The New Peasantries Jan Douwe van der Ploeg, 2012-05-23 This book explores the position role and significance of the peasantry in an era of globalization particularly of the agrarian markets and food industries It argues that the peasant condition is characterized by a struggle for autonomy that finds expression in the creation and development of a self governed resource base and associated forms of sustainable development In this respect the peasant mode of farming fundamentally differs from entrepreneurial and corporate ways of farming The author demonstrates that the peasantries are far from waning Instead both industrialized and developing countries are witnessing complex and richly chequered processes of re peasantization with peasants now numbering over a billion worldwide The author s arguments are based on three longitudinal studies in Peru Italy and The Netherlands that span 30 years and provide original and thought provoking insights into rural and agrarian development processes The book combines and integrates different bodies of literature the rich traditions of peasant studies development sociology rural sociology neo institutional economics and the recently
