Providence and the Invention of American History Sarah Koenig, 2021-06-29

How providential history the conviction that God is an active agent in human history has shaped the American historical imagination

In 1847 Protestant missionary Marcus Whitman was killed after a disastrous eleven year effort to evangelize the indigenous peoples of the Pacific Northwest

By 1897 Whitman was a national hero celebrated in textbooks monuments and historical scholarship as the Savior of Oregon

But his fame was based on a tall tale one that was about to be exposed

Sarah Koenig traces the rise and fall of Protestant missionary Marcus Whitman's legend revealing two patterns in the development of American history

On the one hand is providential history marked by the conviction that God is an active agent in human history and that historical work can reveal patterns of divine will

On the other hand is objective history which arose from the efforts of Catholics and other racial and religious outsiders to resist providentialists pejorative descriptions of non Protestants and nonwhites

Koenig examines how these competing visions continue to shape understandings of the American past and the nature of historical truth
