Poetry and Pedagogy J. Retallack, J. Spahr, 2016-04-30 This anthology is a new reading of the contemporary poetries The collection gathers together the work of a number of scholars poets and teachers on the challenges and productive possibilities that arise when teaching contemporary writing today The American Poet Laureate Amy Paeth, 2023-05-16 The American Poet Laureate shows how the state has been the silent center of poetic production in the United States since World War II It is the first history of the national poetry office the U S poet laureate highlighting the careers of Elizabeth Bishop Robert Frost Gwendolyn Brooks Robert Pinsky Tracy K Smith Juan Felipe Herrera and Joy Harjo at the nation's Capitol It is also a history of how these state poets participated in national arts programming during the Cold War Drawing on previously unexplored archival materials at the Library of Congress and materials at the John F Kennedy Presidential Library Amy Paeth describes the interactions of federal bodies including the Central Intelligence Agency the State Department and the National Endowment for the Arts with literary organizations and with private patrons including Prozac heiress Ruth Lilly The consolidation of public and private interests is crucial to the development of state verse culture recognizable at the first National Poetry Festival in 1962 which followed Robert Frost's Mission to Moscow and which became dominant in the late 1990s and early 2000s The American Poet Laureate contributes to a growing body of institutional and sociological approaches to U S literary production in the postwar era and demonstrates how poetry has played a uniquely important and largely underacknowledged role in the cultural front of the Cold War The Perversity of Poetry Dino Franco Felluga, 2012-02-01 Once the dominant literary form poetry was gradually eclipsed by the realist novel indeed by 1940 W H Auden was able to note Poetry makes nothing happen In The Perversity of Poetry Dino Franco Felluga explores the cultural background of poetry's marginalization by examining nineteenth century reactions to Romantic poetry and ideology Focusing on the work of Sir Walter Scott and Lord Byron as well as periodical reviews student manuals and contemporary medical journals the book details the period's two contending and equally outrageous claims regarding poetry Scott's poetry on the one hand was continually represented as a panacea for a modern world overtaken by new principles of utilitarianism capitalism industrialism and democracy Byron's by contrast was represented either as a cancer in the heart of the social order or as a contagious pandemic leading to various pathological symptoms The book concludes with a coda on Alfred Lord Tennyson which illustrates how the Victorian reception of Scott and Byron affected the most popular poetic genius of midcentury Ultimately The Perversity of Poetry uncovers how the shift to a rhetoric of health allowed critics to oppose what they perceived as a potent and potentially dangerous influence on the age the very thing that would over the course of the century be marginalized into such obscurity poetry thanks to its perverse insistence on making something happen Ten to One Bob Perelman, 1999-10 The first selected poems from one of the most inventive poets writing today Strange Good Fortune: Essays on Contemporary Poetry (p), 2001 Frank O'Hara and the Poetics of Saying 'I' Micah Mattix, 2011-03-03 While recent works of criticism on Frank O'Hara have focused on the technical similarities between his poetry and painting or between his use of language and poststructuralism Frank O'Hara and the Poetics of Saying 'I' argues that what is most significant in O'Hara's work is not such much his borrowing from painters or his proto Derridean use of language but his preoccupation with self exploration and the temporal effects of his work as artifacts Following Pasternak s understanding of artistic inspiration as an act of love for the material world O Hara explores moments of experience in an effort to both complicate and enrich our experience of the material world On the one hand in poems such as Second Avenue for example O Hara works to muddy language through which experience is in part mediated with the use of parataxis allusions and absurd metaphors and similes On the other in his I do this I do that poems he names the events of his lunch hour in an effort among other things to experience time as a moment of fullness rather than as a moment of loss The book argues furthermore that O Hara s view of the self as both an expression of the creative force at work in the world and as the temporal aggregate of finite experiences places him between so called Romantic and postmodern theories of the lyric While it is often argued that O Hara is a forerunner of a new critically informed materialist poetics this study concludes that O Hara s work is somewhat less radical in its understanding of poetic meaning than is often claimed Moreover while O Hara is preoccupied with his experience in his poems the book argues that he espouses in some respects a rather traditional view of love In addition to being a metaphor for the creative act love for O Hara is the chance coming together of two entities Yet one of the ironies of this is that while love is for O Hara a feeling that is the result of movement or the unexpected coming together of two otherwise separ

