Readings In Public Opinion:

Public Opinion and Propaganda Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues, 1954      Politicians' Reading of Public Opinion and Its Biases Stefaan Walgrave, Karolin Soontjens, Julie Sevenans, 2022 Politicians care a lot about public opinion they put great effort in getting to know what the people want They almost constantly assess public opinion through a large variety of sources And although most of them define themselves as trustees in their actual day to day decision making almost all politicians behave as delegates in the sense that they hardly ever deliberately cross public opinion but act in line with it or act not at all Notwithstanding their great focus on public opinion politicians perceptions of what it is that the people want are remarkably inaccurate They not only misjudge the share of people supporting specific policies they also quite often position the majority on the wrong side of the debate Their perceptions of public opinion are not only inaccurate but most of the time biased as well Politicians perceive the public to hold more right wing positions than it actually does Together the inaccuracy and bias of politicians public opinion perceptions challenge the idea that elected representatives make representative democracy work by relying on their public opinion perceptions In Flanders in Belgium the political system this books looks at politicians do everything within their power to understand citizens preferences but they do not succeed in acting responsively because of their mistaken perceptions      Voice of the People Reo Millard Christenson, o M. Christenson, 1967      Voice of the People. Readings in Public Opinion and Propaganda. Reo M. Christenson, Robert O[wen] M[a]cWilliams Reo Millard Christenson, 1962      Early Media Effects Theory & the Suggestion Doctrine: Selected Readings, 1895-1935 Patrick Parsons, 2024-12-22 While much has been written on the history of media effects research in the United States a casual review of the literature could reasonably lead one to believe that little if any such work was conducted until the 1940s The anthology consisting of over 30 public domain works originally publishing from the late 19th century to the mid 1930s demonstrates the rich and varied study of media effects before mid century much of it centered on the concept of suggestion What media scholars know today as persuasion social psychologists of the early 1900s would have understood as the process of suggestion The works collected in Early Media Effects Theory the Suggestion Doctrine include the original statements on the subject from many of the leading social theorists of the age among them figures such as Gabriel Tarde and Gustave Le Bon in France and James Baldwin Edward Ross and Floyd Allport in the United States      A Selected List of U.S. Readings on Development Saul Milton Katz, Frank McGowan, 1963      Principles and Practice of American Politics: Classic and Contemporary Readings, 5th Edition Samuel Kernell, Steven S.
