Bakhtin Between East and West Karine Zbinden, 2006 Mikhail Bakhtin

1895-1975 has had an enormous influence on literary studies and cultural theory Bakhtin between East and West Cross Cultural Transmission looks beyond the concepts of carnival and dialogue and traces for the first time the transformation of the Bakhtin Circle's thought from its introduction to the West in Julia Kristeva's seminal late 1960s theory of intertextuality through Tzvetan Todorov's landmark study and on to contemporary interpretations The notion of sociality in all its problematic complexity provides the red thread guiding us through this historical and thematic examination of Western and Russian Bakhtin studies As a critical evaluation of Bakhtin scholarship across various cultures and a celebration of the vigour

of the Circle's legacy this is an invaluable resource for scholars and students with an interest in Bakhtin and critical theory

Lecture(s) d'une refonte Jean-Louis Houdebine, 1971 The Poverty of Structuralism Leonard Jackson, 2014-09-11

The Poverty of Structuralism is the first in a sequence of volumes which examine in turn the basic ideas of Saussure, Marx and Freud and analyse the way in which they have been developed and applied to art, culture and modern textual theory. The text offers a critical introduction to the structuralist foundations of modern literary theory. It gives an account of the way such foundations have been developed, twisted and distorted to become part of the language that contemporary literary and cultural theoreticians use. It also addresses some of the fundamental issues about language and society that are presupposed by the often difficult language of modern literary and cultural theory. Culture In Pieces Dirk Obbink, P. J.

Parsons, Richard Rutherford, 2011-06-16 This volume of essays is chiefly concerned with the problems of interpretation raised by fragmentary evidence, especially by the partial or imperfect survival of texts from the classical world. The essays consider a variety of problems addressing questions of literary history, source criticism, editorial method and scholarly technique.

Noise Matters Greg Hainge, 2013-03-14 Everyone knows what noise is. Or do they? Can we in fact say that one man's noise is another teenager's music? Is noise in fact only an auditory phenomenon or does it extend far beyond this realm? If our common definitions of noise are necessarily subjective and noise is not just unpleasant sound, then it merits a closer look. Or listen. Greg Hainge sets out to define noise in this way: to find within it a series of operations common across its multiple manifestations that allow us to apprehend it as something other than a highly subjective term that tells us very little. Examining a wide range of texts including Sartre's novel Nausea and David Lynch's iconic films Eraserhead and Inland Empire, Hainge investigates some of the Twentieth Century's most infamous noisemongers to suggest that they're not that noisy after all and it finds true noise in some surprising places. The result is a thrilling and illuminating study of sound and culture. Remembering the Covenants in Song Young-Sam Won, 2019-08-20

In biblical and theological studies, fresh perspectives and novel approaches can breathe new life into familiar subjects. Remembering the Covenants in Song reconsiders the Abrahamic and Mosaic covenant relationship through the unique biblical and canonical lens of a postexilic song. In Psalm 105, the psalmist's intriguing intertextual engagement with both of Israel's great covenant traditions provides a rare glimpse into the covenant understanding of a postexilic biblical writer interacting with the Torah. Remembering the Covenants in Song entails an intertextual study of Psalm 105 that brings the psalmist's rhetorical design and covenant references into a dialogue with the Torah's seminal covenant texts. The examination of the psalmist's use of covenant references and allusions represents an innovative approach to assessing the rhetorical significance of intertextuality in biblical writings. The Philosophy of Julia Kristeva Sara G. The Figure of Knowledge Sebastiaan Loosen, Rajesh Heynickx, Hilde Heynen, 2020-10-01 It is a major challenge to write the history of post WWII architectural theory without boiling it down to a few defining paradigms An impressive anthologising effort during the 1990s charted architectural theory mostly via the various theoretical frameworks employed such as critical theory critical regionalism deconstructivism and pragmatism Yet the intellectual contours of what constitutes architectural theory have been constantly in flux It is therefore paramount to ask what kind of knowledge has become important in the recent history of architectural theory and how the resulting figure of knowledge sets the conditions for the actual arguments made The contributions in this volume focus on institutional geographical rhetorical and other conditioning factors They thus screen the unspoken rules of engagement that postwar architectural theory ascribed to

Joel's Use of Scripture and the Scripture's Use of Joel
John Strazicich, 2007-04-30 The methodological approach employed in this research utilizes the hermeneutics of comparative midrash combined with aspects of Bakhtinian dialogism and intertextuality The purpose of this enterprise is to discern the function of scripture in Joel and its New Testament Nachleben The terms appropriation and resignification are descriptive of the process through which an antecedent text is transformed by its displacement condensation and recontextualization These methodologies assist in giving an account of the intertextual dialogism involved in a text's unrecorded hermeneutics The scope of the work looks at the use of scriptural traditions within the book of Joel during the Second Temple period There is an introduction to the hermeneutical methods employed followed by a general introduction to the book of Joel in chapter one Chapters two and three concern the function of scripture in Joel Finally the last chapter deals with Joel's New Testament Nachleben Each chapter has an introduction and conclusion This work does not eschew the importance of diachronic issues The diachronic method pays attention to the context of an antecedent's voice while the synchronic methodological approach pays attention to the function and purpose in which the receptor text resignifies the appropriated motifs and allusions The diachronic becomes fused with the synchronic in the process of an allusion's recontextualization This study in a heuristic manner focuses on the way that each allusion is appropriated and resignified for the needs of both Joel's community and those of the later NT in order to understand the function of canonical hermeneutics

Desire in Language Julia Kristeva, 1980 Desire in Language traces the path of an investigation extending over a period of ten years into the semiotics of literature and the arts But the essays of Julia Kristeva in this volume though they often deal with literature and art do not amount to either literary criticism or art criticism Their concern writes Kristeva remains intratheoretical they are based on art and literature in order to subvert the very theoretical philosophical or semiological apparatus Probing beyond the discoveries of Sigmund Freud Jacques Lacan Roman Jakobson and others Julia Kristeva proposes and tests theories centered on the nature and development of the novel and on what she has defined as a signifying practice in poetic language and pictorial works Desire in Language fully shows what Roman Jakobson has called Kristeva's genuine gift of questioning generally adopted axioms and her contrary gift of releasing various damned questions from their traditional question marks
