Thrillers and the 1930s Brian Diemert,1996 In Graham Greene's Thrillers and the 1930s Brian Diemert examines the first and most prolific phase of Graham Greene's career demonstrating the close relationship between Greene's fiction and the political economic social and literary contexts of the period Situating Greene alongside other young writers who responded to the worsening political climate of the 1930s by promoting social and political reform Diemert argues that Greene believed literature could not be divorced from its social and political milieu and saw popular forms of writing as the best way to inform a wide audience Diemert traces Greene's adaptation of nineteenth century romance thrillers and classical detective stories into modern political thrillers as a means of presenting serious concerns in an engaging fashion He argues that Greene's popular thrillers were in part a reaction to the high modernism of writers such as James Joyce Gertrude Stein and Virginia Woolf whose esoteric experiments with language were disengaged from immediate social concerns and inaccessible to a large segment of the reading public Postmodern Fiction and the Break-Up of Britain Hywel Dix,2011-11-03 A monograph analysing the symbolic role played by contemporary fiction in the break up of political and cultural consensus in British public life The Third Spring Adam Schwartz,2005-02 This book is the first detailed examination of these four authors as part of a Roman Catholic counter modern community of discourse It is informed by extensive research in the writers works scholarship on them and their personal papers André Maurois (1885-1967) J. Gossman,2014-01-13 Respected by his peers and hugely successful internationally in his own time Andr Maurois is now hardly read Moderate and conciliatory in everything including his literary style he appealed to the educated reader of his time but did those very qualities prevent him from achieving lasting distinction and impact Keynes, Bloomsbury and The General Theory Piero V. Mini,1991-06-18 An examination of the values and outlook of John Maynard Keynes as influenced by his experiences at Eton and Cambridge and by G E Moore and Bloomsbury The author traces Keynes rejection of Bentham's ideas and the genesis of The General Theory Keynes blueprint for cultural reconstruction The Sphinx of Bloomsbury Zsuzsa Rawlinson,2006 The focus of this book is on Lytton Strachey's literary critical essays and his major biographies By placing his work in the broader context of the Modernist canon it aims to offer a complete yet far from definitive picture of the writer who wrote the first book of the twenties Joseph Conrad Bruce Teets,2020-04-30 Originally published in 1990 this is a comprehensive and annotated bibliography of the writings on Joseph Conrad and his works Covering the years from 1895 to 1975 it also includes indexes of authors secondary works periodicals and newspapers foreign languages and primary titles Part of a series of annotated bibliographies on English Literature in Transition 1880 1920 this will be a valuable resource for students of literature

Virginia Woolf Thomas Jackson Rice, 2018-02-21 Originally published in 1984 Virginia Woolf Guide to Research is a bibliographic guide to the writings and critical reception of the works of Virginia Woolf The guide is a simply organized guide that makes easily accessible a diversified body of critical works on Virginia Woolf The scholarship is organised into key collections based around Woolf's major works of fiction and contains studies from a variety of content including periodicals articles book chapters as well as foreign language books Katherine Mansfield and Literary Impressionism Julia van Gunsteren, 1990 Catalog of Copyright Entries.
