly layered corner of China's cultural landscape. Drawing upon a range of sources from poetry to painting, Schwarcz retells the garden's complex history in her own poetic and personal voice. In her exploration of cultural survival, trauma, memory, and place, she reveals how the garden becomes a vehicle for reflection about history and language. Encyclopedic in conception and artistic in execution, Place and Memory in the Singing Crane Garden is a powerful work that shows how memory and ruins can revive the spirit of individuals and cultures alike. Grieving Pregnancy Maureen L. Walsh, 2025. Grieving Pregnancy compares contemporary American Catholic and Japanese Buddhist memorial practices focused on miscarriage, stillbirth, and abortion. Maureen L. Walsh demonstrates that while the memorial practices confront the same basic problem—that is, pregnancy loss—they conceive of the problem in different terms and as a result propose distinct responses to it. Remembering the Forgotten Merton William J. Meegan, 2023-02-08. This is the first book written about John Paul Merton Thomas Merton's younger brother Neither scholar nor saint the life of John Paul Merton illustrates there is more than one way to live a meaningful and holy life His was a quietly incubating spirituality guided by his law of love He began life singing in a crib and ended his life praying as he lay dying in a dinghy in the English Channel during World War II This book examines the relationship he had with his famous brother Thomas especially in the years before Tom became a monk It examines among other topics the relationship between Thomas the intellectual and John Paul the action oriented younger brother As a teenager John Paul earned the nickname Wildman and as an adult he learned to live life to the fullest on his own terms The bumps and bruises of his life orphaned at twelve years of age dismissed from Cornell without his degree and frustrated in his effort to serve in World War II as a fighter pilot were faced head on He lived life as an optimist without losing sight of the reality of his world Most importantly John Paul's journey of hidden holiness can inspire each of us as we too journey onward
