This book captures an epochal juncture of two of the world's most transformative processes: the People's Republic of China's rapidly expanding sphere of influence across the global south and the disintegration of the Amazonian Cerrado and Andean biomes. The intersection of these two processes took another step in April 2020 when Chinese President Xi Jinping launched a New Health Silk Road agenda of aid and investment that would wind through South America, extending the Eurasian African Belt and Road Initiative to a series of mine port energy infrastructure and agrobusiness megaprojects in the Latin American tropics. Through thirty short essays, this volume brings together an impressive array of contributors from economists, anthropologists, and political scientists to Black feminist and Indigenous community organizers, Chinese stakeholders, environmental activists, and local journalists to offer a pathbreaking analysis of China's presence in South America. As cracks in the progressive legacy of the Pink Tide and the failures of ecocidal right-wing populisms shape new political economies and geopolitical possibilities, this book provides a grassroots-based account of a post-US-centered world order and an accompanying map of the stakes for South America that highlights emerging voices and forms of resistance.

National American Kennel Club Stud Book, 1915 Are They Really So Awful? Christopher Challis, 1995 Christopher Challis, a distinguished Director of Photography, worked in the British Film Industry for almost fifty years and now looks back on a career that involved him with such giants as Alexander Korda, Michael Powell, Emeric Pressburger, and Stanley Donen. Among the many films he photographed are Chitty Chitty Bang Bang, Those Magnificent Men in their Flying Machines, The Tales of Hoffman, and perhaps the most famous of them all, Genevieve. His compulsively readable memoirs reveal his joy in the madness of it all and tell of the vanity of Cary Grant, the warmth of Audrey Hepburn, the wit of Robert Morley, the professionalism of Sophia Loren, and the long lunches of Richard Burton. Are they Really So Awful? was a question directed at Christopher Challis when he was a young man and referred to everyone involved in the making of films. In retirement, his answer to the question is 'Yes, but his delightful memoir shows that he loved every moment of it.'

National Union Catalog, 1978 Includes entries for maps and atlases.

Long Shot Sylvia Harris, 2011-03-08 Combine Seabiscuit with Manic throw in a touch of HBO's Temple Grandin and you get Long Shot, a truly remarkable memoir by Sylvia Harris. A single mother of three, Harris was crippled by bipolar depression until she discovered the miraculous healing and calming effect of horses, a revelation that ultimately enabled her to manage her illness, conquer the sexism of her field, and triumph as a champion jockey in the male-dominated world of horse racing. A fascinating, courageous, and ultimately redemptive true story, Long Shot has won high praise from Phyllis Chesler, Ph.D., author of Women and Madness, who says Harris's attempt to find balance, joy, connectedness, and purpose in life constitutes a great adventure story.
