

Social and Religious Reforms

During the 19th Century there were attempts to follow the example of the West in religion and in social and political reform. Educated India became growingly receptive to modern European thought.

Raja Ram Mohan Roy (1772-1833), may be said to have initiated a new age in India's history. The constitutional methods in politics which he advocated were the beginning of the trend which led to the foundation of the Indian National Congress in 1885. He also founded the Brahmo Samaj, a religious group seeking to rid Hinduism of irrational distortions and practices.

Among other pioneers of religious, social, educational and political reforms were Ishwarchandra Vidhyasagar in Bengal and Jyotiba Phule in Maharashtra. They worked actively to improve the position of women, giving them education and recognizing their rights.

As a reaction against the tendency of some to imitate the West and to ignore India's own rich and valuable traditions, and also a reaction to the adoption of the Christian forms of worship, Swami Dayanand Saraswati (1824-83) established Arya Samaj and urged a revival of Hinduism in its pristine Vedic form.

The synthesis of the two great forces, the ancient Indian and the modern Western, was brought about by Ramakrishna Paramhansa (1836-1886) and by his disciple, Swami Vivekananda (1863-1902). He believed in and preached the superiority of the Hindu path to spiritual salvation. At the same time, he urged India to adopt the scientific attitude of West. Vivekananda founded Ramakrishna Mission. He condemned the caste-system, rituals and superstition and urged people to imbibe the spirit of liberty, equality and free thinking.

The Theosophical Society was founded in U.S.A. and the movement grew in India under the leadership of Mrs. Annie Beasant, which glorified Indian religion and philosophical tradition and helped the Indians to recover their self-confidence.

Cultural and Scientific Awakening

The theme of this century was predominantly humanistic and stressed the freedom of man and equality of all. Geetanjali - the distinctive work of poet Rabindranath Tagore won him the Nobel prize.

The modern Indian sought to reconcile the ideas and thoughts of the east and west. Later on, similar trends appeared in paintings and sculptures as well. In the field of science, high recognition was given to the works of scientists like Ramanujam in Maths, Dr.C.V.Raman in Physics for the Raman Effect and Dr.Jagdish Chandra Bose in the field of Botany.

Religious Thought Reform:

Understanding Religious Abuse and Recovery Patrick J. Knapp, 2021-04-21 Currently there are at least four major identifiable perspectives on how people best understand and recover from religious abuse Both secular and faith based Christian adherents can be variously identified in each of these approaches This book examines these viewpoints and evaluates their various strengths and limitations It concludes that each perspective is helpful to the extent possible given the limitations of its respective philosophic or theological assumptions This book summarizes each viewpoint and suggests a larger contextual perspective helpful to better understand involvement in and recovery from religiously abusive environments The conclusion is an integration of the various conceptual frameworks and a different model SECURE is described that includes essential principles and practical strategies necessary for recovery from religious abuse Suggestions are made for future research and study both for academics with interest in the cultic studies and counseling fields and for various people negatively affected by religious abuse and in need of recovery

The Oxford Handbook of New Religious Movements James R Lewis, 2008-07-17 The Oxford Handbook of New Religious Movements both covers the current state of the field and breaks new ground Its contributors drawn from both sociology and religious studies are leading figures in the study of NRMs

Thought Reform and the Psychology of Totalism Robert Jay Lifton, 2014-07-24 2014 Reprint of 1961 Edition Full facsimile of the original edition not reproduced with Optical Recognition Software Lifton s research for the book began in 1953 with a series of interviews with American servicemen who had been held captive during the Korean War In addition to interviews with 25 Americans Lifton also interviewed 15 Chinese who had fled their homeland after having been subjected to indoctrination in Chinese universities From these interviews which in some cases occurred regularly for over a year Lifton identified the tactics used by Chinese communists to cause drastic shifts in one s opinions and personality and brainwash American soldiers into making demonstrably false assertions This work has become a classic text in the field and continues to serve as a fundamental guide in the debriefing of former cult members Lifton s famous eight criteria for thought control are Milieu Control This involves the control of information and communication both within the environment and ultimately within the individual resulting in a significant degree of isolation from society at large Mystical Manipulation There is manipulation of experiences that appear spontaneous but in fact were planned and orchestrated by the group or its leaders in order to demonstrate divine authority or spiritual advancement or some special gift or talent that will then allow the leader to reinterpret events scripture and experiences as he or she wishes Demand for Purity The world is viewed as black and white and the members are constantly exhorted to conform to the ideology of the group and strive for perfection The induction of guilt and or shame is a powerful control device used here Confession Sins as defined by the group are to be confessed either to a personal monitor or publicly to the group There is no confidentiality members sins attitudes and faults are discussed and exploited by the leaders Sacred Science The group s doctrine or ideology is considered to be the ultimate

Truth beyond all questioning or dispute Truth is not to be found outside the group The leader as the spokesperson for God or for all humanity is likewise above criticism

Loading the Language The group interprets or uses words and phrases in new ways so that often the outside world does not understand This jargon consists of thought terminating cliches which serve to alter members thought processes to conform to the group s way of thinking

Doctrine over person Member s personal experiences are subordinated to the sacred science and any contrary experiences must be denied or reinterpreted to fit the ideology of the group

Dispensing of existence The group has the prerogative to decide who has the right to exist and who does not This is usually not literal but means that those in the outside world are not saved unenlightened unconscious and they must be converted to the group s ideology If they do not join the group or are critical of the group then they must be rejected by the members Thus the outside world loses all credibility In conjunction should any member leave the group he or she must be rejected also

