Accounting and Equity Markets Philip Brown, 2013-06-19 Philip Brown is one of the most admired and respected accounting academics alive today. He was a pioneer in capital markets research in accounting and his 1968 article co-authored with Ray Ball, 'An Empirical Evaluation of Accounting Income Numbers', arguably had a greater impact on the course of accounting research directly and indirectly than any other article during the second half of the twentieth century. Since that time, his innovative research has focused on issues that bridge accounting and finance, including the relationships between net profit reports and the stock market, the long-run performance of acquiring firms, statutory sanctions and voluntary corporate disclosure, and the politics and future of national accounting standards, to name a few. This volume brings together the greatest hits of Brown's career, including several articles that were published in out-of-the-way places for easier use by students and researchers in the field. With a foreword written by Stephen A. Zeff and an introduction that discusses the evolution of Brown's research interests and explains the context for each of the essays included in the volume, this book offers the reader a unique look inside this remarkable 50-year career.
