

The background of the cover is a complex, abstract composition. It features a central, somewhat ethereal face or mask-like shape, primarily in shades of red and pink, with some blue and green accents. The face appears to be composed of or surrounded by a network of fine, white, branching lines, reminiscent of neural pathways or a complex web. The overall color palette is dominated by deep reds, purples, and blues, with some lighter, almost white, areas that create a sense of depth and movement. The texture is grainy and layered, giving it a digital or artistic feel.

Torn Asunder Margaret McCarthy, 2017-01-22 A timely unsettling of old settled questions surrounding divorce Amid the current nationwide debate over what marriage is this book examines anew the nature and meaning of marriage from the standpoint of what adult children of divorce have actually experienced Upholding the inextricable link between our personal identity and our origin in a union of two and more deeply in the Fatherhood of God the contributors to this volume reflect on the damage that divorce does to children opening up important questions for all of us What does it mean to be human What does it mean to love and to marry After decades of talk about the rights of adults to get a divorce and the benefits for children of an amicable split between parents a so called good divorce these authors theologians philosophers political scientists lawyers psychologists sociologists and cultural critics effectively unsettle conventional opinion

One Nation Under Therapy Christina Hoff Sommers, Sally Satel, 2025-08-22 Americans have traditionally placed great value on self reliance and fortitude In recent decades however we have seen the rise of a therapeutic ethic that views Americans as emotionally underdeveloped psychically frail and requiring the ministrations of mental health professionals to cope with life s vicissitudes Being in touch with one s feelings and freely expressing them have become paramount personal virtues Today with a book for every ailment a counselor for every crisis a lawsuit for every grievance and a TV show for every conceivable problem we are at risk of degrading our native ability to cope with life s challenges Drawing on established science and common sense Christina Hoff Sommers and Dr Sally Satel reveal how therapism and the burgeoning trauma industry have come to pervade our lives Help is offered everywhere under the presumption that we need it in children s classrooms the workplace churches courtrooms the media the military But with all the help comes a host of troubling consequences including The myth of stressed out homework burdened hypercompetitive and depressed or suicidal schoolchildren in need of therapy and medication The loss of moral bearings in our approach to lying crime addiction and other foibles and vices The unasked for grief counselors who descend on bereaved families schools and communities following a tragedy offering dubious advice while billing plenty of money The expansion of Post Traumatic Stress Disorder from an affliction of war veterans to nearly everyone who has experienced a setback Intelligent provocative and wryly amusing One Nation Under Therapy demonstrates that talking about problems is no substitute for confronting them
