examines historicized garden buildings known as follies from the nation's founding through the American centennial celebration in 1876. In a period of increasing nationalism, follies such as temples, summerhouses, towers, and ruins brought a range of European architectural styles to the United States. By imprinting the land with symbols of European culture, landscape gardeners brought their idea of civilization to the American wilderness. Kerry Dean Carso's interdisciplinary approach in Follies in America examines both buildings and their counterparts in literature and art, demonstrating that follies provide a window into major themes in nineteenth-century American culture, including tensions between Jeffersonian agrarianism and urban life, the ascendancy of middle-class tourism and gentility, and social-class aspirations. Garden

Architecture. Second Series Thomas Geoffrey Wall Henslow, 1928 Architecture in the United States, 1800-1850
William Barksdale Maynard, 2002-01-01 This study traces the development of American architecture from the age of Jefferson to the antebellum era, providing a survey of this important period. W. Barksdale Maynard overturns the long-accepted notions that the chief theme of early 19th-century American architecture was a patriotic desire to escape from European influence and that competing styles chiefly reflected the American struggle for cultural uniqueness. Instead, deep and consistent aesthetic ties, especially with England, shaped American architecture and house designs. Maynard shows that the Greek Revival, in particular, was an international phenomenon, with American achievements inspired by British example and with taste taking precedence over patriotism. The Garden, 1873 The Memory of Architecture in Edith Wharton's Travel Writings Ágnes Zsófia Kovács, 2024-09-13 Edith Wharton was not only the author of novels and short stories but also of drama, poetry, autobiography, interior decoration, and travel writing. This study focuses on Wharton's symbolic representations of architecture in her travel writings. It shows how a network of allusions to travel writing and art history books influenced Wharton's representations of architectural and natural spaces. The book demonstrates Wharton's complex relationship to works of art historians John Ruskin, Miles M. Le Arthur C. Porter, and travel authors Wolfgang Goethe, Henry Adams, Henry James in the trajectory of her travel writing. Kovács surveys how the acknowledgment of Wharton's sources sheds light both on the author's model of aesthetic understanding and scenic architectural descriptions and how the shock of the Great War changed Wharton's travel destinations but not her symbolic view of architecture as a mediator of things past. Wharton's symbolic representations of architecture provide a new key to her travel writings. The Annals of Horticulture; and Yearbook of Information on Practical Gardening, 1849
