

Engaging Community As A Strategy For Teaching Family Violence Education In Nursing

Introduction

Family violence is a multifaceted problem that has far reaching health effects. It is only in the last two decades that family violence education has been included in baccalaureate nursing education. Due to the limited number of class hours available to cover this topic, a highly effective pedagogical strategy needs to be used. The purpose of this presentation is to present a family violence pedagogy that uses multiple approaches to enlighten and engage baccalaureate nursing students on family violence.

Strategy

Day 1: Students lead class discussions based on assigned reading from multiple sources.

Day 2: A 4-5 person panel of community members talk about what they find as their biggest challenge in dealing with the issue of partner violence. Panel members may include police, clergy, child protection, shelter staff, ER staff, police, judges, county sheriffs, teachers, and/or social workers.

Day 3: The last day of class is used for debriefing and creating goals.

Usual Results

Day 2: This panel of real people dealing with this very real issue is usually an experiential awakening for the students. In addition, students become especially sensitive when panelists speak from a perspective that their readings have noted as detrimental to the victims of family violence.

Day 3: Students realize that family violence is happening in their own communities and are disturbed by it. They see violence in relationships on campus, such as Greek rush, and sports team indoctrinations. They become pro-active in enlightening others about abuse.

For example, one student sent a district judge a book on domestic violence after listening to him describe his lack of empathy for women who "choose to stay" in abusive relationships.

Students have designed and implemented research on the perceived role of clergy by congregational members as being a helpful resource or not for victims/survivors.

Nursing students have embraced the issue as a project for their student nurses association to educate students on campus.

Some students have volunteered at the local shelter.

Some students have taken a political activist role in working for funding, advocating for political change.

Usual Results

Day 1: The student led discussions often raise questions about: "Where is this happening?" "Why is this happening?" "Is this really happening?" "Why don't the women leave?" "Why is this "allowed" to happen?"

Student comments

"I began to understand the perspective of the victim a little deeper than I ever had before. It was rather eye opening."

"The situation is way more complex than I expected. It isn't simply "I'm being abused. I'm going to leave."

"The most important thing I learned was how beneficial it would be if all the services for victims of violence would work together. There are so many barriers in place for the victim."

"It was interesting to hear how the panel members work with and against each other."

"I finally put everything together --what the woman from the shelter was saying: A societal movement is needed to stop this. Why is it we have abusers in the first place?"
