Bookman's Weekly, 1997 Terminal Identity Scott Bukatman, 1993 Scott Bukatman's Terminal Identity referring to both the site of the termination of the conventional subject and the birth of a new subjectivity constructed at the computer terminal or television screen puts to rest any lingering doubts of the significance of science fiction in contemporary cultural studies Demonstrating a comprehensive knowledge both of the history of science fiction narrative from its earliest origins and of cultural theory and philosophy Bukatman redefines the nature of human identity in the Information Age Drawing on a wide range of contemporary theories of the postmodern including Fredric Jameson Donna Haraway and Jean Baudrillard Bukatman begins with the proposition that Western culture is suffering a crisis brought on by advanced electronic technologies Then in a series of chapters richly supported by analyses of literary texts visual arts film video television comics computer games and graphics Bukatman takes the reader on an odyssey that traces the postmodern subject from its current crisis through its close encounters with technology and finally to new self recognition This new virtual subject as Bukatman defines it situates the human and the technological as coexistent codependent and mutually defining Synthesizing the most provocative theories of postmodern culture with a truly encyclopedic treatment of the relevant media this volume sets a new standard in the study of science fiction a category that itself may be redefined in light of this work Bukatman not only offers the most detailed map to date of the intellectual terrain of postmodern technology studies he arrives at new frontiers providing a propitious launching point for further inquiries into the relationship of electronic technology and culture

Virtual Geographies Mike Crang, Phil Crang, Jon May, 2013-04-15 This book examines the interrelationship between telecommunications and tourism in shaping the nature of space place and the urban at the end of the twentieth century They discuss how these agents are instrumental in the production of homogenous world spaces and how these in turn presuppose new kinds of political and cultural identity Virtual Geographies explores how new communication technologies are being used to produce new geographies and new types of space Leading contributors from a wide range of disciplines including geography sociology philosophy and literature investigate how visions of cyberspace have been constructed offer a critical assessment of the status of virtual environments and geographies explore how virtual environments reshape the way we think and write about the world This book sets recent technological developments in a historical and geographical perspective to offer a clearer view of the new vistas ahead

An Introduction to Cybercultures David Bell, 2006-09-07 An Introduction to Cybercultures provides an accessible guide to the major forms practices and meanings of this rapidly growing field From the evolution of hardware and software to the emergence of cyberpunk film and fiction David Bell introduces readers to the key aspects of cyberculture including email the internet digital imaging technologies computer games and digital special effects Each chapter contains hot links to key articles in its companion volume The Cybercultures Reader suggestions for further reading and details of relevant websites Individual chapters examine Cybercultures an introduction Storying cyberspace Cultural Studies in cyberspace Community and cyberculture Identities in cyberculture Bodies in cyberculture Cybersubcultures Researching cybercultures

Lost in Space Rob Kitchin, James Kneale, 2005-10-23 Science fiction one of the most popular literary cinematic and televisual genres has received increasing academic attention in recent years For many theorists science fiction opens up a space in which the here and now can be made strange or remade where virtual reality and cyborg are no longer gimmicks or predictions but new spaces and subjects Lost in space brings together an international collection of authors to explore the diverse geographies of spaceexploring imagination nature scale geopolitics modernity time identity the body power relations and the representation of space The essays explore the writings of a broad selection of writers including J G Ballard Frank Herbert Marge Piercy Kim Stanley Robinson Mary Shelley and Neal Stephenson and films from Bladerunner to Dark City The Fly The Invisible Man and Metropolis

Shierley Sterling Williams and of course Gibson setting their work in the context of science fiction other literary genres genre cinema from Metropolis to Terminator to The Matrix and contemporary work on the culture of technology Book Finds, 3rd Edition Ian C. Ellis, 2006-03-07 For the experienced collector or someone embarking on a new hobby this newly revised and updated edition of Book Finds reveals the secrets of locating rare and valuable books Includes information on first editions and reader's copies auctions and catalogs avoiding costly and common beginner mistakes strategies of professional book scouts and buying and selling on the Internet Gothic Vision Dani Cavallaro, 2002-08-01 The Gothic Vision examines a broad range of tales of horror terror the uncanny and the supernatural spanning the late eighteenth century to the present and of related theoretical approaches to the realm of dark writing It argues that such narratives are objects for historical analysis due to their implication in specific ideologies while also focusing on the recurrence over time of themes of physical and psychological disintegration spectrality and monstrosity This is an excellent overview of a genre that is increasingly studied in literature film and cultural studies courses Digital Gameplay Nate Garrelts, 2014-09-17 In recent years computer technology has permeated all aspects of life not just work and education but also leisure time Increasingly digital games are the way we play This volume addresses the world of digital games with special emphasis on the role and input of the gamer In fifteen essays the contributors discuss the various ways the game player interacts with the game The first half of the book considers the physical and mental aspects of digital game play The second section concentrates on other factors that influence play Essays cover the full range of digital gaming including computer and video games Topics include several detailed investigations of particular often controversial games such as Grand Theft Auto Vice City as well as a consideration of the ways in which game playing crosses socioeconomic age gender and racial lines The concluding essays discuss scholars' perceptions of digital media and efforts to frame them Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Beyond Cyberpunk Graham J. Murphy, Sherryl Vint, 2010-06-10 This book is a collection of essays that considers the continuing cultural relevance of the cyberpunk genre into the new millennium Cyberpunk is no longer an emergent phenomenon but in our digital age of CGI driven entertainment the information economy and globalized capital we have never more been in need of a fiction capable of engaging with a world shaped by information technology The essays in Beyond Cyberpunk explore our cyberpunk realities to soberly reconsider Eighties era cyberpunk while also mapping contemporary cyberpunk The contributors seek to move beyond the narrow strictures of cyberpunk as defined in the Eighties and contribute to an ongoing discussion of how to negotiate exchanges among information technologies global capitalism and human social existence The essays offer a variety of perspectives on cyberpunk's diversity and how this sub genre remains relevant amidst its transformation from a print fiction genre into a more generalized set of cultural practices tackling the question of what it is that cyberpunk narratives continue to offer us in those intersections of literary cultural theoretical academic and technocultural environments Queer Universes Wendy Gay Pearson, Veronica Hollinger, Joan Gordon, 2008-03-01 Contestations over the meaning and practice of sexuality have become increasingly central to cultural self definition and critical debates over issues of identity citizenship and the definition of humanity itself In an era when a religious authority can declare lesbians antihuman while some nations legalise same sex marriage and are becoming increasingly tolerant of a variety of non normative sexualities it is hardly surprising that science fiction in turn takes up the task of imagining a diverse range of queer and not so queer futures The essays in Queer Universes investigate both contemporary and historical practices of representing sexualities and genders in science fiction literature Queer Universes opens with Wendy Pearson's award winning essay on reading sf queerly and goes on to include discussions about sextrapolation in New Wave science fiction stray penetration in William Gibson's cyberpunk fiction the queering of nature in ecofeminist science fiction and the radical challenges posed to conventional science fiction in the work of important writers such as Samuel R Delany Ursula K Le Guin and Joanna Russ In addition Queer Universes offers an interview with Nalo Hopkinson and a conversation about queer lives and queer fictions by authors Nicola Griffith and Kelley Eskridge
