Margaret Fuller Visionary Of The New Age:

Margaret Fuller Marie Mitchell Olesen Urbanski,1994 Margaret Fuller Charles Capper,Cristina Giorcelli,2008-01-15 Margaret Fuller 1810 1850 a pioneering gender theorist transcendentalist journalist and literary critic was one of the most well known and highly regarded feminist intellectuals of nineteenth century America With her contemporaries Ralph Waldo Emerson and Henry David Thoreau she was one of the predominant writers of the Transcendentalist movement and she aligned herself in both her public and private life with the European revolutionary fervor of the 1840s She traveled to Italy as a foreign correspondent for the New York Tribune to cover the nascent revolutions pursuing the transnational ideal awakened in her youth by a classical education in European languages and a Romantic curiosity about other cultures traditions and identities This volume is a collaboration of international scholars who from varied fields and approaches assess Fuller s genius and character Treating the last several years of Margaret Fuller s short life these essays offer a truly international discussion of Fuller s unique cultural political and personal achievements From the origins and articulations of Fuller s cosmopolitanism to her examination of the woman question and from her fascination with the European other to her candid perception of imperial America from abroad they ponder what such an extraordinary woman meant to America and also to Italy and Europe during her lifetime and continuing to the present

The Portable Margaret Fuller Margaret Fuller,1994-10-01 Indispensable to students of antebellum culture Philip F Gura Univ of North Carolina A highly valuable resource for students of American Studies and Women s Studies alike Donald Pease UC Riverside The Cambridge Companion to Ralph Waldo Emerson Joel Porte (ed),Saundra Morris,1999-04-28 A collection of newly commissioned essays provides a critical introduction to pastor and poet Ralph Waldo Emerson

Toward a Female Genealogy of Transcendentalism Jana L. Argersinger,Phyllis Cole,2014-08-15 Traditional histories of the American transcendentalist movement begin in Ralph Waldo Emerson s terms describing a rejection of college books and church pulpits in favor of the individual power of Man Thinking This essay collection asks how women who lacked the privileges of both college and clergy rose to thought For them reading alone and conversing together were the primary means of growth necessarily in private and informal spaces both overlapping with those of the men and apart from them But these were means to achieving literary aesthetic and political authority indeed to claiming utopian possibility for women as a whole Toward a Female Genealogy of Transcendentalism is a project of both archaeology and reinterpretation Many of its seventeen distinguished and rising scholars work from newly recovered archives and all offer fresh readings of understudied topics and texts First quickened by the 2010 bicentennial of Margaret Fuller s birth the project reaches beyond Fuller to her female predecessors contemporaries and successors throughout the nineteenth century who contributed to or grew from the transcendentalist movement Geographic scope also widens from the New England base to national and transatlantic spheres A shared goal is to understand this genealogy within a larger history of American women writers no absolute boundaries divide idealism from sentiment romantics from realists or white discourse from black Primary text interludes invite readers into the ongoing task of discovering and interpreting transcendentally affiliated women This collection recognizes the vibrant contributions women made to a major literary movement and will appeal to both scholars and general readers Margaret Fuller's Cultural Critique Fritz Fleischmann, 2000 A century and a half after her death Margaret Fuller is recognized as America's female intellectual prophet Charles Capper a thinker of stunning acumen and foresight feminist theoretician of gender and culture literary and social critic foreign correspondent teacher writer revolutionist The essays in this volume discuss her seven practices of cultural critique her feminism as a road not taken the twentieth century life of her ideas and her relationships with Lydia Maria Child Julia Ward Howe and Nathaniel Hawthorne they contain analyses of language perception and voice Fuller's travel writing at home and abroad and her brother Arthur's editing practices The broad range of biographical and critical scholarship assembled in this book contributes to the growing comprehension of Fuller's pioneering life and work Bodily and Narrative Forms Cynthia J. Davis, 2000 During the period of the professionalization of American medicine many authors were concerned with a concurrent urge to use their work as a means to convey their views about the meaning of the body and the origin and cure of disease This book studies a range of these authors including Louisa May Alcott Charles W Chesnutt Margaret Fuller Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr and William Dean Howells among others

