Feminist Anthropology Ellen Lewin, 2009-02-09 Feminist Anthropology surveys the history of feminist anthropology and offers students and scholars a fascinating collection of both classic and contemporary articles grouped to highlight key themes from the past and present Offers vibrant examples of feminist ethnographic work rather than synthetic overviews of the field Each section is framed by a theoretical and bibliographic essay Includes a thoughtful introduction to the volume that provides context and discusses the intellectual foremothers of the field including Margaret Mead Ruth Landes Phyllis Kaberry and Zora Neale Hurston

Theorising and Representing Maternal Realities Julie Kelso, Marie Porter, 2009-05-05 Maternal research is a rapidly expanding multi disciplinary form of scholarship Prior to second wave feminism most motherhood literature was written from a male perspective This literature focused on telling mothers how to practice mothering without acknowledging the expertise of the mothers themselves Research on motherhood as it is experienced in all its facets by mothers has only emerged in recent decades This book is aimed at expanding academic knowledge of motherhood from a feminist perspective looking particularly at how maternal subjectivities can be represented and theorised When mothers themselves academic or not are responsible for theorisation and representation of maternal realities dominant theories and representations of motherhood are radically challenged In Theorising and Representing Maternal Realities the contributors argue that it is no longer acceptable to regard mothers as mere objects of knowledge and research They are primarily the subjects of knowledge and research

Reproductive Agency, Medicine and the State Maya Unnithan-Kumar, 2005-11-01 Recent years have seen many changes in human reproduction resulting from state and medical interventions in childbearing processes Based on empirical work in a variety of societies and countries this volume considers the relationship between reproductive processes of fertility pregnancy childbirth and the postpartum period on the one hand and attitudes medical technologies and state health policies in diverse cultural contexts on the other

The New Reproductive Order Sarah Franklin, Marcia C. Inhorn, 2025-04-22 The New Reproductive Order documents the effects of half a century of new reproductive technologies on ideas and practices surrounding fertility infertility fertility control and fertility decline that is on reproduction itself causing profound transformations in family life national political agendas global economies and environmental movements in the twenty first century

Reproducing Fictional Ethnographies Anna Apostolidou, 2023-01-10 This book focuses on the example of surrogate motherhood to explore the interplay between new reproductive technologies and new ethnographic writing technologies It seeks to interrogate the potential of fictional multimodality in ethnography and to illuminate the generative possibilities of digital artefacts in anthropological research It also makes a case for the tailor made character of ethnographic writing in the digital era arguing that research quests and representational modalities can be paired together to develop unique narrative forms corresponding to each particular topic s traits and analytical affordances Focusing on the intersections of assisted reproduction technologies and digitally mediated writing this study casts light upon the value of the affective the fictional and the real in the anthropological research and writing of relatedness Analyzing the situated knowledge of ethnographers and research interlocutors it experiments with multimodal storytelling and revisits the century long debate on the affinity between an object of study and the possibilities for its representation As the first attempt to bring together digital anthropology fiction writing and the ethnography of surrogacy this book fuses the genealogy of feminist critique on the orthodox phallogentric and heteronormative aspects of academic discourse with the input of digital humanities vis vis troubling the conventional formal properties of scholarly writing

The SAGE Handbook of Fieldwork Dick Hobbs, Richard Wright, 2006-01-26 Fieldwork is widely practiced but little written about yet accounts of the exotic mundane complex and often dangerous are central to not only sociology and anthropology but also geography social psychology and criminology This handbook presents the first major overview of this method in all its variety introducing the reader to the strengths weaknesses and real world applications of fieldwork techniques

The Elusive Embryo Gaylene Becker, 2000-12-20 This work examines the industry of reproductive technology from the perspective of the consumer An analysis is made of the array of medical options available to those with fertility problems and the financial and emotional toll is assessed

On Having an Own Child Karin Lesnik-Oberstein, 2018-04-24 How are ideas of genetics blood the family and relatedness created and consumed This is the first book ever to consider in depth why people want children and specifically why people want children produced by reproductive technologies such as IVF ICSI etc As the book demonstrates even books ostensibly devoted to the topic of why people want children and the reasons for using reproductive technologies tend to start with the assumption that this is either simply a biological drive to reproduce or a socially instilled desire This book uses psychoanalysis not to provide an answer in its own right but as an analytic tool to probe more deeply the problems of these assumptions The idea that reproductive technologies simply supply an own child is questioned in this volume in terms of asking how and why reproductive technologies are seen to create this ownness Given that it is the idea of an own child that underpins and justifies the whole use of reproductive technologies this book is a crucial and wholly original intervention in this complex and highly topical area

Adopting After Infertility Marilyn Crawshaw, Rachel Balen, 2010 Adopting after Infertility is an informative interdisciplinary book that addresses the issues that professionals and adopters themselves face when going through the adoption process and the impact of infertility on their experiences The book includes chapters on the effects of infertility why people choose adoption and the assessment process