The Idea of Reform Gerhart Ladner,2004-04-21 In this classic volume Ladner explores the origin and early history of the idea of reform The book opens with a look at varieties of renewal ideology then moves on to study the early Christian idea of reform The conclusion is an insightful examination of how the idea of reform influenced the earliest manifestations of Christian monasticism

Salvation and Suicide David Chidester,2018-11-01 An ambitious and courageous examination of the Jonestown cult viewed through the lens of theology Journal of the American Academy of Religion Re issued in recognition of the 25th anniversary of the mass suicides at Jonestown this revised edition of David Chidester s groundbreaking book features a new prologue that considers the meaning of the tragedy for a post Waco post 9 11 world For Chidester the murder suicide of some 900 members of the Peoples Temple in Guyana recalls the American religious commitment to redemptive sacrifice which for Jim Jones meant saving his followers from the evils of capitalist society Jonestown is ancient history writes Chidester but it does provide us with an opportunity to reflect upon the strangeness of familiar promises of redemption through sacrifice His original conclusion that the Peoples Temple was a meaningful religious movement seems all the more prescient and astute today when fundamentalism has raised the troubling spectre of violence and suicide all over the world

Conversion in the New Testament Richard Peace,1999 A landmark work in the study of conversion With the tools of scholarship and as a seasoned practitioner Richard Peace explores the New Testament understanding of the turning points of conversion from the night of our captivities to the light of Christ into the church and out to the neighbor in need Our contemporary efforts in evangelism have much to learn from this full orb ed view of conversion Gabriel Fackre on back cover

On The Threshold of Freedom Clarence L. Mohr,2001-05-01 In this enlightening study Clarence L Mohr follows the demise of chattel slavery in one state of the Confederate South Like the slavery regime itself Mohr s story is biracial in character embracing the perspectives of both blacks and whites as they struggled to comprehend the approach of black freedom within a framework of attitudes and assumptions shaped by decades of mutual exposure to Georgia s peculiar institution By exploring in detail the changing patterns of black white interaction that preceded legal emancipation in 1865 On the Threshold of Freedom defines central tendencies within Georgia slavery and suggests important links between antebellum life and the events of early Reconstruction

Out of the Cloister Helen Rose Fuchs Ebaugh, 2014-07-03 Since Vatican Council II convent walls have crumbled and the structures that once separated nuns from the world are gone Out of the Cloister is an organizational analysis of the structural and ideological changes that took place in Catholic religious orders of women in the United States Many nuns today dress in street clothes choose their own jobs have a degree of financial independence from the larger order and may not be recognized by their coworkers as nuns What might once have been defined as a total institution has become within the span of a few years a type of voluntary organization where members join together loosely to achieve a common purpose Helen

Rose Fuchs Ebaugh approaches religious orders as utopian communities and examines how contact with the larger society has affected the distinctiveness and solidarity that hold such groups together. She analyzes the patterns occurring within orders with particular focus on the relationship between organizational change and membership loss. Since changes have been introduced into religious orders at different rates and since orders vary in such characteristics as size and educational level of members, it is possible to analyze relationships between exit rates and other organizational variables. The complex interplay of education and membership loss is one of the organizational dilemmas the author examines. Although she is no longer a part of organized religious life, Ebaugh spent ten years as a nun and during that time collected much of the data presented in this book. As a nun, she also helped conduct a number of self studies and evaluations involved with the post Vatican II reform and renewal efforts. She is therefore in the unique position of a researcher who collected data as an insider and analyzed it as an outsider. This book is one of the first systematic empirical studies of religious orders in the United States and one of the few sociological investigations of convents and the changes occurring within them.

The Religious Question in Modern China Vincent Goossaert, David A. Palmer, 2011-03-15. Recent events from strife in Tibet and the rapid growth of Christianity in China to the spectacular expansion of Chinese Buddhist organizations around the globe vividly demonstrate that one cannot understand the modern Chinese world without attending closely to the question of religion. The Religious Question in Modern China highlights parallels and contrasts between historical events, political regimes, and cultural movements to explore how religion has challenged and responded to secular Chinese modernity from 1898 to the present. Vincent Goossaert and David A. Palmer piece together the puzzle of religion in China not by looking separately at different religions in different contexts but by writing a unified story of how religion has shaped and in turn been shaped by modern Chinese society. From Chinese medicine and the martial arts to communal temple cults and revivalist redemptive societies, the authors demonstrate that from the nineteenth century onward, as the Chinese state shifted the religious landscape, consistently resurfaced in a bewildering variety of old and new forms. The Religious Question in Modern China integrates historical, anthropological, and sociological perspectives in a comprehensive overview of China's religious history that is certain to become an indispensable reference for specialists and students alike.

The Barbarization of Warfare George Kassimeris, 2006-09. The images from Abu Ghraib prison in Baghdad have been a grim reminder of warfare's undiminished capacity for brutality and indiscriminate excess. What happened in Abu Ghraib has happened before the World War II and more recent wars and insurgencies in Algeria, Congo, Angola, Vietnam, Bosnia, Kosovo, Chechnya, and many others all bear witness to the ever-present human capacity to commit barbaric acts if circumstances allow What drives people to mistreat humiliate and torment others In an age when real time war violence and torture are becoming addictive forms of entertainment it is now more critical than ever to deepen our understanding of the extraordinary distortions of the human psyche and spirit that occur in wartime Eight distinguished scholars explore in this first collective effort the effects of the barbarization of warfare on our cultures and societies Contributors Joanna Bourke Niall Ferguson Jay Winter Richard Overton David Anderson Hew Strachan Paul Rogers Kathleen Taylor Marilyn Young Paul Rogers Anthony Dworkin Amir Weiner Mary Habeck and David Simpson Violence and New Religious Movements James R.
