Southeast Asia Transformed Chia Lin Sien, 2003 Southeast Asia with a total population of 520 million remains a region characterized by fragmentation diversity and considerable internal conflict despite the unifying influence of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN formed some thirty five years ago In the new millennium it has lost the distinction of being one of the worlds faster growing group of economies since the 1997 financial crisis While it has benefited from the winds of globalization it has now to cope with the painful adjustments to problems that stem from the inadequacies of good governance and structural changes

Asian Regionalism, Canadian and Indian Perspectives Charan D. Wadhwa, Yuen Pau Woo, 2005 Canada and India are in many ways natural partners two middle powers sharing a common political and legal tradition derived from the British Commonwealth as well as a commitment to multiculturalism democracy and international institutions India's founding Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru had a personal friendship with Canadian Prime Ministers Trudeau and Pearson Despite this promising start bilateral relations never took flight a function of Cold War politics India's relative isolation through much of the post independence period the enormous distance between the two countries and deep disagreements over India's testing of nuclear weapons in 1974 and 1998 By the start of the new millennium India and Canada were ready to embark on a new phase in bilateral relations one defined not only by trade and investment interests but also by a contemporary understanding of their standing in the world and the potential contribution that both countries can make to issues of regional and global significance

The Dimensions of Regional Trade Integration in Southeast Asia Zakir Hafez, 2021-10-01 This is the first comprehensive work on the free trade area of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN Free Trade Area AFTA The author argues that in practice the free trade area of ASEAN is a failure and that unless AFTA leaders take serious measures to improve it it will change from being not that useful into being completely useless Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint

A Selective Approach to Establishing a Human Rights Mechanism in Southeast Asia Hao Duy Phan, 2012-02-03 This book proposes a selective approach for states with more advanced human rights protection to establish a human rights court for Southeast Asia It argues the inclusive approach currently employed by ASEAN to set up a human rights body covering all member states cannot produce a strong regional human rights mechanism The mosaic of Southeast Asia reveals great diversity and high complexity in political regimes human rights practice and participation by regional states in the global legal human rights framework Cooperation among ASEAN members to protect and promote human rights remains limited The time honored principle of non interference and the ASEAN Way still predominate in relations within ASEAN These factors combine to explain why the ASEAN

Intergovernmental Commission on Human Rights is unlikely to be strong and effective in changing and promoting regional human rights protection

Regionalism in Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling, 2006-09-27 Regionalism in Southeast Asia provides the reader with an historical analysis of Southeast Asia from the distinct perspective of regionalism Southeast Asian history is usually written from a national point of view which underplays the links between neighbouring states and nations and the effects of these bonds on the development of regionalism This innovative book begins by defining the meaning of region and regionalism and then applies it to periods in history in Southeast Asia looking at how patterns of regionalism have shifted through time to the present day By focusing on the regional perspective Nicholas Tarling gives an original treatment of Southeast Asian history its political dynamics and its international relations Regionalism in Southeast Asia completes a trilogy of books on Southeast Asia by Nicholas Tarling published by Routledge the other two are Nationalism in Southeast Asia and Imperialism in Southeast Asia

New Perspectives on U.S.-Japan Relations Curtis, Gerald L., 2000-12 How relevant today is an alliance that was forged between a powerful United States and a weak Japan in the context of a cold war struggle with the Soviet Union In what ways have the changes in the relative power positions of the two countries and the structural changes in the world economy created new challenges to the U S Japan relationship and how are the two countries responding to those challenges These are some of the important questions addressed by the eight Japanese and American authors of this volume Their focus ranges from issues of military relations trade and financial management and shifting security perspectives to the roles of the mass media in the bilateral relationship A truly binational effort the book brings together the thinking of some of the best trained younger political scientists to focus on the present and future of one of the most important bilateral relationships in the world

Institutional Change in Southeast Asia Fredrik Sjöholm, Jose L. Tongzon, 2005 Institutional Change in Southeast Asia examines the institutional changes taking place in and challenges facing the region since 1997 The book focuses on determinants to the adjustments and on implementations of the reforms It also describes various differences in the reform process between countries in the region Southeast Asia's economic development over the last decades has been impressive Most of the region achieved consistently high growth rates accompanied by significant structural transformation and industrialization poverty alleviation and improvements in their overall standard of living as indicated by such social indicators as greater longevity more widespread delivery of basic education and lower infant mortality rates However the crisis that struck Southeast Asia in 1997 had severe economic social and political consequences in the region It also threw into doubt the future economic prosperity of the countries in Southeast Asia and raised intriguing questions about the quality of their institutions and their approach to economic development Sjöholm and Tongzon argue that the economies of Southeast Asia need to reform their institutions if the previous rapid development is to continue The institutional weaknesses have been addressed to different degrees and with different success in the affected countries Against the backdrop of Southeast Asia's importance in the world economy it is hardly possible to overestimate the need to understand this process of change
