Russian Women Writers Christine D. Tomei, 1999

Mapping Experience in Polish and Russian Women's Writing Urszula Chowaniec, 2010-09-13 The volume encompasses eleven articles which discuss the critical views that Polish and Russian women writers have articulated with regard to the notion of experience and constructions of femininity in the national imagination from the 19th to the 21st centuries Major themes of the articles include women's experiences as writers in the 19th century women's embodied experiences of a traumatic past body and sexuality in the different ages of women political and aesthetic discourses and femininity Although the articles are arranged in chronological order they do not form an absolute chronological or periodic continuum i e from Romanticism to Postmodernism although references to certain aesthetic periods are made The authors of the articles reflect in detail on how the women writers and their literary texts represent different understandings and experiences in relation to dominant perceptions for example of the memory of war of motherhood of art and aesthetics and so on Readers are encouraged to seek parallels and continuities between the different historical times and spaces between women s writing in Russia and Poland between different scholarly approaches and aims The articles of this volume bring together important critical standpoints in women s writing in Poland and Russia in which parallels continuities and resemblances can be traced but in which discontinuities breaks and differences also make themselves visible Apart from the conspicuous resemblances between individual Russian and Polish women writers works or even between groups of women writers the articles document the diversity within Russian and Polish women s writing respectively and even within individual writers

Resilient Russian Women in the 1920s & 1930s Marcelline Hutton, 2015-07 The stories of Russian educated women peasants prisoners workers wives and mothers of the 1920s and 1930s show how work marriage family religion and even patriotism helped sustain them during harsh times The Russian Revolution launched an economic and social upheaval that released peasant women from the control of traditional extended families It promised urban women equality and created opportunities for employment and higher education Yet the revolution did little to eliminate Russian patriarchal culture which continued to undermine women's social sexual economic and political conditions Divorce and abortion became more widespread but birth control remained limited and sexual liberation meant greater freedom for men than for women The transformations that women needed to gain true equality were postponed by the poverty of the new state and the political agendas of leaders like Lenin Trotsky and Stalin
