Migratory Settings ,2015-06-29 Migratory Settings proposes a shift in perspective from migration as movement from place to place to migration as installing movement within place Migration not only takes place between places but also has its effects on place in place In brief we suggest a view on migration in which place is neither reified nor transcended but thickened as it becomes the setting of the variegated memories imaginations dreams fantasies nightmares anticipations and idealizations of both migrants and native inhabitants that experiences of migration bring into contact with each other Migration makes place overdetermined turning it into the mise en scene of different histories Hence movement does not lead to placelessness but to the intensification and overdetermination of place its heterotopicality At the same time place does not unequivocally authenticate or validate knowledge but shot through with the transnational and the transcultural exceeds it ceaselessly Our contributions take us to the migratory settings of a fictional exhibition a staged political wedding a walking tour in a museum African appropriations of Shakespeare and Sophocles Gollwitz Germany Calais France the body after a heart transplant refugees family portraiture a garden in Vermont the womb With contributions by Mieke Bal Maaïke Bleeker Paulina Aroch Astrid van Weyenberg Sarah de Mul Annette Seidel Arpacı Sudeep Dasgupta Wim Staat Maria Boletsi Griselda Pollock Alex Rotas and Murat Aydemir

Creating Heritage Thomas Carter,David Harvey,Roy Jones,Iain Robertson,2019-11-15 This book investigates the selection process of heritagisation to understand what specific pasts are being selected or rejected for representation who is selecting them how and to whom they are being represented and why they are being presented or dismissed in the ways that they are Some aspects of our pasts are venerated and memorialised for a variety of reasons while others are forgotten or even hidden This volume thus provides examples from across a spectrum Some phenomena are well suited to heritagisation such as animals memorialised for their bravery long past agricultural techniques and implements and impressive landscapes However this book also deals with products e g tobacco historical periods e g the Third Reich and scientific techniques e g genetic modification with negative connotations that extend beyond their heritage attributes This volume considers how the actors in the heritage industry admit valorise prioritise and rationalise historic resources as heritage products These findings provide practical examples of how heritage institutions privilege frame and or exclude a wide range of heritage items They also contrast the invocations of sectional local national or class based and more cosmopolitan heritages and consider the extent to which innovation and change are or can be acknowledged within the heritage discourse

The Culture of History Billie Melman,2006-06-22 In this original and widely researched book Billie Melman explores the culture of history during the age of modernity Her book is about the production of English pasts the multiplicity of their representations and the myriad ways in which the English looked at history sometimes in the most literal sense of looking and made use of it in a social and material urban world and in their imagination Covering the period between the Napoleonic Wars and the Coronation of 1953 Melman recoups the work of antiquarians historians novelists and publishers wax modellers cartoonists and illustrators painters playwrights and actors reformers and educationalists film stars and their fans musicians and composers opera fans and radio listeners Avoiding a separation between high and low culture Melman analyses nineteenth century plebeian culture and twentieth century mass culture and their venues like Madame Tussaud s Chamber of Horrors panoramas national monuments like the Tower of London and films as well as studying forms of minority art notably opera She demonstrates how history was produced and how it circulated from texts visual images and sounds to people and places and back to a variety of texts and images While paying attention to individuals making do with culture Melman considers constrictions of class gender the state and the market place on the consumption of history Focusing on two privileged pasts the Tudor monarchy and the French Revolution the latter seen as an English event and as the framework for narrating and comprehending history Melman shows that during the nineteenth century the most popular longest enduring and most highly commercialized images of the past represented it not as cosy and secure but rather as dangerous disorderly and violent The past was also imagined as an urban place rather than as rural In Melman s account City not green Country is the centre of a popular version of the past whose central Images are the dungeon the gallows and the guillotine

Cultural Heritage in the Arabian Peninsula Karen Exell, Trinidad Rico, 2016-04-22 Heritage projects in the Arabian Peninsula are developing rapidly Museums and heritage sites are symbols of shifting national identities and a way of placing the Arabian Peninsula states on the international map Global i e Western heritage standards and practices have been utilised for the rapid injection of heritage expertise in museum development and site management and for international recognition The use of Western heritage models in the Arabian Peninsula inspires two key areas for research which this book examines the obscuring of indigenous concepts and practices of heritage and expressions of cultural identity and the tensions between local community concepts of heritage and identity and the new national identities being constructed through museums and heritage sites at a state level
