A Companion to Modernist Poetry David E. Chinitz, Gail McDonald, 2014-03-31 A COMPANION TO MODERNIST POETRY
A Companion to Modernist Poetry A Companion to Modernist Poetry presents contemporary approaches to modernist poetry in a uniquely in depth and accessible text The first section of the volume reflects the attention to historical and cultural context that has been especially fruitful in recent scholarship The second section focuses on various movements and groupings of poets placing writers in literary history and indicating the currents and countercurrents whose interaction generated the category of modernism as it is now broadly conceived The third section traces the arcs of twenty one poets careers illustrated by analyses of key works The Companion thus offers breadth in its presentation of historical and literary contexts and depth in its attention to individual poets it brings recent scholarship to bear on the subject of modernist poetry while also providing guidance on poets who are historically important and who are likely to appear on syllabi and to attract critical interest for many years to come Edited by two highly respected and notable critics in the field A Companion to Modernist Poetry boasts a varied list of contributors who have produced an intense focused study of modernist poetry

The Oxford Handbook of the Science of Science Communication Kathleen Hall Jamieson, Dan Kahan, Dietram A. Scheufele, 2017-05-17 The proposal to vaccinate adolescent girls against the human papilloma virus ignited political controversy as did the advent of fracking and a host of other emerging technologies These disputes attest to the persistent gap between expert and public perceptions Complicating the communication of sound science and the debates that surround the societal applications of that science is a changing media environment in which misinformation can elicit belief without corrective context and likeminded individuals are prone to seek ideologically comforting information within their own self constructed media enclaves Drawing on the expertise of leading science communication scholars from six countries The Oxford Handbook of the Science of Science Communication not only charts the media landscape from news and entertainment to blogs and films but also examines the powers and perils of human biases from the disposition to seek confirming evidence to the inclination to overweight endpoints in a trend line In the process it draws together the best available social science on ways to communicate science while also minimizing the pernicious effects of human bias The Handbook adds case studies exploring instances in which communication undercut or facilitated the access to scientific evidence The range of topics addressed is wide from genetically engineered organisms and nanotechnology to vaccination controversies and climate change Also unique to this book is a focus on the complexities of involving the public in decision making about the uses of science the regulations that should govern its application and the ethical boundaries within which science should operate The Handbook is an invaluable resource for researchers in the communication fields particularly in science and health communication as well as to scholars involved in research on scientific topics susceptible to distortion in partisan debate The Library World ,1910 Intercultural Communication and Science and Technology Studies Luis

Reyes-Galindo, Tiago Ribeiro Duarte, 2017-08-18 This timely and engaging book addresses communicative issues that arise when science and technology travel across socio cultural boundaries The authors discuss interactions between different scientific communities scientists and policy makers science and the public scientists and artists and other situations where science clashes with other socio cultural domains The volume includes theoretical proposals of how to deal with intercultural communication related to science and technology as well as rich case studies that illustrate the challenges and strategies deployed in these situations Individual studies explore Europe Latin America and Africa thus including diverse Global North and South contexts Library world ,1910 East India (Calcutta University Commission) India. Calcutta University Commission,1920 International Books in Print, 1995 Barbara Hopkinson,[Anonymus AC01401231],1995 Arts Methods for the Self-Representation of Undergraduate Students Miranda Matthews,2023-04-07 This timely book explores the transitional experiences of undergraduates in minority groups studying at university and how arts methods and practices can play an important role in facilitating these transitions Based on research from UK universities this volume is the first to draw together the experiences of educators in the humanities and social sciences who integrate sensory methodologies in taught curriculum in relation to arts educators who add extra curricular arts practice It offers an original contextualised analysis of how to enable university structures to adapt to complexity difference and diversity taking the view that arts practice forms meeting points for confident interconnection and spaces of self representation It outlines the novel concept of sensory transition in how arts practices can be used to address issues of inclusion diversity and self representation for minority groups Each chapter offers an in depth analysis of significant issues such as dimensions of race gender and class and the specificities of social and cultural group experiences as they occur in arts practice The book reflects on the decolonisation of university structures and curriculum and demonstrates how universities can support students and build spaces for self representation in academic courses Accessible and investigative this book is essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students in the field of higher education inclusion and arts methods It will also be of great interest to higher education staff interested in decolonisation diversity and university futures Imagined Futures Max Saunders,2019-10-22 This study provides the first substantial history and analysis of the To Day and To Tomorrow series of 110 books published by Kegan Paul Trench and Tr bner and E P Dutton in the USA from 1923 to 1931 in which writers chose a topic described its present and predicted its future Contributors included J B S Haldane Bertrand Russell Vernon Lee Robert Graves Vera Brittain Sylvia Pankhurst Hugh MacDiarmid James Jeans J D Bernal Winifred Holtby Andr Maurois and many others The study combines a comprehensive account of its interest history and range with a discussion of its key concerns tropes and influence The argument focuses on science and technology not only as the subject of many of the volumes but also as method especially through the paradigm of the human sciences applied to other disciplines and as a source of metaphors for representing other domains It also includes chapters on war technology cultural studies and literature and the arts This book aims to reinstate the series as a vital contribution to the writing of modernity and to reappraise modernism's relation to the future establishing a body of progressive writing which moves beyond the discourses of post Darwinian degeneration and post war disenchantment projecting human futures rather than mythic or classical pasts It also shows how as a co-ordinated body of futurological writing the series is also revealing about the nature and practices of modern futurology itself

