Marketing Canadian:

Marketing in Canada Kenneth L. Fernandez, 1976 Political Marketing in Canada Alex Marland, Thierry Giasson, Jennifer Lees-Marshment, 2012-02-15 Political parties worldwide are using marketing tools such as targeting and segmentation to win elections Are these strategies making politicians and governments more responsive to voters needs or do they pose a threat to democracy Political Marketing in Canada the first book to ask this question of Canada considers the consequences of political marketing in the realms of public policy leadership and the government citizen relationship Through dynamic case studies that range from the resurrection of the Conservative Party to media accounts of political marketing to Tim Hortons as a political brand the authors trace how political marketing is transforming the old system of brokerage politics into a new distinctly Canadian model Citizens are now viewed as consumers and platforms and promises have been repackaged as products Whether this trend is positive or negative the authors argue depends on how politicians and governments carry out political marketing and its promises in practice Grain marketing systems in Argentina, Australia, Canada, and the European community : Soybean marketing system in Brazil United States. General Accounting Office, 1976 Canadian Parties in Transition, Fifth Edition Alain-G Gagnon, Brian Tanguay, 2024-10-01 The fifth edition of Canadian Parties in Transition continues and enriches the work of earlier editions in bringing together a highly respected group of scholars to offer a comprehensive account of the development of party politics in Canada The book addresses the origin and the evolution of the Canadian party system and discusses how that system has been impacted by regionalism brokerage politics and political marketing It focuses on the competing ideological currents that occupy the political stage while also paying attention to the role of third parties in federal politics Contributors address the representation and democracy through an exploration of voting systems direct democracy the role occupied by constituencies gender politics and the distinct Quebec dynamics in the federal party system Finally the book analyses topical issues such as electoral participation social movements right wing populist parties political campaigning and digital party politics This new edition has been thoroughly revised and updated to reflect ongoing transformations and includes nineteen new contributing authors and coverage of seven new topics Canadian Parties in Transition presents a multi faceted image of party dynamics electoral behaviour political marketing and representative democracy Canada's Export Market Development for Agricultural Products Omero Sabatini, 1975 Political Marketing in the 2019 Canadian Federal Election Jamie Gillies, Vincent Raynauld, André Turcotte, 2020-09-16 This book explores the 2019 Canadian Federal Election through a political marketing framework Justin Trudeau s leadership appeal coupled with the differentiation of Canadian politics from American politics over recent elections has contributed to a spike in interest for politics in the Canadian context This collection provides in depth quantitative and qualitative research of different aspects of this election including the attempted re branding of the Conservative Party under Andrew Scheer the marketing of the NDP with the selection of the first visible minority party leader in Canadian history the political marketing of the Bloc Qu b cois Green Party and People s Party and foremost perhaps the brand maintenance of Trudeau and the Liberal Party of Canada The book also looks at campaign marketing and considers how the parties in this election utilized market intelligence consumer data and vote targeting and wedge issues during the campaign

Blandford, 2019-03-13 The book is composed of a series of case studies The countries included reflect the interest and experience of the authors who collaborated in preparing the volume No attempt was made to provide representative coverage based upon a comprehensive classification of countries which is why there are no chapters dealing with such exporters as Argentina or Thailand or importers such as Egypt or Japan Despite the somewhat eclectic geographical mix many of the fundamental issues that face the North and the South both individually and collectively are illustrated by the case countries We would argue that there is much to be learned about the effective implementation of policy choices and the constraints that policymakers face by looking at individual country experiences rather than by attempting to generalize on the basis of an abstract theoretical framework There is a dearth of information on what countries actually do in managing domestic grain markets
