Postcolonial Postmortems , 2006-01-01 Recent crime fiction increasingly transcends national boundaries with investigators operating across countries and continents Frequently the detective is a migrant or comes from a transcultural background To solve the crime the investigator is called upon to decipher the meaning s hidden in clues and testimonies that require transcultural forms of understanding For the reader the investigation discloses new interpretive methods and processes of social investigation often challenging facile interpretations of the postcolonial world order Under the rubric postcolonial postmortems this collection of essays seeks to explore the tropes issues and themes that characterise this emergent form of crime fiction But what does the postcolonial bring to the genre apart from the well known and valid discourses of resistance subversion and ethnicity And why postmortems A dissection and medical examination of a body to determine the cause of death the postmortem of the postcolonial not only alludes to the investigation of the victim s remains but also to the body of the individual text and its contexts This collection interrogates literary concepts of postcoloniality and crime from transcultural perspectives in the attempt to offer new critical impulses to the study of crime fiction and postcolonial literatures International scholars offer insights into the postcolonial postmortems of a wide range of texts by authors from Africa South Asia the Asian and African Diaspora and Australia including Robert G Barrett Unity Dow Wessel Ebersohn Romesh Gunsekera Kazuo Ishiguro Sujata Massey Alexander McCall Smith and Michael Ondaatje Positioning Gender and Race in (Post)colonial Plantation Space E. Stoddard, 2012-11-09 Stoddard uses the Anglophone Caribbean and Ireland to examine the complex inflections of women and race as articulated in between the colonial discursive and material formations of the eighteenth century and those of the post colonial twentieth century as structured by the defined spaces of the colonizers estates The Black Atlantic

Reconsidered Winfried Siemerling, 2015-05-01 Readers are often surprised to learn that black writing in Canada is over two centuries old Ranging from letters editorials sermons and slave narratives to contemporary novels plays poetry and non fiction black Canadian writing represents a rich body of literary and cultural achievement The Black Atlantic Reconsidered is the first comprehensive work to explore black Canadian literature from its beginnings to the present in the broader context of the black Atlantic world Winfried Siemerling traces the evolution of black Canadian witnessing and writing from slave testimony in New France and the 1783 Book of Negroes through the work of contemporary black Canadian writers including George Elliott Clarke Austin Clarke Dionne Brand David Chariandy Wayne Compton Esi Edugyan Marlene Nourbae Philip and Lawrence Hill Arguing that black writing in Canada is deeply imbricated in a historic transnational network Siemerling explores the powerful presence of black Canadian history slavery and the Underground Railroad and the black diaspora in the work of these authors Individual chapters examine the literature that has emerged from Quebec Nova Scotia the Prairies and British Columbia with attention to writing in both English and French A major survey of black writing and cultural production The Black Atlantic Reconsidered brings into focus important works that shed light not only on Canada's literature and history but on the transatlantic black diaspora and modernity Blackening Canada Paul Barrett, 2015-04-30 Focusing on the work of black diasporic writers in Canada particularly Dionne Brand Austin Clarke and Tessa McWatt Blackening Canada investigates the manner in which literature can transform conceptions of nation and diaspora Through a consideration of literary representation public discourse and the language of political protest Paul Barrett argues that Canadian multiculturalism uniquely enables black diasporic writers to transform national literature and identity These writers seize upon the ambiguities and tensions within Canadian discourses of nation to rewrite the nation from a black diasporic perspective converting exclusion from the national discourse into the impetus for their creative endeavours Within this context Barrett suggests debates over who counts as Canadian the limits of tolerance and the breaking points of Canadian multiculturalism serve not as signs of multiculturalism's failure but as proof of both its vitality and of the unique challenges that black writing in Canada poses to multicultural politics and the nation itself A History of Canadian Fiction

