Prophetic Rivalry, Gender, and Economics Olivia Stewart Lester, 2018-07-16 Olivia Stewart Lester examines true and false prophecy at the intersections of interpretation gender and economics in Revelation Sibylline Oracles 4 5 and contemporary ancient Mediterranean texts With respect to gender these texts construct a discourse of divine violence against prophets in which masculine divine domination of both male and female prophets reinforces the authenticity of the prophetic message Regarding economics John and the Jewish sibyllists resist the economic actions of political groups around them especially Rome by imagining an alternate universe with a new prophetic economy In this economy God requires restitution from human beings whose evil behavior incurs debt The ongoing appeal of prophecy as a rhetorical strategy in Revelation and Sibylline Oracles 4 5 and the ongoing rivalries in which these texts engage argue for prophecy's continuing significance in a larger ancient Mediterranean religious context

Richardson, 2015-05-19 In New Perspectives on Old Testament Prophecy and History colleagues students and friends of Hans M Barstad offer essays in honour of his esteemed career in biblical studies Contributions on prophecy include the debate on prophets as historical figures the biblical books of Isaiah Ezekiel Hosea Amos and Micah and issues of methodology and interpretation Essays devoted to history address various historiographic issues as well as specific historical topics such as the monarchy in ancient Israel the relationship of Judah to Edom and the ritual of reading the law In ways that reflect Hans Barstad's innovative insights and methodological critiques this collection of essays probes beyond the oft trodden paths of biblical studies and challenges the status quo within the field

Forgery and Counterforgery Bart D. Ehrman, 2012-12-07 Arguably the most distinctive feature of the early Christian literature writes Bart Ehrman is the degree to which it was forged The Homilies and Recognitions of Clement Paul's letters to and from Seneca Gospels by Peter Thomas and Philip Jesus correspondence with

Abgar letters by Peter and Paul in the New Testament all forgeries To cite just a few examples Forgery and Counterforgery is the first comprehensive study of early Christian pseudepigrapha ever produced in English In it Ehrman argues that ancient critics pagan Jewish and Christian understood false authorial claims to be a form of literary deceit and thus forgeries Ehrman considers the extent of the phenomenon the intention and motivations of ancient Greek Roman and Jewish forgers and reactions to their work once detected He also assesses the criteria ancient critics applied to expose forgeries and the techniques forgers used to avoid detection With the wider practices of the ancient world as backdrop Ehrman then focuses on early Christian polemics as various Christian authors forged documents in order to lend their ideas a veneer of authority in literary battles waged with pagans Jews and most importantly with one another in internecine disputes over doctrine and practice In some instances a forger directed his work against views found in another forgery creating thereby a counter forgery Ehrman s evaluation of polemical forgeries starts with those of the New Testament nearly half of whose books make a false authorial claim up through the Pseudo Ignatian epistles and the Apostolic Constitutions at the end of the fourth century Shining light on an important but overlooked feature of the early Christian world Forgery and Counterforgery explores the possible motivations of the deceivers who produced these writings situating their practice within ancient Christian discourses on lying and deceit

Fake Prophecy and Polluted Sacraments William Tabbernee,2007 Fake Prophecy and Polluted Sacraments is an insightful case study of the opposition to Montanism an early Christian prophetic movement by Church and State both before and after catholic Christianity became the official religion of the Roman Empire Heinrich Bullinger on Prophecy and the Prophetic Office (1523-1538) Daniël Timmerman,2015-02-18 It has often been noted that the Protestant Reformation of the early sixteenth century witnessed a revived interest in the scriptural notions of prophets and prophecy Drawing from both late medieval apocalyptic expectations of the immanent end of the world and from a humanist revival of biblical studies the prophet appeared to many as a suitable role model for the Protestant preacher A prominent proponent of this prophetic model was the Swiss theologian and church leader Heinrich Bullinger 1504 1575 This study by Daniël Timmerman presents the first in depth investigation of Bullinger s concept of prophecy and his understanding of the prophetic office It also engages with the history of the Zurich institute for the study of the Scriptures which has become widely known as the Prophezei The Prophecies of Daniel and the Revelations of St. John, Viewed in Their Mutual Relation ... With an Appendix, by M. Fr. Roos. Translated by the Rev. Adolph Saphir Carl August AUBERLEN,1856

A Monastic Renaissance at St Albans James G. Clark,2004-12-09 A Monastic Renaissance at St Albans is a study of intellectual life at the abbey of St Albans one of Britain s greatest Benedictine monasteries during the lifetime of Thomas Walsingham c 1340 1422 one of the most prolific scholars of the later middle ages It has always been assumed that the monasteries fell into decline long before the dissolution and that cultural and intellectual activities were largely abandoned as the monks surrendered themselves to high living and low morals This study challenges this view Drawing on a wide variety of manuscript sources it shows that education independent study and even the co ordinated copying of books continued to flourish at St Albans and its affiliate houses for much of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries In fact the abbey emerged as one of the country s most influential centres of learning a clearing house for books and ideas in Ricardian and Lancastrian England Thomas Walsingham himself played a key part in this renaissance in monastic studies his works were copied and circulated throughout the St Albans network and his influence acted upon the next generation of monastic readers and writers Walsingham was not only a compiler of contemporary chronicles but also a Classical scholar of extraordinary originality His commentary on Ovid s Metamorphoses his re working of the histories of Alexander of Macedon and the Trojan War and his Genealogia deorum gentilium are discussed in detail here for the first time Walsingham s interest in the Classics was shared by many of his St Albans colleagues and they in turn were members of a wider circle of literary scholars which included the London schoolmaster John Seward The work of these scholars monastic and secular points towards a revival of Classical and literary scholarship in England long before Italian humanism and other traces of the continental Renaissance first found their way into the country

How Prophecy Works William L. Kelly,2019-12-09

There is a longstanding scholarly debate on the nature of prophecy in ancient Israel Until now no study has based itself on the semantics of the Hebrew lexeme n b prophet This investigation by William L Kelly discusses the nature and function of prophecy in the corpus of the Hebrew book of Jeremiah It analyses all occurrences of n b in Jeremiah and performs a close reading of three primary texts Jeremiah 1 4 19 23 9 40 and 27 1 28 17 The result is a detailed explanation of how prophecy works and what it meant to call someone a n b in ancient Israel Combining the results of the semantic analysis and close readings the study reaches conclusions for six main areas of study 1 the function and nature of prophecy 2 dreams and visions 3 being sent 4 prophets priests and cult 5 salvation and doom and 6 legitimacy and authority These conclusions explain the conceptual categories related to n b in the corpus I then situate these findings in two current debates one on the definition of n b and one on cultic prophecy This study contributes to critical scholarship on prophecy in the ancient world on the book of Jeremiah and on prophets in ancient Israel It is the first major study to analyse n b based on its semantic associations It adds to a growing consensus which understands prophecy as a form of divination Contrary to some trends in Jeremiah scholarship this work demonstrates the importance of a close reading of the Masoretic Hebrew text This study uses a method of a general nature which can be applied to other texts Thus there are significant implications for further research on prophecy and prophetic literature