Authority and Reform Mark G. Vásquez, 2003 As a reformative force the literary text encouraged activism among all its readers but affected and was affected by women more profoundly than and differently from men The Only Efficient Instrument Aleta Feinsod Cane, Susan Alves, 2005-04 Many farsighted women writers in nineteenth century America made thoughtful and sustained use of newspapers and magazines to effect social and political change The Only Efficient Instrument American Women Writers and the Periodical 1837-1916 examines these pioneering efforts and demonstrates that American women had a vital presence in the political and intellectual communities of their day Women writers and editors of diverse social backgrounds and ethnicities realized very early that the periodical was a powerful tool for education and social reform it was the only efficient instrument to make themselves and their ideas better known This collection of critical essays explores American women's engagement with the periodical press and shows their threefold use of the periodical for social and political advocacy for the critique of gender roles and social expectations and for refashioning the periodical as a more inclusive genre that both articulated and obscured such distinctions as class race and gender Including essays on familiar figures such as Margaret Fuller Harriet Beecher Stowe Kate Chopin and Charlotte Perkins Gilman The Only Efficient Instrument also focuses on writings from lesser known authors including Native American Zitkala S Mexican American Mar a Cristina Mena African American Frances Ellen Watkins Harper and the Lowell factory workers Covering nearly eighty years of publishing history from the press censure of the outspoken Angelina Grimké in 1837 to the last issue of Gilman's Forerunner in 1916 this fascinating collection breaks new ground in the study of the women's rights movement in America

Transfiguring America Jeffrey Steele, 2001 Transfiguring America is the product of more than ten years of research and numerous published articles on Margaret Fuller arguably America's first feminist theorist and one of the most important woman writers in the nineteenth century Focusing on Fuller's development of a powerful language that paired cultural critique with mythmaking Steele shows why her writing had such a vital impact on the woman's rights movement and modern conceptions of gender This groundbreaking study pays special attention to the ways in which Fuller's feminist consciousness and social theory emerged out of her mourning for herself and others her dialogue with Emersonian Transcendentalism and her eclectic reading in occult and mythical sources Transfiguring America is the first book to provide detailed analyses of all of Fuller's major texts including her mystical Dial essays correspondence with Emerson Summer on the Lakes 1844 poetry Woman in the Nineteenth Century and New York Tribune essays written both in New York and Europe Starting from her own profound sense of loss as a marginalized woman Fuller eventually recognized the ways in which the foundational myths of American society buttressed by conservative religious ideologies replicated dysfunctional images of manhood and womanhood With Woman in the Nineteenth Century after exploring the roots of oppression in her essays and poetry Fuller advanced the cause of woman's rights by conceptualizing a more fluid and equitable model of gender founded upon the mythical reconfiguration of human potential But as her horizons expanded Fuller demanded not only political equality for women but also emotional intellectual and spiritual freedom for all victims of social oppression By the end of her career Steele shows Fuller had blended personal experience and cultural critique into the imaginative reconstruction of American society Beginning with a fervent belief in personal reform she ended her career with the apocalyptic conviction that the dominant myths both of selfhood and national identity must be transfigured Out of the ashes of personal turmoil and political revolution she looked for the phoenix of a revitalized society founded upon the ideal of political justice

Good Observers of Nature Tina Gianquitto, 2010-01-25 In Good Observers of Nature Tina Gianquitto examines nineteenth century American women's intellectual and aesthetic experiences of nature and investigates the linguistic perceptual and scientific systems that were available to women to describe those experiences Many women writers of this period used the natural world as a platform for discussing issues of domesticity education and the nation To what extent asks Gianquitto did these writers challenge the prevalent sentimental narrative modes like those used in the popular flower language books and use scientific terminology to describe the world around them The book maps the intersections of the main historical and narrative trajectories that inform the answer to this question the changing literary representations of the natural world in texts produced by women from the 1820s to the 1880s and the developments in science from the Enlightenment to the advent of evolutionary biology Though Gianquitto considers a range of women's nature writing botanical manuals plant catalogs travel narratives seasonal journals scientific essays she focuses on four writers and their most influential works

Almira Phelps Familiar Lectures on Botany 1829 Margaret Fuller Summer on the Lakes in 1843 Susan Fenimore Cooper Rural Hours 1850 and Mary Treat Home Studies in Nature 1885 From these writings emerges a set of common concerns about the interaction of reason and emotion in the study of nature the best vocabularies for representing objects in nature local scientific or moral and the competing systems for ordering the natural world theological taxonomic or aesthetic This is an illuminating study about the culturally assumed relationship between women morality and science Transnationalism and American Literature Colleen G. Boggs, 2010-05-26 What is transnationalism and how does it affect American literature This book examines nineteenth century contexts of transnationalism translation and American literature The discussion of transnationalism largely revolves around the question of what role nationalism plays in the spaces and temporalities of the transatlantic Boggs demonstrates that the assumption that American literature has become transnational only recently that there is such a thing as an era of transnationalism marks a blindness to the intrinsic transatlanticism of American literature
