ARTICLE A

Swedish climate activist Greta Thunberg has accepted a ride across the Atlantic by boat to attend two key climate conferences.

The teenager will make the journey aboard the Malizia II, a high-speed 18-metre (60ft) yacht built to race around the globe.

"We'll be sailing across the Atlantic Ocean from the UK to New York in mid August," she tweeted.

Thunberg refuses to fly because of the environmental impact of air travel.

In a Facebook post, Team Malizia said they were "honoured to sail Greta Thunberg emission free across the Atlantic".

Now, the 16-year-old will be able to attend the New York conference. She will later journey by train and by bus south to the annual Santiago Climate Change Conference in December.

Three people have been killed and 15 injured after a gunman attacked a food festival in California.

The gunman was shot dead by police shortly after he began firing, although police are investigating reports that a second suspect may still be at large.

The Gilroy Garlic Festival was about to end for the weekend on Sunday evening, when shots were fired at the site.

Six-year-old Stephen Romero is the first of the dead to be identified. His mother and grandmother were wounded.

It was the 246th mass shooting in the US this year, according to US tracking website Gun Violence Archive.

The killer has been identified as 19-year-old Santino William Legan, according to CBS News.

Witnesses say he was wearing camouflage, and used a rifle during the attack.

The suspect entered the festival after cutting through a perimeter fence, Gilroy Chief of Police Scot Smithee told reporters. He said witnesses reported that a second suspect may have been involved, possibly in a support role.

Voting in Old and New Democracies Richard Gunther,Paul A. Beck,Pedro C. Magalhães,Alejandro Moreno,2015-08-11 Voting in Old and New Democracies examines voting behavior and its determinants based on 26 surveys from 18 countries on five continents between 1992 and 2008 It systematically analyzes the impact on voting choice of factors rooted in the currently dominant approaches to the study of electoral behavior but adds to this analysis factors introduced or reintroduced into this field by the Comparative National Elections Project CNEP socio political values and political communication through media personal discussion and organizational intermediaries It demonstrates empirically that these long neglected factors have significant political impact in many countries that previous studies have overlooked while economic voting is insignificant in most elections once long term partisan attitudes are taken into consideration Its examination of electoral turnout finds that the strongest predictor is participation by other family members demonstrating the importance of intermediation Another chapter surveys cross national variations in patterns of intermediation and examines the impact of general social processes such as socioeconomic and technological modernization country specific factors and individual level attitudinal factors as determinants of those patterns Complementing its cross national comparative analysis is a detailed longitudinal case study of one country over 25 years Finally it examines the extent of support for democracy as well as significant cross national differences in how democracy is understood by citizens Written in a clear and accessible style Voting in Old and New Democracies significantly advances our understanding of citizen attitudes and behavior in election settings

The Toronto School of Communication Theory Rita Watson,Menahem Blondheim,2008-02-23 While never formally recognized as a school of thought in its time the work of a number of University of Toronto scholars over several decades most notably Harold Adams Innis and Marshall McLuhan formulated a number of original attempts to conceptualize communication as a phenomenon and launched radical and innovative conjectures about its consequences This landmark collection of essays reassesses the existence and re evaluates the contribution of the so called Toronto School of Communication While the theories of Innis and McLuhan are notoriously resistant to neat encapsulation some general themes have emerged in scholarly attempts to situate them within the discipline of communications studies that they helped to define Three such themes focus on the effects and consequences of communications emphasis on communications as a process rather than as structure and a sharp focus on the technology of communication or the medium are the most fundamental in characterizing the unique perspective of the Toronto School This collection not only represents a crucial step in defining the Toronto School it also provides close analysis of the ideas of its individual members Handbook of Reading Research P.
