W. Shaner, 2019-03-08 In recent years policy makers have been paying more attention to the problems of small farmers in developing countries with the idea of increasing their production and standard of living The policy makers objectives are twofold I 1 I to help those whose welfare is materially below the rest of society and 2 to help a country increase its agricultural production With adequate agricultural policies these two objectives are mutually reinforcing For example increased food production gives farm households additional food for consumption and surpluses for sale Farmers can then use the money from these sales to buy items they do not produce and the buyers of farm products benefit from the increased supplies Farming Systems Research Jayne T. MacLean, 1989 A History of Farming Systems Research Michael P. Collinson, 2000 This book provides a detailed history of farming systems research FSR While it includes the application of FSR to developed country agriculture its main focus is on FSR in its original role with small scale resource poor farmers in less developed countries There are some 40 contributions from nearly 50 contributors from 20 countries illustrating both the diversity and yet the coherence of FSR The five parts of the book cover 1 FSR understanding farmers and their farming FSR origins and perspectives understanding farming systems 2 the applications of farming systems research FSR in technology choice and development FSR in extension and policy formulation 3 institutional commitment to FSR FSR some institutional experiences in national agricultural research dimensions of the organization of FSR training for FSR 4 FSR the professional dimension regional and international associations FSR and the professional disciplines and 5 cutting edge methods abiding issues and the future for FSR Farming Systems Research 1979-1987 Jayne T. ,1982 Animal production systems. Global workshop Manuel E. Ruiz,1995 In Search of Modernity Paul Tiyaambe Zeleza,Ibulaimu Kakoma,2003 Having grappled with the question of modernisation for a long time Africa now faces an issue that with an increasingly knowledge based global economy has only become more urgent in this new millennium This volume examines Africa s scientific and technological literacy production and consumption focusing in detail on the constraints and challenges opportunities and developments and the strategies required to promote the advancement of IT and biotechnology in Africa to help advance our understanding of science and technology developments in Africa Using the Agricultural, Environmental, and Food Literature Barbara S. Hutchinson,Antoinette Paris-Greider,2002-07-17 This text discusses a wide range of print and electronic media to locate hard to find documents navigate poorly indexed subjects and investigate specific research topics and subcategories It includes a chapter on grey and extension literature covering technical reports and international issues Farm Management In Peasant Agriculture Michael Collinson,2019-03-04 First published in 1972 Farm Management in Peasant Agriculture remains the only detailed discussion of on site research techniques for economists working on the development of small holder agriculture in Africa Part 1 describes the conditions of the agricultural sector within which the African peasant farmer must operate and then outlines an approach to farm management tailored to those conditions Part 2 sets out the research planning and investigation tasks implied by the approach Survey techniques as well as the value of a pre survey for understanding general attributes of a farm system are reviewed and alternative data collection methods are elaborated Part 3 shows how research data can be used in planning content for extension programs Dr Collinson concludes with the details of a planning method that interpolates changes in farm practice into a model of the existing farm system and that projects a sequence of changes representing a sequence of extension content on the basis of farmer acceptability The Analysis of Response in Crop and Livestock Production John L. Dillon,Jamie G Anderson,2012-12-02 The role of the agricultural scientist is to manipulate crop and livestock response phenomena so that they serve society s needs better enabling countries to obtain full benefit from their agricultural resources By producing food more efficiently resources can be made available for non agricultural development and other needs beyond the essentials of food and fibre This text provides an introductory outline of the analytical principles involved in appraising the efficiency of crop fertilizer and livestock feed response It provides students of both agricultural science and economics with a simple but formal exposition of the why how and wherefore of the principles of crop and livestock analysis thereby helping to further co operative effort among biological and economic researchers The third edition has been updated and revised with additions relating to the principles of modelling the concept of economic duality as pertinent to response processes the appraisal of aggregate response and the economics of response research When "conservation" Leads to Land Degradation Lesterlin, G., Giordano, Mark, Keohavong, G.,2005 In this report we test the hypothesis that the primary factors behind the farming system changes in Ban Lak Sip lay not in the village itself but rather in the broader Laotian social economic and political setting The study uses an integrated approach that examines both the physical and social dimensions of land use and soil erosion in Ban Lak Sip within this broader system environment Agricultural Economics Research,1983 Transferring Food Production Technology To Developing Nations Joseph J Molnar,2019-06-18 This book explores the social economic and policy problems associated with introducing new agriculture and aquaculture technology to developing nations as a means for expanding food supplies and increasing well being The contributors examine three general facets of planning for technology transfer and consider methodologies that enable effective Modeling Farm Decisions For Policy Analysis Kenneth H Baum,2019-03-08 Microeconomic modeling has been an important tool for agricultural economists for several decades and promises to be important for addressing the research problems of the 1980s as well This volume explores the possibilities for using micromodeling to analyze how individual farm businesses react to and are affected by farm policies Although this purpose represents only one potential use of micro modeling effective modeling for policy analysis necessitates a broad look from several historical analytical and institutional perspectives The Micromodeling Conference held November 18 20 1981 at Airlie House Virginia under the auspices of the U S Department of Agriculture s Economic Research Service and the Farm Foundation reflected these concerns Rural Women in Farming Systems Research Farzana Masood,Mahjabeen,1989
