The Wesleys in Cornwall, 1743-1789 Samuel J. Rogal, 2015-10-29 In nearly a half century of missionary work throughout England Wales Scotland and Ireland brothers John and Charles Wesley found the southwestern county of Cornwall to be among their most serious theological and social challenges Eighteenth century Cornwall lacked population centers and small towns and villages were isolated by inadequate roads The adult population consisted mainly of miners fisherman and smugglers men more interested in the bulk of their pocketbooks than in the status of their souls And the clergy of the Church of England overwhelmingly opposed the Wesleys and their itinerant preachers encouraging Anglicans to disrupt the Wesleys outdoor services and to attack and burn Methodist preaching houses Although the Wesleys made some evangelical progress in Cornwall the question remained upon John Wesley's death in 1791 did the mission to Cornwall succeed or fail This book considers the mission with a close reading of the Wesleys writings and covers the overall history of 18th century British Methodism and its contribution to the religious and social history of the British Empire

Bartholomew Road Atlas Britain John Bartholomew and Son, 1988 The Objects and Textures of Everyday Life in Imperial Britain Janet C. Myers, Deirdre H. McMahon, 2017-05-15 Focusing on everyday life in nineteenth century Britain and its imperial possessions from preparing tea to cleaning the kitchen from packing for imperial adventures to arranging home decor the essays in this collection share a common focus on materiality the nitty gritty elements that helped give shape and meaning to British self definition during the period Each essay demonstrates how preoccupations with common household goods and habits fueled contemporary debates about cultural institutions ranging from personal matters of marriage and family to more overtly political issues of empire building While existing scholarship on material culture in the nineteenth century has centered on artifacts in museums and galleries this collection brings together disparate fields history of design landscape history childhood studies and feminist and postcolonial literary studies to focus on ordinary objects and practices with specific attention to how Britons of all classes established the tenets of domesticity as central to individual happiness national security and imperial hegemony

The Daily Globe Joe Smith,2000 Some of the greatest challenges facing humanity such as climate change and biodiversity loss have enormous implications for economic social and environmental security Yet the significance of these issues is not reflected in media reporting

Pocket Maps and Public Poetry in the English Renaissance Katarzyna Lecky,2019-04-17 Katarzyna Lecky explores how early modern British poets paid by the state adapted inclusive modes of nationhood charted by inexpensive small format maps She explores chapbooks cheapbooks by Edmund Spenser Samuel Daniel Ben Jonson William Davenant and John Milton alongside the portable cartography circulating in the same retail print industry Domestic pocket maps were designed for heavy use by a broad readership that included those on the fringes of literacy The era s de facto laureates all banked their success as writers appealing to this burgeoning market share by drawing the nation as the property of the commonwealth rather than the Crown This book investigates the accessible world of small format cartography as it emerges in the texts of the poets raised in the expansive public sphere in which pocket maps flourished It works at the intersections of space place and national identity to reveal the geographical imaginary shaping the flourishing business of cheap print Its placement of poetic economies within mainstream systems of trade also demonstrates how cartography and poetry worked together to mobilize average consumers as political agents This everyday form of geographic poesis was also a strong platform for poets writing for monarchs and magistrates when their visions of the nation ran counter to the interests of the government