Anarchism and the Crisis of Representation Jesse S. Cohn, 2006-09 Anarchism and the Crisis of Representation is intended to provide readers of literary criticism art history political philosophy and the social sciences with a fresh perspective from which to revisit dead end theoretical debates over concepts such as agency essentialism and realism and at the same time to offer a new take on anarchism itself challenging conventional readings of the tradition The anarchism that emerges from this reinterpretation is neither a musty rationalism nor a millenarian irrationalism but a living body of thought that points beyond the sterile antinomies of post modern and Marxist theory BOOK JACKET

Calcutta University Commission, 1920 Report Calcutta University Commission, 1919 Report Calcutta (India) University commission. 1917-1919, 1920 Scientific and Technological Thinking Michael E. Gorman, Ryan D. Tweney, David C. Gooding, Alexandra P. Kincannon, 2004-09-22 At the turn of the 21st century the most valuable commodity in society is knowledge particularly new knowledge that may give a culture company or laboratory an adaptive advantage Knowledge about the cognitive processes that lead to discovery and invention can enhance the probability of making valuable new discoveries and inventions Such knowledge needs to be made widely available to ensure that no particular interest group corners the market on techno scientific creativity Knowledge can also facilitate the development of business strategies and social policies based on a genuine understanding of the creative process Furthermore through an understanding of principles underlying the cognitive processes related to discovery educators can utilize these principles to teach students effective problem solving strategies as part of their education as future scientists This book takes the reader out onto the cutting edge of research in scientific and technological thinking The editors advocate a multiple method approach chapters include detailed case studies of contemporary and historical practices experiments computational simulations and innovative theoretical analyses The editors attempt a provocative synthesis of this work at the end In order to achieve true scientific and technological progress an understanding of the process by which species are transforming the world is needed This book makes an important step in that direction by leading to breakthroughs in the understanding of discovery and invention Resources in Education, 2001-04 Miniature and the English Imagination Melinda Alliker Rabb, 2019-02-14 Focusing on the phenomenon of miniaturization in material culture literature and theories of cognition this study examines the appeal and function of the small scale during the period from 1650 to 1765 Drawing on three interconnected areas of scholarship Melinda Alliker Rabb analyzes the human capacity to supplement direct experience of the world through representation in order to gain knowledge of that world and to attempt

control over it Assessing two kinds of miniature the real and the imagined allows rethinking of works by Swift Pope Gay Johnson Sterne and others and shows how the fictional miniature can correspond meaningfully to the world of things The phenomenon of scaling down objects as various as teapots bureaus globes buckets spoons battlefields and diving bells has a relationship to large scale events as various as financial revolution globalization scientific discovery war and other events that challenge old modes of representation and demand new ones Current Literature on Science of Science ,1995
