Evidence, Ethos and Experiment P. Wenzel Geissler, Catherine Molyneux, 2017-05 Medical research has been central to biomedicine in Africa for over a century and Africa along with other tropical areas has been crucial to the development of medical science At present study populations in Africa participate in an increasing number of medical research projects and clinical trials run by both public institutions and private companies Global debates about the politics and ethics of this research are growing and local concerns are prompting calls for social studies of the trial communities produced by this scientific work Drawing on rich ethnographic and historiographic material this volume represents the emergent field of anthropological inquiry that links

Africanist ethnography to recent concerns with science the state and the culture of late capitalism in Africa      Landscapes of Activism Joel Christian Reed, 2018-07-09 AIDS activists are often romanticized as extremely noble and selfless However the relationships among HIV support group members highlighted in Landscapes of Activism are hardly utopian or ideal At first the group has everything it needs a thriving membership and support from major donors Soon the group undergoes an identity crisis over money and power eventually fading from the scene As government and development institutions embraced activist demands decentralizing AIDS care through policies of health systems strengthening civil society was increasingly rendered obsolete Charting this transition from subjects to citizens and back again reveals the inefficacy of protest and the importance of community resilience The product of in depth ethnography and focused anthropological inquiry this is the first book on AIDS activists in Mozambique AIDS activism s strange decline in southern Africa rather than a reflection of citizen apathy is the direct result of targeted state and donor intervention      Health in Diversity - Diversity in Health Katharina Crepaz, Ulrich Becker, Elisabeth Wacker, 2020-02-03 European public discourse often frames forced migration solely as a security issue and ignores the implications of societal diversity for health quality of life and well being in both Africa and Europe The present volume offers an interdisciplinary and international look at the relationship between refugees diversity and health including health care policies socio political framework conditions environmental factors the situation in refugee camps quality of life approaches and economical perspectives      Affectedness And Participation In International Institutions Jan Sändig, Jochen von Bernstorff, Andreas Hasenclever, 2020-06-09 Affectedness and Participation in International Institutions looks at the growing involvement of affected persons in global politics such as young climate activists indigenous movements and persons affected by HIV AIDS Since the early 2000s international organisations within various policy areas have increasingly recognised and involved affected persons organisations This has promised to address long standing legitimacy and democracy deficits of international policy making and norm setting Yet the powerful do not easily cede the terrain Some major states classic NGOs and intergovernmental organisations seek to curtail the influence of the newcomers The authors within this collection study these contestations from an interdisciplinary political science and international law perspective Based on evidence from a broad range of policy areas we address some of the crucial questions What does it mean to be affected How can affected groups meaningfully participate in international negotiations Whose voices do still remain excluded Ultimately the authors chart whether the rising involvement of the most affected will re shape global politics and social struggles on the ground Taking a dual political science and international law perspective Affectedness and Participation in International Institutions will be of great interest to scholars of civil society in global governance international law and international institutions This book was originally published as a special issue of Third World Thematics      Report on the Global AIDS Epidemic , 2006      Seeing Red Suzanne Hindmarch, Michael Orsini, Marilou Gagnon, 2018-01-01 Featuring the diverse experiences of people living with HIV Seeing Red highlights various perspectives from academics activists and community workers who think ahead to the new and complex challenges associated with the condition

Un Análisis Socio-Criminológico de la Epidemia del VIH Bruno Meini, 2022-03-01 En el mundo del siglo XXI las epidemias son sucesos biológicos y sociales comunes y el VIH quizás lo enfatice mejor que cualquier otra enfermedad Sin duda la investigación científica ha dado importantes pasos hacia adelante mientras tanto el campo de la investigación social se encuentra todavía en sus etapas iniciales y muchos esperan una respuesta igualmente auspiciosa Un Análisis Socio-Criminológico de la Epidemia del VIH ofrece un análisis integral de las dimensiones socio-criminológicas multifacéticas de la epidemia del VIH y contribuye positivamente al debate sociológico en curso sobre las enfermedades infecciosas El autor pretende crear una epistemología independiente del VIH para explicar las fuerzas sociales que impactan y determinan el curso y la experiencia de la epidemia al mismo tiempo que busca replantear el discurso popular sobre el VIH para reflejar las conceptualizaciones sociológicas Este último paso conduce a la identificación del concepto de interacción social como una herramienta adecuada para resaltar la compleja naturaleza social de este virus El desafío sin precedentes que plantea la epidemia para la comunidad internacional exige una cooperación global dirigida a evaluar los diversos aspectos de los problemas que muchos actores de este trágico drama deben abordar Dado su atractivo internacional de amplio alcance este libro también se recomienda para aquellos involucrados o interesados en problemas de salud global y enfermedades infecciosas Ser de particular interés para los investigadores médicos los trabajadores de la salud los científicos sociales los trabajadores sociales los encargados de formular políticas los trabajadores humanitarios los activistas del VIH y los derechos humanos y los estudiantes de posgrado
