Development: Integrating Tradition and Modernity Hourakhsh Ahmad Nia and Rokhsaneh Rahbarianyazd, 2024-07-26 The Book explores the intricate balance of preserving cultural heritage while fostering sustainable urban growth This comprehensive volume presents a diverse array of chapters each exploring unique facets of this critical intersection From the contextual preservation methods in Italy s military landscapes and advanced data fusion techniques in Selinunte to the phenomenological exploration of Bahrain s architectural identity and the environmental frameworks for its primary health care centers the book offers multifaceted insights It navigates through the urban transformations in historic sites like Thamugadi and Tripoli the digitization for conservation in Algeria and the sustainable urban futures informed by indigenous knowledge systems Furthermore it examines public space dynamics urban green infrastructure and the integration of sustainable development into urban planning with case studies spanning from Turkey to Tehran The book also addresses contemporary architectural discourse mobility in architecture and the significance of unacknowledged tributaries in urban planning Through a rich tapestry of empirical research case studies and theoretical analysis this book is an essential resource for scholars practitioners and policymakers dedicated to the advancement of cultural heritage and sustainable urban development Critical Architecture Jane Rendell, Jonathan Hill, Mark Dorrian, Murray Fraser, 2007-09-12 Critical Architecture examines the relationship between critical practice in architecture and architectural criticism Placing architecture in an interdisciplinary context the book explores architectural criticism with reference to modes of criticism in other disciplines specifically art criticism and considers how critical practice in architecture operates through a number of different modes buildings drawings and texts With forty essays by an international cast of leading architectural academics this accessible single source text on the topical subject of architectural criticism is ideal for undergraduate as well as post graduate study Spatial Cultures Sam Griffiths, Alexander von Lünen, 2016-06-10 What is the relationship between how cities work and what cities mean Spatial Cultures Towards a New Social Morphology of Cities Past and Present announces an innovative research agenda for urban studies in which themes and methods from urban history social theory and built environment research are brought into dialogue across disciplinary and chronological boundaries The collection confronts the recurrent epistemological impasse that arises between research focussing on the description of material built environments and that which is concerned primarily with the people who inhabit govern and write about cities past and present A reluctance to engage substantively with this issue has been detrimental to scholarly efforts to understand the urban built environment as a meaningful agent of human social experience Drawing on a wide range of historical and contemporary urban case studies as well as a selection of theoretical and methodological reflections the contributions to this volume seek to historically geographically and architecturally contextualize diverse spatial practices including movement encounter play procession and neighbourhood The aim is to challenge their tacit treatment as universal categories in much writing on cities and to propose alternative research possibilities with implications as much for urban design thinking as for history and the social sciences

Handbook of Cities and Networks Neal, Zachary P., Rozenblat, Céline, 2021-07-31 This Handbook of Cities and Networks provides a cutting edge overview of research on how economic social and transportation networks affect processes both in and between cities Exploring the ways in which cities connect and intertwine it offers a varied set of collaborations highlighting different theoretical historical and methodological perspectives

306090 09: Regarding Public Space Design Bureau for Public Space, 2005-12 The journal 306090 continues to garner acclaim throughout the architecture and design world as an essential forum for issues of architectural practice and theory Its role as a voice for young architects designers and academics is reinforced by its knack for approaching broad topics from unique perspectives and synthesizing multiple points of view 306090 09 Regarding Public Space explores the conception production and operation of contemporary public space in the city from the vantage of its design development construction and use Rather than dwell on what public space is 306090 s guest editors identify it as the material manifestation of intersecting forces economics program sustainable land use whose formation involves a complex set of manipulations in both physical space and managerial aptitude The articles in this volume by contributors from cities across the globe test the ways in which we articulate the built environment to make public space interrogating it through examples from practice and theoretical developments alike

Designing Ubiquitous Information Environments: Socio-Technical Issues and Challenges Carsten Sørensen, Youngjin Yoo, Kalle Lyytinen, Janice I. DeGross, 2006-01-17 This book records one of the continuous attempts of the IFIP Working Group 8 2 studying the interaction of information systems and the organization to explore and understand the shifting boundaries and dependencies between organizational activities and their computer support The book marks the result of the IFIP WG 8 2 conference on Designing Ubiquitous Information Environments Socio Technical Issues and Challenges Since its inception in the late 1970s IFIP WG 8 2 has sought to understand how computer based information systems interact and must be designed as an integrated part of the organizational design At that time information systems handled repetitive and remote back office functions and the main concern was work task design for repetitive input tasks and the potential impact of improved information support on organizational decision making and structure The focus of the information system design shifted in the 1980s when computers became part of the furniture and moved into the office

Reflecting this significant change IFIP WG 8.2 in 1989 organized a conference dedicated to the design and impact of desktop technology in order to examine how organizational processes and the locus of action changed when the computer was moved into the office. Sixteen years later we are experiencing another significant change. Computers are now becoming part of our body and sensory system and will move out of the traditional office locations and into the wilderness. Again IFIP WG 8.

