Management of Marine

Protected Areas Paul D. Goriup, 2017-01-17 With the health of the world's oceans threatened as never before it is becoming increasingly apparent that Marine Protected Areas (MPAs) play a vitally important role in protecting marine and coastal habitats. Management of Marine Protected Areas: A Network Perspective draws on the results of a major EU sponsored research project related to the establishment of networks of MPAs in the Mediterranean and Black Seas that transpired from February 2011 to January 2016. Featuring contributions by leading university and national research institute based scientists, chapters utilize the latest research data and developments in marine conservation policy to explore issues related to ways in which networks of MPAs may amplify the effectiveness and conservation benefits of individual areas within them. Topics addressed include the broader socio-economic impacts of MPAs in the Mediterranean and Black Seas, the use of Marine Spatial Planning (MSP) to resolve conflicts between marine resource use and protection, special protection measures under the EU's Marine Strategy Framework Directive (MSFD), ecological value assessments in the Black Sea, the Ecosystem Approach (EA) for managing marine ecosystems, MPAs along Turkey's Black Sea coast, MPAs and offshore wind farms, and managing and monitoring MPA networks within and between the Black and Mediterranean Seas. Timely and important. Management of Marine Protected Areas: A Network Perspective offers invaluable insights into the role of MPAs in preserving the welfare and long-term viability of our world's oceans. Protecting the Oceans Beyond National Jurisdiction Robin Warner, 2009 Knowledge of the marine environment beyond national jurisdiction and its unique biodiversity is still developing. Simultaneously, traditional uses of these areas including fishing and shipping are intensifying and new uses are emerging such as bio-prospecting for marine genetic resources and climate change mitigation activities. This volume examines the threats to the marine environment beyond national jurisdiction from existing and emerging human uses and the adequacy of current international law provisions to protect this major part of the global environment. An analysis of key provisions in the 1982 United Nations Law of the Sea Convention and complementary principles of international environmental law reveals significant tensions between the concept of high seas freedoms and the international law obligation to protect and preserve the marine environment beyond national jurisdiction. The book compares the lack of comprehensive environmental regulation for marine resource exploitation and shipping activities beyond national jurisdiction with the best practice standards for environmental protection being developed by the International Seabed Authority for deep seabed mining exploration. Recent initiatives by the international community to study issues relating to conservation of high seas biodiversity are discussed and a range of soft and hard law options to strengthen the international law framework for protection of the marine environment beyond national jurisdiction are considered. The ACCOBAMS Survey Initiative \(ASI\): Implementing Large Scale Surveys for Marine Megafauna in the Mediterranean and Black Seas Simone Panigada, Vincent Ridoux, Ayaka Amaha, Ozturk, Nejla Bejaoui, Oliver Boisseau, 2024-11-20 It is estimated that almost 10% of the worldwide marine biodiversity is encountered in the Mediterranean Sea which only represents 1% of oceans seas. Whales, dolphins, and other marine megafauna, seabirds turtles large fish play a key role in maintaining the equilibrium of marine ecosystems and are an essential component of the natural heritage of Mediterranean and Black Sea countries However these species face a variety of significant threats risk of collisions with maritime traffic bycatch in fishing gears habitat degradation acoustic disturbance chemical pollution and marine litter climate change The ACCOBAMS Survey Initiative ASI is a pilot program aimed at establishing an integrated and coordinated monitoring system for cetaceans throughout the entire ACCOBAMS area Mediterranean and Black Seas Conducted in coordination with riparian countries it supports the implementation of European and regional policies in particular the Marine Strategy Framework Directive MSFD EU and the Ecosystem Approach process Barcelona Convention UNEP MAP In summer 2018 2019 a synoptic line transect sampling survey was carried out across the Black Sea Mediterranean Sea and contiguous Atlantic area combining visual methods aerial surveys and visual and passive acoustic monitoring PAM from vessels focused primarily on deep diving species and areas where aerial surveys were not possible
