Report of the Visit of the Education Commission to Maharashtra India. Education Commission,1965 Politics and Policies for Water Resources Management in India M. Dinesh Kumar,2020-06-29 This comprehensive volume explores the interface between politics and policy making in the water management sector of India The authors discuss the nature of the political discourse on water management in India and what characterizes this discourse They also explore how this discourse has influenced the process of framing water related policies in India particularly through the academics bureaucrat politician nexus and the growing influence of the civil society groups on policy makers which are the defining feature of this process and which have produced certain policy outcomes that are not supported by sufficient scientific evidence The book reveals that the social and management sciences despite being increasingly relevant in contemporary water management are unable to impress upon traditional engineer dominated water administration to seek solutions to complex water problems owing to a lack of interdisciplinary perspective in their research The authors also examine the current deadlock in undertaking sectoral reforms due to existing water policies not being honoured This collection includes several research studies which suggest legal institutional policy alternatives for addressing the problems in areas such as irrigation rural and urban water supply flood control and adaptation to climate variability and change It was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Water Resources Development Cities in South Asia Crispin Bates,Minoru Mio,2015-05-22 Globalisation has long historical roots in South Asia but economic liberalisation has led to uniquely rapid urban growth in South Asia during the past decade This book brings together a multidisciplinary collection of chapters on contemporary and historical themes explaining this recent explosive growth and transformations on going in the cities of this region The essays in this volume attempt to shed light on the historical roots of these cities and the traditions that are increasingly placed under strain by modernity as well as exploring the lived experience of a new generation of city dwellers and their indelible impact on those who live at the city's margins. The book discusses that previously cities such as Mumbai grew by accumulating a vast hinterland of slum dwellers who depressed wages and supplied cheap labour to the city's industrial economy. However, it goes on to show that the new growth of cities such as Bangalore, Hyderabad and Madras in south India, or Delhi and Calcutta in the north of India, is more capital intensive, export driven and oriented towards the information technology and service sectors. The book explains that these cities have attracted a new elite of young educated workers with money to spend and an outlook on life that is often a complex mix of modern ideas and conservative tradition. It goes on to cover topics such as the politics of town planning, consumer culture and the struggles among multiple identities in the city. By tracing the genealogies of cities, it gives a useful insight into the historical conditioning that determines how cities negotiate new changes and influences. There will soon be more mega cities in South Asia than anywhere else in the world, and this book provides an in-depth analysis of this growth. It will be of interest to students and scholars of South Asian History, Politics and Anthropology, as well as those working in the fields of urbanisation and globalisation.

Democratic Decentralization in India E. Venkatesu, 2016-06-10. This book explores experiences, issues and challenges which have emerged since Constitutional status was granted to the local bodies at grassroots level in India in the early 1990s. Among other issues, it focuses on the contrasting political ideas of Mahatma Gandhi and B. R. Ambedkar on Panchayati Raj Institutions, the legal and constitutional provisions which were introduced through the 73rd and 74th Amendment Acts, the devolution process, status and challenges of democracy for local governmental bodies, empowerment of the women and lower castes through reservations in the local bodies, governance in Schedule V and VI tribal areas. Based on extensive fieldwork across India, this volume will be useful to scholars and researchers of political science, sociology, public administration, as well as policymakers and civil society activists.

Municipal Finance in India Gokulananda Dash, 1988. Cyber Economic Crime in India Basing Rajput, 2020-04-22. This volume provides an overview of cyber economic crime in India, analyzing fifteen years of data and specific case studies from Mumbai to add to the limited research in cyber economic crime detection. Centering around an integrated victim-centered approach to investigating a global crime on the local level, the book examines the criminal justice system response to cyber economic crime and proposes new methods of detection and prevention. It considers the threat from a national security perspective, a cybercrime perspective and as a technical threat to business and technology installations. Among the topics discussed: Changing landscape of crime in cyberspace, Cybercrime typology, Legal framework for cyber economic crime in India, Cyber security mechanisms in India. A valuable resource for law enforcement and police working on the local, national and global level in the detection and prevention of cybercrime. Cyber Economic Crime in India will also be of interest to researchers and practitioners working in financial crimes and white collar crime.