David Staines,2021-08-05 The first one volume history of Canadian fiction covering its growth and development from earliest times to the present day Recounting the struggles and the glories of this burgeoning area of investigation it explains Canada's literary growth alongside its remarkable history      Afro-Greeks Emily Greenwood,2010-01-28 An exploration of the reception of Classics in the English speaking Caribbean Emily Greenwood argues that writers such as Kamau Brathwaite C L R James V S Naipaul and Derek Walcott have successfully adapted Classics to the cultural context of the Caribbean creating a distinctive tradition      African Migrations Ruth Breeze,Sarali Gintsburg,2023-11-16 For centuries the people of Africa have been on the move seeking new opportunities fleeing from dangers or tragically uprooted through human greed and cruelty In the twenty first century with over 40 million people migrating from and within Africa each year it is clear that migration still has a significant impact on every aspect of African life For this reason Sarali Gintsburg and Ruth Breeze in their new book African Migrations Traversing Hybrid Landscapes explore the hybrid landscapes of African migration and provide new insights into the complexity of migratory movements and migrant experiences associated with the African continent Taking the view that the only ecologically valid way to understand migration is by looking at it through the eyes of the migrants themselves the authors draw on a wide spectrum of first hand evidence from a multitude of sources including testimonies media artefacts workplace experiences interviews and ethnographic observations The contributors reflect on a wide array of themes linked to the African context such as diasporic mapping of landscapes hybridity heterotopia m tissage cultural mixing and complementation This book presents the African continent not only in its cultural diversity but also to cover the complex and wide trajectories of migrations to from and within Africa      'Membering Austin Clarke Paul Barrett,2020-11-24 Membering Austin Clarke reflects on the life and writing of Austin Clarke whose depictions of Black life in Canada enlarged our understanding of what Canadian literature looks like Despite being one of Canada's most widely published and most richly awarded writers Austin Clarke 1934-2016 is not a household name This collection addresses Clarke's marginalization in Canadian literature by demonstrating that his writing on Black diasporic life and the immigrant experience is a foundational if untold part of the story of CanLit Novelist short story writer poet and essayist Clarke was born in Barbados moved to Canada in 1955 and went on to establish Black Studies programs at a number of universities in America He returned to Canada and became one of Canadian literature's most prolific authors and a public voice for Black people in Canada Among his best known works are the Giller Award winning The Polished Hoe 2002 and his memoir Membering 2015 This collection of essays from colleagues scholars friends and fellow writers addresses Clarke's work in all its richness and complexity in order to understand how Clarke's legacy continues to transform Canadian writing It includes previously unpublished poems and short stories from Clarke's archives as well as personal reflections from friends histories of the publication of his works essays interviews and short stories and poems inspired by Clarke      General Catalog No. 5 Wm. Frankfurth Hardware Company,1917      Archaeology of the Central Mississippi Valley Dan F. Morse,Phyllis A.

Morse,2009-06-10 A classic work detailing an 11 000 year period of human culture within the largest river system of North America The earliest recorded description of the Central Mississippi Valley and its inhabitants is contained within the DeSoto chronicles written after the conquistadors passed through the area between 1539 and 1543 In 1882 a field agent for the Bureau of American Ethnology conducted the first systematic archaeological survey of the region an area that extends from near the mouth of the Ohio River to the mouth of the Arkansas River bounded on the east by the Mississippi River and on the west by the Ozark Highlands and Grand Prairie One hundred years later the authors produced this first comprehensive overview of all of the archaeological research conducted in the valley during the interim It is a well organized compendium written with both the professional archaeologist and the layperson in mind and is profusely illustrated with maps charts artifact photographs and drawings This volume was the first published history of the archaeology of the region and stands as the basic resource for that work today Feminism, Literature and Rape Narratives Sorcha Gunne,Zoe Brigley

Thompson,2012-08-06 The essays in this volume discuss narrative strategies employed by international writers when dealing with rape and sexual violence whether in fiction poetry memoir or drama In developing these new feminist readings of rape narratives the contributors aim to incorporate arguments about trauma and resistance in order to establish new dimensions of healing This book makes a vital contribution to the fields of literary studies and feminism since while other volumes have focused on retroactive portrayals of rape in literature to date none has focused entirely on the subversive work that is being done to retheorize sexual violence Split into four sections the volume considers sexual violence from a number of different angles Subverting the Story considers how the characters of the victim and rapist might be subverted in narratives of sexual violence In Metaphors for Resistance the essays explore how writers approach the subject of rape obliquely using metaphors to represent their suffering and pain The controversy of not speaking about sexual violence is the focus of The Protest of Silence while The Question of the Visual considers the problems of making sexual violence visible in the poetic image in film and on stage These four sections cover an impressive range of world writing which includes curriculum staples like Toni Morrison Sarah Kane Sandra Cisneros Yvonne Vera and Sharon Olds Odysseys Home George Elliott Clarke,2017-06-22 Odysseys Home Mapping African Canadian Literature is a pioneering study of African Canadian literary creativity laying the groundwork for future scholarly work in the field Based on extensive excavations of archives and texts this challenging passage through twelve essays presents a history of the literature and examines its debt to and synthesis with oral cultures George Elliott Clarke identifies African Canadian literature s distinguishing characteristics argues for its relevance to both African Diasporic Black and Canadian Studies and critiques several of its key creators and texts Scholarly and sophisticated the survey cites and interprets the works of several major African Canadian writers including Andr Alexis Dionne Brand Austin Clarke Claire Harris and M Nourbese Philip In so doing Clarke demonstrates that African Canadian writers and critics explore the tensions that exist between notions of universalism and black nationalism liberalism and conservatism These tensions are revealed in the literature in what Clarke argues to be paradoxically uniquely Canadian and proudly apart from a mainstream national identity Clarke has unearthed vital but previously unconsidered authors and charted the relationship between African Canadian literature and that of Africa African America and the Caribbean In addition to the essays Clarke has assembled a seminal and expansive bibliography of texts literature and criticism from both English and French Canada This important resource will inevitably challenge and change future academic consideration of African Canadian literature and its place in the international literary map of the African Diaspora
