Academic Reading - Second Edition Janet Giltrow, 2002-03-21 This reader has been designed to accompany Giltrow's Academic Writing one of the key principles of which is that there is a close connection between the processes of reading and of writing academic prose Each reading is preceded by introductory commentary questions and suggestions for discussion and the book also includes a brief general introduction As with Giltrow's Academic Writing her Academic Reading is a challenging text At its core are examples of actual academic writing of the sort that students must learn to deal with daily and to write themselves As newcomers to the scholarly community students can find that community's ways of reading and writing mysterious unpredictable and intimidating Academic Reading demystifies the scholarly genres shedding light on their discursive conventions Throughout Academic Reading respects the student writer it engages the reader's interest without ever condescending and it avoids entirely the arbitrary and the dogmatic The second edition is expanded to include twenty one selections nineteen of which come from scholarly publications and more than half of which are new to this edition churchgoing is in decline and it cannot be assumed that people have a good grasp of the Bible's content In this evolving situation how would the person on the street read the Bible Reading the Bible Outside the Church begins to answer this question David Ford spent ten months at a chemical industrial plant providing non churchgoing men with the opportunity to read and respond to five different biblical texts Using an in depth qualitative methodology he charts how their prior experiences of religion sense of non religious identity attitudes towards the Bible and beliefs about the Bible all shaped the readings that occurred Sacred Paths of the West Theodore M Ludwig,2015-08-07 This text combines study of the dynamic historical development of each religious tradition with a comparative thematic structure Students are encouraged to discover and explore the nature of religious experience by comparing basic themes and issues common to all religions finding connections with their own personal experiences By sensitively introducing descriptive material within a comparative thematic structure this text helps students to understand how each religion provides for its adherents patterns and meanings that make up a full way of life Staging Women's Lives in Academia Michelle A. Massé,Nan Bauer-Maglin,2017-01-12

Staging Women's Lives in Academia demonstrates how ostensibly personal decisions are shaped by institutions and advocates for ways that workplaces not women must be changed Addressing life stages ranging from graduate school through retirement these essays represent a gamut of institutions and women who draw upon both personal experience and scholarly expertise The contributors contemplate the slipperiness of the very categories we construct to explain the stages of life and ask key questions such as what does it mean to be a graduate student at fifty Or a full professor at thirty five The book explores the ways women in all stages of academia feel that they are always too young or too old too attentive to work or too overly focused on family By including the voices of those who leave as well as those who stay this collection signals the need to rebuild the house of academia so that women can have not only classrooms of their own but also lives of their own