Asian American Poets Guiyou Huang,2002-05-30 Even though Asian American literature is enjoying an impressive critical popularity attention has focused primarily on longer narrative forms such as the novel And despite the proliferation of a large number of poets of Asian descent in the 20th century Asian American poetry remains a neglected area of study Poetry as an elite genre has not reached the level of popularity of the novel or short story partly due to the difficulties of reading and interpreting poetic texts The lack of criticism on Asian American poetry speaks to the urgent need for scholarship in this area since perhaps more than any other genre poetry most forcefully captures the intense feelings and emotions that Asian Americans have experienced about themselves and their world This reference book overviews the tremendous cultural contributions of Asian American poets Included are alphabetically arranged entries on 48 American poets of Asian descent most of whom have been active during the latter half of the 20th century Each entry begins with a short biography which sometimes includes information drawn from personal interviews The entries then discuss the poet's major works and themes including such concerns as family racism sexism identity language and politics A survey of the poet's critical reception follows In many cases the existing criticism is scant and the entries offer new readings of neglected works The entries conclude with bibliographies of primary and secondary texts and the volume closes with a selected general bibliography

contribution to the literary history of Language writing to date Israel's Poetry of Resistance Hugh R. Page Jr.,2013-07-26 Noting that Israel's earliest responses to earth shaking changes were cast in the powerfully expressive language of poetry Hugh R Page Jr argues that the careful collection and preservation of these traditions now found in every part of the Hebrew Bible was an act of resistance a communal no to the forces of despair and a yes to the creative power of the Spirit Further Page argues the power of these poems to craft and shape a future for a people who had suffered acute displacement and marginalization offers a rich spiritual repertoire for African peoples today and for all who find themselves perennially outside the social or political mainstream Here Page offers fresh translations and brief commentary on the Bible's fifteen earliest poems and explores the power and relevance of these poems and the ancient mythic themes behind them for contemporary life at the margins Multicultural Poetics Nissa Parmar,2017-12-21 Argues that multiculturalism and hybridity are key components of the nation's poetry and its culture Multicultural Poetics provides a new perspective on American poetry that will contribute to the evolution of contemporary critical practice Nissa Parmar combines formalist analysis with cultural studies theory to trace a lineage of hybrid poetry from the American Renaissance to what Marilyn Chin deemed America's multicultural renaissance the blossoming of multicultural literature in the 1980s and 1990s This revisionary literary history begins by analyzing Whitman and Dickinson as postcolonial poets This critical approach provides an alternative to the factionalism that has characterized twentieth century American poetic history and continues to inform literary criticism in the twenty first century Parmar uses a multiethnic multigender method that emphasizes the relationship between American poetic form and cultural development This book provides a new approach by using hybridity as the critical paradigm for a study that groups multiethnic and emergent authors It thereby combats literary ghettoization while revealing commonalities across American literatures and the cross fertilization that has informed their development Parmar demonstrates her mastery of the immense body of scholarship devoted to the poetic lineage Multicultural Poetics engages She writes with elegance and tact and displays her ability to simplify several concepts liminality the third space interstitiality of the most confounding of contemporary theorists Donald E Pease author of The New American Exceptionalism

Postcoloniality and Indian English Poetry SUBRAT KUMAR SAMAL,2015-09-16 This book aims at study and analysis of the poetry of the first four major poets of the postcolonial trend in the Indian context It examines and explores the various aspects and characteristics of their poetry which can qualify them on the double standards of both being Indian and modern at the same time in a justifiable manner The Cracks Between What We Are and What We Are Supposed to Be Harryette Mullen,2012-08-06 The Cracks Between What We Are and What We Are Supposed to Be forms an extended consideration not only of Harryette Mullen's own work methods and interests as a poet but also of issues of central importance to African American poetry and language women's voices and the future of poetry Together these essays and interviews highlight the impulses and influences that drive Mullen's work as a poet and thinker and suggest unique possibilities for the future of poetic language and its role as an instrument of identity and power Poetic Maneuvers
