Reading The Illegible:

Reading the Illegible Craig Douglas Dworkin, 2003 A poet takes another's text excises this prints over that cancels erases rearranges defaces and generally renders the original unreadable at least in its original terms What twentieth century writers and artists have meant by such appropriations and violations and how the illegible results are to be read is the subject Craig Dworkin takes up in this ambitious work Reading the Illegible explores such formal and structural manipulations in a wide range of exemplary cases John Cage's and Jackson MacLow's practices of writing through other texts the intentional cancellations of text by book artist Ken Campbell and conceptual artist Marcel Broodthaers Susan Howe's experiments in typography and cultural transmission visual complexity in Charles Bernstein Stan Brakhage and Rosemarie Waldrop the sedimentary texts of post minimalist artist Robert Rauschenberg and poets Steve McCaffery and Christopher Dewdney the tactics of erasure employed by the poet Ronald Johnson and book artist Tom Phillips In his scrutiny of these works and with reference to a rich variety of contextual materials from popular and scientific texts to visual artworks political and cultural theories and experimental films Dworkin proposes a new way of apprehending the radical formalism of such unreadable texts His method seeks to unveil what Dworkin describes as the politics of the poem what is signified by its form enacted by its structures implicit in the philosophy of language how it positions its reader and other questions relating to the poem as material object In doing so he exposes the mechanics and function of truly radical formalism as a practice that moves beyond aesthetic considerations into the realm of politics and ideology Thus this book asks us to reconsider poetry as a physical act and helps us to see how the range of a text's linguistic and political maneuvers depends to a great extent on the material conditions of reading and writing as well as on the mechanics of reproduction Methods for Reading the

of Educational Psychology, 1915 Reading the Illegible Laura Leon Llerena, 2023-01-10 Reading the Illegible examines the history of alphabetic writing in early colonial Peru deconstructing the conventional notion of literacy as a weapon of the colonizer This book develops the concept of legibility which allows for an in depth analysis of coexisting Andean and non Native media The book discusses the stories surrounding the creation of the Huarochir Manuscript c 1598 1608 the only surviving book length text written by Indigenous people in Quechua in the early colonial period The manuscript has been deemed untranslatable in all the usual senses but scholar Laura Leon Llerena argues that it offers an important window into the meaning of legibility The concept of legibility allows us to reconsider this unique manuscript within the intertwined histories of literacy knowledge and colonialism Reading the Illegible shows that the anonymous author s of the Huarochir Manuscript along with two contemporaneous Andean authored texts by Joan de Santa Cruz Pachacuti and Felipe Guaman Poma de Ayala rewrote the history of writing and the notion of Christianity by deploying the colonizers technology of alphabetic writing Reading the Illegible weaves together the story of the peoples places objects and media that surrounded the creation of the anonymous Huarochir Manuscript to demonstrate how Andean people endowed the European technology of writing with a new social role in the context of a multimedia society Druggists' Circular ,1919 Computer Vision in Control Systems-4 Margarita N.
