Galdós and Darwin T. E. Bell, 2006 Darwinian theory the big idea of the nineteenth century and its impact on the writing of Benito Pérez Galdós Despite the fact that Darwinian theory was perhaps the big idea of the nineteenth century most critics in the past have assumed that Benito Pérez Galdós would have remained unaffected by this scientific and philosophical revolution This work contends otherwise charting the influence of evolutionary theories on Galdós throughout his literary career From his adaptation of the early nineteenth century costumbristas depiction of social species into a more sophisticated portrayal of Madrid society to his treatment of shifting social forces at a time of major socio-economic change Galdós's outlook is shown to be deeply enmeshed in the Darwinian debate Attention is paid not only to the hypotheses of Darwin himself but also for instance to Ernst Haeckel's evolutionary thought to Herbert Spencer's social Darwinism and to the radical histology of Santiago Ramón y Cajal Galdós and Darwin discusses how Spain's greatest novelist since Cervantes imaginatively reworked these epoch-making theories and investigates the impact of science on culture as the Spanish nation approached the twentieth century T. Conflicts and Conciliations Geoffrey Ribbans, 1997 Between 1881 and 1897 Benito Pérez Galdós generally acknowledged as Spain's greatest nineteenth-century novelist composed some twenty contemporary novels which Geoffrey Ribbans characterizes as the peak of his achievement This monumental study traces the evolution of the many strands that make up one of them the long and complex novel Fortunata y Jacinta Ribbans examines the various stages of composition not only the earlier reconstructed Alpha version but also subsequent revisions in the much corrected handwritten text and in the printer's galleys He treats these tentative drafts as part of the process of reaching out toward the coherent definitive text Ribbans's analysis of such devices as the ambiguous role of the narrator the use of free indirect style and direct dialogue and the construction of distinctive ideolects leads to the heart of his study the development of Galdós's characters

Half a Minute to Die Moisés Morán Vega, 2025-01-24 Inspector Rafael Fabelo a young police officer in the city of Las Palmas faces a complex case when the body of a Portuguese man is found on Triana Beach in March 1935 Though the initial clues lead him nowhere a second murder in the city market raises the stakes Both crimes share the same modus operandi and Fabelo suspects they are tied to the shadowy world of sports betting in the city's vela latina sailing competitions Determined to catch the killer Fabelo dives into this underground world encountering numerous obstacles that challenge his belief in traditional police methods At the same time Fabelo is deeply aware of the social and political tensions of 1930s Spain A staunch defender of the Second Republic his views put him at odds with his father and place him at the center of a political storm that culminates with General Franco's military coup in 1936 From that moment on Fabelo's life is upended forcing him to make crucial decisions that will change him forever As he battles fascist repression the betting case which he thought was solved reemerges forcing

Antonio López García's Everyday Urban Worlds Benjamin Fraser, 2014-08-26 Antonio López García's Everyday Urban Worlds A Philosophy of Painting is the first book to give the famed Spanish artist the critical attention he deserves Born in Tomelloso in 1936 and still living in the Spanish capital today Antonio López has long cultivated a reputation for impressive urban scenes but it is urban time that is his real subject Going far beyond mere artist biography Benjamin Fraser explores the relevance of multiple disciplines to an understanding of the painter's large scale canvasses Weaving selected images together with their urban referents and without ever straying too far from discussion of the painter's oeuvre method and reception by critics Fraser pulls from disciplines as varied as philosophy history Spanish literature and film cultural studies urban geography architecture and city planning in his analyses The book begins at ground level with one of the artist's most recognizable images the Gran Vía which captures the urban project that sought to establish Madrid as an emblem of modernity Here discussion of the artist's chosen painting style one that has been referred to as a hyperrealism is integrated with the central street's history the capital's famous literary figures and its filmic representations setting up the philosophical perspective toward which the book gradually develops Chapter two rises in altitude to focus on Madrid desde Torres Blancas an urban image painted from the vantage point provided by an iconic high rise in the north central area of the city Discussion of the Spanish capital's northward expansion complements a broad view of the artist's push into representations of landscape and allows for the exploration of themes such as political conflict social inequality and the accelerated cultural change of an increasingly mobile nation during the 1960s Chapter three views Madrid desde la torre de bomberos de Vallecas and signals a turn toward political philosophy Here the size of the artist's image itself foregrounds questions of scale which Fraser paints in broad strokes as he blends discussions of artistry with the turbulent history of one of Madrid's outlying districts and a continued focus on urban development and its literary and filmic resonance Antonio López García's Everyday Urban Worlds also includes an artist timeline a concise introduction and an epilogue centering on the artist's role in the Spanish film El sol del membrillo The book's clear style and comprehensive endnotes make it appropriate for both general readers and specialists alike