New Intimacies, Old Desires Oishik Sircar, Dipika Jain, 2017-06-21 In the last 15 years queer movements in many parts of the world have helped secure the rights of queer people These moments have been accompanied by the brutal rise of crony capitalism the violent consequences of the war on terror the hyper juridification of politics the financialization managerialization of social movements and the medicalization of non heteronormative identities practices How do we critically read the celebratory global proliferation of queer rights in these neoliberal times This volume responds to the complicated moment in the history of queer struggles by analysing laws state policies and cultures of activism to show how new intimacies between queer sexuality and neoliberalism that celebrate modernity and the birth of the liberated sexual citizen are in fact reproducing the old colonial desire of civilizing the native By paying particular attention to the problematics of race religion and class this volume engages in a rigorous self reflexive critique of global queer politics and its engagements confrontations and negotiations with modernity and its investments in liberalism legalism and militarism with the objective of queering the ethics of our queer politics Published by Zubaan Gender in Cross-Cultural Perspective Adrienne E. Strong, Richard Powis, 2024-08-19 This fully updated new edition of Gender in Cross Cultural Perspective carefully introduces and responds to changes in anthropological approaches to and perspectives on gender With two new editors and new authors from the Global South and underrepresented communities it combines theoretically and ethnographically based chapters to examine gender roles and ideology around the world The book is divided thematically into five parts with the editors opening each section with a succinct introduction to the principal issues The book retains some of the classic chapters while offering new contributions and extended discussions throughout on methodology It also has entirely new contributions that reflect more recent developments in the discipline including more emphasis on LGBTQ communities COVID and migration This new edition also features additional support for teaching and learning including a film list and discussion questions that are now offered as supplemental online materials The eighth edition of Gender in Cross Cultural Perspective continues to be an essential resource for undergraduate and graduate students encountering the anthropology of gender for the first time Institutionalizing Assisted Reproductive Technologies Alexander Styhre, Rebecka Arman, 2016-02-12 Reproductive medicine has been very successful at developing new therapies in recent years and people having difficulties conceiving have more options available to them than ever before These developments have led to a new institutional landscape emerging and this innovative volume explores how health and social structures are being developed and reconfigured to take into account the increased use of assisted reproductive technologies such as IVF treatments Using Sweden as a central case study it explores how the process of institutionalizing new assisted reproductive technologies includes regulatory agencies ethical committees political bodies and discourses scientific communities patient and activists groups and entrepreneurial activities in the existing clinics and new entrants to the industry It draws on new theoretical developments in institutional theory and outlines how health innovations are always embedded in social relations including ethical political and financial concerns This book will be of interest to advanced students and academics in health management science and technology studies the sociology of health and illness and organisational theory The New Arab Man Marcia C. Inhorn, 2012-03-25 Middle Eastern Muslim men have been widely vilified as terrorists religious zealots and brutal oppressors of women The New Arab Man challenges these stereotypes with the stories of ordinary Middle Eastern men as they struggle to overcome infertility and childlessness through assisted reproduction Drawing on two decades of ethnographic research across the Middle East with hundreds of men from a variety of social and religious backgrounds Marcia Inhorn shows how the new Arab man is self consciously rethinking the patriarchal masculinity of his forefathers and unseating received wisdoms This is especially true in childless Middle Eastern marriages where contrary to popular belief infertility is more common among men than women Inhorn captures the marital moral and material commitments of couples undergoing assisted reproduction revealing how new technologies are transforming their lives and religious sensibilities And she looks at the changing manhood of husbands who undertake transnational egg quests set against the backdrop of war and economic uncertainty out of devotion to the infertile wives they love Trenchant and emotionally gripping The New Arab Man traces the emergence of new masculinities in the Middle East in the era of biotechnology The Wrong Prescription for Women Maureen C. McHugh, Joan C. Chrisler, 2015-07-14 This groundbreaking book challenges the medicalized approach to women's experiences including menstruation pregnancy and menopause and suggests that there are better ways for women to cope with real issues they may face Before any woman diets douches botoxes reduces reconstructs or fills a prescription for antidepressants statins hormones menstrual suppressants or diet pills she should read this book Contesting common medical practice the book addresses the many aspects of women's lives that have been targeted as deficient in order to support the billion dollar profits of the medical pharmacological industry and suggests alternatives to these remedies The contributors psychologists sociologists and health experts are also gender experts and feminist scholars who recognize the ways in which gender is an important aspect of the human experience In this eye opening work they challenge the marketing and science that increasingly render women's bodies and experiences as a series of symptoms diseases and dysfunctions that require treatment by medical professionals who prescribe pharmaceutical and surgical interventions Each article in the book addresses the marketing of a specific condition that has been constructed in a way that convinces a woman that her body is inadequate or her experience and behavior are not good enough Among the topics addressed are menstruation menopause pregnancy post partum adjustment sexual desire weight body dissatisfaction moodiness depression grief and anxiety

Reproductive Disruptions Marcia C. Inhorn, Marcia Claire Inhorn, 2007 Based on research by leading medical anthropologists from around the world this book examines such issues as local practices detrimental to safe pregnancy and birth conflicting reproductive goals between women and men and miscommunications between pregnant women and their genetic counselors Parenthood between Generations Siân Pooley, Kaveri Qureshi, 2016-04-01 Recent literature has identified modern parenting as an expert led practice one which begins with pre pregnancy decisions entails distinct types of intimate relationships places intense burdens on mothers and increasingly on fathers too Exploring within diverse historical and global contexts how men and women make and break relations between generations when becoming parents this volume brings together innovative qualitative research by anthropologists historians and sociologists The chapters focus tightly on inter generational transmission and demonstrate its importance for understanding how people become parents and rear children Reproductive Health and Maternal Sacrifice Pam Lowe, 2016-06-29 This book demonstrates that the symbol of maternal sacrifice is the notion that proper women put the welfare of children whether born in utero or not conceived over and above any choices and desires of their own. The idea of maternal sacrifice acts as a powerful signifier in judging women's behaviour that goes beyond necessary care for any children. The book traces its presence in various aspects of reproductive health from contraception to breastfeeding. Pam Lowe shows how although nominally choices are presented to women around reproductive health, maternal sacrifice is used to discipline women into conforming to specific norms, reasserting traditional forms of womanhood. This has significant implications for women's autonomy. Women can resist or reject this disciplinary position when making reproductive decisions, but in doing so they may be positioned as transgressing and/or need to justify their decisions. The book will be of great interest to scholars of sociology, gender studies, and health studies.
