Browne, 2010-01-01 What do the trickster Rabbit slave descendants off the books economies and French citizens have to do with each other Plenty says Katherine Browne in her anthropological investigation of the informal economy in the Caribbean island of Martinique She begins with a question Why after more than three hundred years as colonial subjects of France did the residents of Martinique opt in 1946 to integrate fully with France the very nation that had enslaved their ancestors The author suggests that the choice to decline sovereignty reflects the same

The Anthropology of Love and

Anger Joanna Overing, Alan Passes, 2002-01-04 The Anthropology of Love and Anger questions the very foundations of western sociological thought In their examination of indigenous peoples from across the South American continent the contributors to this volume have come to realise that western thought does not possess the vocabulary to define even the fundamentals of indigenous thought and practice The dualisms of public and private political and domestic individual and collective even male and female in which western anthropology was founded cannot legitimately be applied to peoples whose sociality is based on an aesthetics of community For indigenous people success is measured by the extent to which conviviality all that is peaceful harmonious and sociable has been attained Yet conviviality is not just reliant on love and good but instead on an even balance between all that is constructive love and all that is destructive anger With case studies from across the South American region ranging from the so called fierce Yanomami of Venezuela and Brazil to the Enxet of Paraguay and with discussions on topics from the efficacy of laughter the role of language anger as a marker of love and even homesickness The Anthropology of Love and Anger is a seminal fascinating work which should be read by all students and academics in the post colonial world

Postethnic Narrative Criticism Frederick Luis Aldama, 2009-09-15 Magical realism has become almost synonymous with Latin American fiction but this way of representing the layered and often contradictory reality of the topsy turvy late capitalist globalizing world finds equally vivid expression in U S multiethnic and British postcolonial literature and film Writers and filmmakers such as Oscar Zeta Acosta Ana Castillo Julie Dash Hanif Kureishi and Salman Rushdie have made brilliant use of magical realism to articulate the trauma of dislocation and the legacies of colonialism that people of color experience in the postcolonial multiethnic world This book seeks to redeem and refine the theory of magical realism in U S multiethnic and British postcolonial literature and film Frederick Aldama engages in theoretically sophisticated readings of Ana Castillo's So Far from God Oscar Zeta Acosta's Autobiography of a Brown Buffalo Salman Rushdie's Midnight's Children Shame The Satanic Verses and The Moor's Last Sigh Julie Dash's Daughters of the Dust and Stephen Frears and Hanif Kureishi's Sammy and Rosie Get Laid Coining the term magicorealism to characterize these works Aldama not only creates a postethnic critical methodology for enlarging the contact zone between the genres of novel film and autobiography but also shatters the interpretive lens that traditionally confuses the transcription of the real world where truth and falsity apply with narrative modes governed by other criteria

Derek Walcott and the Creation of a Classical Caribbean Justine McConnell, 2023-05-18 Throughout his career Derek Walcott turned to the literature and cultures of ancient Greece and Rome His book length poem recasting the epics of Homer Virgil and Dante in St Lucia is best known in this regard yet Omeros is only the pinnacle of a lengthy and lively dialogue that Walcott developed between the ancient Mediterranean and the modern Caribbean Derek Walcott and the Creation of a Classical Caribbean explores how in developing that discourse between ancient and modern between Europe and the Caribbean Walcott refuted the suggestion that to engage with literature from elsewhere was to lack originality instead he asserted a place for Caribbean art in a global transhistorical canon Drawing on Walcott's own theoretical concerns this book explores his engagement with Graeco Roman antiquity from three key perspectives Firstly that a perception of time as linear must be coupled with an understanding of it as simultaneous thereby doing away with the oppressive power of history and confirming the New World on a par with the Old Secondly that syncretism lies at the heart of Caribbean life and art with influences from Africa Asia and Europe constituting key parts of Caribbean identity alongside its indigenous cultures Thirdly that Caribbean literature creates the world anew without erasing the past With these three postcolonial conceptions at the heart of his engagement with ancient Greece and Rome Walcott revealed the reasons why classical reception has been a rich facet of Caribbean artistry
