Structure And Action Of Molecular Chaperones: Machines That Assist Protein Folding In The Cell Lila M Gierasch,Arthur L Horwich,Christine Slingsby,Sue Wickner,David Agard,2016-08-08 This unique volume reviews the beautiful architectures and varying mechanical actions of the set of specialized cellular proteins called molecular chaperones which provide essential kinetic assistance to processes of protein folding and unfolding in the cell Ranging from multisubunit ring shaped chaperonin and Hsp100 machines that use their central cavities to bind and compartmentalize action on proteins

to machines that use other topologies of recognition binding cellular proteins in an archway or at the surface of a clamp or at the surface of a globular assembly the structures show us the ways and means the cell has devised to assist its major effectors proteins to reach and maintain their unique active forms as well as when required to disrupt protein structure in order to remodel or degrade Each type of chaperone is beautifully illustrated by X ray and EM structure determinations at near atomic level resolution and described by a leader in the study of the respective family The beauty of what Mother Nature has devised to accomplish essential assisting actions for proteins in vivo is fully appreciable Background ,1963
