Information Technologies Frank B Raymond Iii,Leon Ginsberg,Debra Gohagan,2020-10-07 This insightful

volume explores examples of the use of technology to teach social work knowledge values and skills across the curriculum. The chapters cover a wide range of perspectives including international views of the role of information technology in Great Britain and Malaysia, training approaches for faculty development, and computer-based software that has the potential to transform the manner in which curriculum objectives are met. Prepare for technology-based instruction in social work education for the 21st century. Information Technologies: Teaching to Use. Using to Teach. Information Technologies: Teaching to Use. Using to Teach addresses your need to fully prepare today's social work graduates to work and live in this rapidly changing technology-enhanced environment. Based on the 1997 Information Technologies Conference: Using to Teach Teaching to Use, held in Charleston, South Carolina, this book covers the multitude of topics that were presented on technology-based instruction as we head into the 21st century. Articles in Information Technologies range from the use of the Internet and computer applications to research projects that address the effectiveness of technology-based teaching and learning activities. It also discusses international views on the role of information technology in Britain and Malaysia. Information Technologies gives particular attention to distance education and it is the most thorough treatment to date of the use and teaching of technology in social work education. Specific areas you'll gain valuable information from include: establishing a faculty development lab, starting intensive faculty training sessions, computer-based software that has the potential to transform the manner in which curriculum objectives are met, international perspectives on information technology, the use of Geographic Information Systems, technology in social work practice as a tool for improved visualization of social and economic inequalities, models for teaching social work curriculum with technology. With Information Technologies, you will gain a competitive edge in preparing your faculty and students with the latest world-wide information on studies pertaining to technology use in a social work setting. A conglomeration of diverse and well-researched articles on the use of technology to enhance social work education await you in this special volume. New Advances in Technology for Social Work Education and Practice Julie Miller-Cribbs, 2024-11-01. Gain practical knowledge of the latest technological innovations in social work. This comprehensive book examines the role of technology in four areas: information management, distance education, evaluation, video and web-based learning, and training and working with vulnerable populations. New Advances in Technology for Social Work Education and Practice discusses constructive, proven applications of technology in settings from modern universities to rural India. The empirical research and case studies presented here offer practical suggestions for implementing effective technological solutions tailored to the needs of social workers and their clients. New Advances in Technology for Social Work Education and Practice includes useful strategies for creating user-friendly systems, including involving practitioners in systems design and evaluation, dealing with political issues, choosing effective instructors for distance education, developing multimedia, testing for supervisor training, designing Web pages for users with disabilities.