Stop.space Yukiko Maya Bowman, 2008 American Book Publishing Record, 2003 Imminent Commons: Urban Questions for the Near Future Hyungmin Pai, Alejandro Zaera-Polo, 2022-02-04. The cities of the world stand at a crossroads. Amidst radical social, economic, and technological transformations, will the city become a driving force of creativity, diversity, and sustainability, or will it be a mechanism of inequality, despair, and environmental decay? At this critical moment, where do the stakes lie and what are the agents of change? From the time of its birth, the city has been held together by the commons. The book includes essays by Alejandro Zaera-Polo, Hyungmin Pai, Maider Llaguno, Nerea Calvillo, Hyewon Lee, Lindsay Bremner, Alex Ivancic, Iaki Abalos, Charles Waldheim, David Gissen, Carlo Ratti, Daniele Belleri, Antoine Pico, Saskia Saseen, Adam Greenfield, Jesse LeCavalier, Philip Rode, Duncan McLaren, Julian Agyeman, Gunter Pauli, Gramazio and Kohler, Mario Carpo, Dirk E. Hebel, Marta H. Wisniewska, Felix Heisel, Mitchell Joachim, and Christian Hubert. The first publication of the Seoul Biennale of Architecture and Urbanism 2017 proposes a framework that sets basic commons, an evolving network of agencies, resources, and technologies as the critical issue in the move towards a sustainable and just urbanism. It shows an exploration, not of distant utopias, but of the very near future, because the emerging commons is changing the way we connect, make, move, recycle, sense, and share, and the way we manage air, water, energy, and the earth. Whether met with fear or hope, they will very soon change the way we live in the city.

Revisioning Emerson as a Theorist of Reading Michael Boatright, 2024-12-31. Pushing beyond the anthologized writings of Ralph Waldo Emerson, frequently taught in American literature courses, this book examines the corpus of his published work to cultivate a unique understanding of his ideas in relation to reading. By following the history of Emersonian criticism over the years, including research surrounding Emerson and reading theory, these chapters provide a persuasive and accessible exploration of Emerson that highlights the value of his work for both literary and reading scholars. Boatright argues that while Emerson predates the research in reading studies that emerged in the early twentieth century, his ideas around reading engagement, shared reading experiences, and experimentation with reading are exceedingly relevant for encouraging healthy reading practices in the literature classroom.

Topografie dello spazio comune Andrea Iacomoni, 2015-03-17. Un contributo alla ricostruzione del dibattito sullo spazio pubblico della città. Dalla complessità della città contemporanea si tentano di estrarre alcuni dei suoi elementi costitutivi riportandoli a una visione più organica, denotando una condizione.

Walking and the Aesthetics of Modernity Klaus Benesch, François Specq, 2016-08-31. This book gathers together an array of international scholars, critics, and artists concerned with the issue of walking as a theme in modern literature, philosophy, and the arts. Covering a wide array of authors and media from eighteenth century fiction writers and travelers to contemporary film digital art and artists books the essays collected here take a broad literary and cultural approach to the art of walking which has received considerable interest due to the burgeoning field of mobility studies Contributors demonstrate how walking far from constituting a simplistic naïve or transparent cultural script allows for complex visions and reinterpretations of a human's relation to modernity introducing us to a world of many different and changing realities

Migrant Aesthetics Glenda R. Carpio, 2023-10-31 Co winner 2024 Matei Calinescu Prize Modern Language Association

By most accounts immigrant literature deals primarily with how immigrants struggle to adapt to their adopted countries Its readers have come to expect stories of identity formation of how immigrants create ethnic communities and maintain ties to countries of origin Yet such narratives can center exceptional stories of individual success or obscure the political forces that uproot millions of people the world over Glenda R Carpio argues that we need a new paradigm for migrant fiction Migrant Aesthetics shows how contemporary authors Teju Cole Dinaw Mengestu Aleksandar Hemon Valeria Luiselli Julie Otsuka and Junot Díaz expose the historical legacies and political injustices that produce forced migration through artistic innovation Their fiction rejects the generic features of immigrant literature especially the acculturation plot and the use of migrant narrators as cultural guides who must appeal to readerly empathy They emphasize the limits of empathy insisting instead that readers recognize their own roles in the realities of migration which like climate change is driven by global inequalities Carpio traces how these authors create literary echoes of the past showing how the history of neo colonialism links distinct immigrant experiences and can lay the foundation for cross ethnic migrant solidarity Revealing how migration shapes and is shaped by language and narrative Migrant Aesthetics casts fiction as vital testimony to past and present colonial imperial and structural displacement and violence
